An Attractive Program Rendered by V.iettling Candidates Called Out for Timely Communications Suggesting Victory. When Conductor Pohlig and the Philadelphia Orchestra presented an adagio, unrequited love, "Heidi Bad Complete" in a program which included "New World Symphony," an air of romanticism suffused the air, as Thaddeus Rich, the principal critic of the Philadelphia Inquirer, was on the program. The program which Conductor Pohlig selected was in every way a success. The program was composed of works by贝多芬, Dvorak, and Tchaikovsky, all arranged by V.iettling, the conductor. The program was well-received by the audience, and its success was attributed to the conductor's skill in selecting the works.

The Philadelphia Inquirer later praised the conductor's choice of works, saying that the program was a "memorable night marked the débutation of Emmanuel Chabrier in the role of a critic on the opera work. The program was composed of works by Beethoven, Brahms, and Tchaikovsky, all arranged by V.iettling, the conductor. The program was well-received by the audience, and its success was attributed to the conductor's skill in selecting the works.

The showing of the cross-country team against Harvard awakened the hope that in the intercollegiate, which are soon to be held, Pennsylvania's colors will be carried to victory.

The questions of a central savings bank for the convenience of out-of-town men and of a share of student loyalty at football and other games are taken up today in two communications to this paper. Each deals with a matter of some moment to the undergraduate body. We hope the spirit of any article voting the sentiments of a majority of the men in college will not die with publication, but be pushed to fruition by means of discussion in class meetings, club or fraternity gatherings or on the campus. The Pennsylvanians or any other college publication can many suggest many plans and present them in an unobtrusive light, but their salvation lies in concerted and continued effort by all who are interested in them.

Despite the inclement weather, Conductor Pohlig and his Orchestra were royally welcomed at their first performance in the University's halls. The general satisfaction attending the concert will be largely increased again this year. In 1908 there were 189. The number will be as welcome with us as he made Pennsylvania all the more popular.

We eagerly anticipate the concerts to come. Conductor Pohlig will always be as welcome with us as he was last evening.

"RA" KELLY VS. "MEG" SMYTHE.
Giants of Protectionism and Free Trade Clash Yesterday at Yestermorn.

When the Republican voters of the University met in Price Hall of the Law School yesterday, Major William Francis Kelly, of Canton, was elected president of the club. Major Kelly succeeds himself, and in a year's time has brought the standard of the club up to such a point that nobody would run against him, except his old-time rival for position and oratorical honors. J. Henry Smythe, Jr. As Smythe released his voice for himself, the election was unanimously to Kelly, who expressed his gratitude in many part words.

Major Kelly was the recipient of a testimonial banquet in the Spring by his many supporters in the Law Department. Smythe will be recalled as "Megalphone Man" of Republican conventions, where, on the tip of his megaphone in one hand and a huge American flag in the other, he intro-duced Roosevelt and Taft to the country. "History Harry," as he is affectionately termed by the boys, has not been so active in College or State politics as he would liked to have been during recent months, as his phenomenal increase in a book-seller has prevented that. And between you and me, Harry, Prof. Potter's inquiry in this line ran into four figures during the summer. The first, if the second, can't even now. Therefore, as he explained in a side speech, he has only been able to have three closings with President Taft, and Pennsylvania play golf.

We congratulate the Republicans upon having such an efficient leader and it is a comfort to know that such an able second stands ready to man the guns if necessary, but we feel a percievable silence, as an ace, as the thought of "History" in mind—"What would happen if both of these men were torn from us?"

DEAN KIRK IN CHAPEL.

Will Lead Services This Week—Attendance Decreases.

Dean R. C. Kirk, of the Dental Department, began his series of Chapel leadership yesterday morning. His messages were based on the commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all the heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." On Monday, attendance fell off quite noticeably, but the popularity of his speaker is so high, he will assure him full benches for the remainder of the work.

Junior Resolutions.

On the twenty-second of October, nineteen hundred and nine, a Higher Power saw fit to take from our midst our beloved classmate,Prank Lutz. Power saw fit to take from our midst our beloved classmate, Prank Lutz, and whereas, he had endeared himself to all who knew him by virtue of his traits of straightforwardness, and whereas, his high ability and keen interest in his studies had earned for him the respect and good-will of his instructors, as his upright character and constant disposition had won the hearts of his daily companions; and whereas, the Class of 1911 of the University of Pennsylvania sincerely feels the loss of a member so popular and so esteemed.

Be it Resolved, that the deepest and most heart-felt sympathies of the Class of 1911 be extended to his family, and further.

Be it Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the class; a copy sent to his parents, and that these resolutions be published in the daily Pennsylvania.

Training for Race
Cross-Country Runners Hope to Win Intercollegiate Contest

With nine men present, the training table for the varsity cross-country team started yesterday morning in preparation for the Intercollegiates, which will place between Boston November 29.

All men are in splendid condition with the exception of Captain Paul, who has been somewhat retarded in his training by scholastic work. He also has missed the next two weeks because he has not been able to keep practice up. On Monday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week, the team will practice in Parkmount Park, and on Tuesday and Thursday morning Field will be open for their convenience.

Arrangements have been made for the squad to engage in practice runs on the Harrow Court course on the next day of this week and Saturday of next week.

In view of the fact that fine men broke the Harrow Court record last Saturday on this day of the week and Wednesday of next week, and that our price is still in force, Pennsylvania should give Council a hard battle for championship honors.

The following men will go to Boston: Paul, Church, Wilson, Griffith, Levering, Wolfe, Preston, Hunter and O'Neill.

NOTICES
Professor Paterson will be unable to meet the third year class in Law to day.

There will be an important meeting of the Junior Class Executive Committee at 1 o'clock today on the third floor of the Houston Club.
