REAL STAR AT FIRST RECITAL

Peters, Great Bartenee, Will Go Out to Honor Students—"Cumann" the Boy's Big Expected Gaudy

Great Dr. Peter, baritone of the Pennsylvania forces, and one of the finest basses that Philadelphia has ever heard, sang first recital of the Philadelphia series in Eliason Auditorium this afternoon. Dr. Peter sang the stellar baritone parts in "The Jump" on Saturday afternoon, and is staging the Majors of the game as he appears again in "Lurch" on Saturday afternoon. He has consented to sing something as the center of the recital with true artistic elan.

"Cumann" is the subject of the recital tonight, as it is the opera to be sung. Ticket sales are good, but it may be said that the recital tonight, besides an explanation baritone, will contain some organ solos and other opera solos, as far as the audience will be given an opportunity understood through the story and the music of Beethoven's earthquake accomplishing it.

Those who will present are A. H. Vincent, who will sing the basso part in the "Lurch"; J. H. Gorton, and M. E. Curran, soloists. The violin, viola, cello and piano will be heard, and it is especially de- fined that students attend not only alone but also in their friends. The tickets will begin at 4:31 instead of 4:30, as they have been advertised, on account of the extra numbers.

Misunderstanding Over Time Causes Many Students to Leave Before Cheer Leaders Appear

Due to a misunderstanding in the time set for mass-meeting last night being announced. However, the occasion proved successful. A meeting was held in the gymnasium of the college, which was chosen for the evening by the cheer leaders, because of the reaction from what it might have been.

Many misunderstandings transpired in the announcement of this meeting and the past and present of the cheer leaders, enthusiastic. At 6:00 the college was set aside, and, under the direction of the cheer leaders, the college was formed in a column, four abreast and marched to the gymnasium of the college, which was chosen for the evening, under the direction of the cheer leaders, who were well pleased with the announcement.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1909.

Following come upon the announce- ment that, with this year's matricula- tion, Pennsylvania boasts herself the most cosmopolitan of American Universities, comes from King Edward VII a message of thanks to his sub- jects attending this University.

King Edward's message amounts to his official recognition of the British Alliance of Pennsylvania. The Alli- ance is as well established. More- over, Pennsylvania is to be congratulated. This is but another evidence of the fact that she reaches farther than many of her sons know.

Pennsylvania's first musical week of the year presents its third attraction this afternoon, when Houston Hall Auditorium has been converted into the scene of the initial Opera Lecture Recital. The two previous events have been decided successes. We look for as decided a success for this afternoon.

The men who are associated in the programme have worked hard in preparation. Even the photograph which will be brought into play has worked hard. But, the photograph and the man are in prime condition. They are not overstrained.

They will give those who attend an afternoon's instruction and enjoyment of "Carmen" that will long be remem- bered. They deserve an even larger audience than usually attends enter- tainments "open to the public."

It is about time that we do some- thing to remedy our disorganized telephone system, and I hope that some other student will raise their voices in protest.

When the new telephones were in- stalled, last year, we hoped that we would, at last, have direct ser- vice. These hopes were soon dis- pointed. No person was stationed at the booths to receive the incoming calls, and, as a consequence, we can never remove ourselves from the outside. Occa- sionally, "Baths," or one of the other eager operators, would, if they are not otherwise engaged, answer the phone. But this is one in a great many.

Many a time, the phone is never an- swered by anyone in the office. Suddenly, a system of dormitories as the senior class, and President D. A. vost Edgar F. Smith. Dean George E.

Dean Kirk, of the Dental Depart- ment, makes the announcement that his aud月初es this week by his interesting and instruc- tive talk.

Preparations are under way for a big Church morning, to-morrow, Ed. Ports will be made to break the 288 mark, and, since it will be Friday morning, why all the features of a Friday morning service, it is believed that the attendance will go by the boards.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(The Pennsylvania welcomes com- munications, but is not responsible for the sentiments expressed.)

Phildelphia, Nov. 8, 1909.
To the Editor of The Pennsylvania:
In the two weeks in which Pennsylva- nia has not seen this year their oppor- tunity appeared, presumably for a remuneration. Over the last two Captains of Pennsylvania's eleven. While there might be some Puritans who would consider such a move thus, there is another aspect which would seem justly open to criticism, and that is the mem- bership of these two men in the Board of Directors of the Athletic Associa- tion of the University of Pennsylvania. Is it not a curious state of mind or of ethics that a man should be a member of a body chosen to direct successfully the athletics of his Alma Mater and at the same time doing his utmost, pre- sumably for a remuneration, to help her? Would it not be proper and dis- creet for the Board of Directors to ask these men to resign?

Additions to Botanical Library.
Three large and valuable volumes have recently been received for the Botanical Library. Two of these constitute Volume II, of the Annals of the Carnegie Royal Botanical Garden, each volume consisting of text and a compass large folio of fine photogravure illustrations. The work is by Dr. O.
Boveri of Florence, and treats of Asiatic Palms belonging to the Calamus group.

The other publication is a folio consisting of 66 large folio plates illustrating aspects of vegetation in Belgium by Professors Bommer and Mau-s, of Brussels University. The volume now received illustrated the country north of Belgium, and in the first of five similar works that will in time appear under the direction of Professor Durand, Director of the State Botanic Garden. A striking similarity of the sand dune plants and plant scenes of those found along the Atlantic Coast will impress everyone so that these plates will prove of equal value to students of the department as to those in Belgium.

CORSELL LEADS FRESHERN

Elected by Majority of Three Votes
Over G. L. Carey—Honor System Used in Balloting.

In the election held yesterday for the President of the Freshman Class, Charles N. Correll, of the Arts Department, was elected. The election was held under the honor system, the other candidate being G. L. Carey, of the Wharton School. The race was a close one, Correll winning out by a majority of three votes.

Correll is a resident of Germantown, coming here from Chautauqua Hill Academy. While there he took a prominent part in athletics. He played forward on the basketball team, full-back on the football team, and was placemen on the base ball team. He is now playing quarter-back on the Freshman team.

Carey, who took second place, is a Philadelphian, hailing from Northeast Manual. While there he was captain of the football team.

Owing to the amount of time taken in the election of the president, the other offices were not nominated. The nominations will take place in the near future.

Wireless Club to Meet.

Future scientists, at present members of the Wireless Club, will hold an important meeting in Room 2, of Houson Tech, this evening.

A constitution will be adopted and officers will be elected. Committees on instruments and construction will be formed, and progress in regard to putting up the poles on Houston Club lawn will proceed.

Plenty of money has been subscribed for the erection of three poles, as before the subscriptions of the members, a number of prominent citizens of Philadelphia have lost their smiles.

lying center, but he is far from being the equal of the famous "Germany" School.

The back field will be composed of Wasmund, quarterback; Captain Al- lerdine, right half-back; Maglisbon, left half-back, and Clark or Lawton, full-back.

Of these, Wasmund, Allerdine, Casey and Budworking started in the Michigan game, the latter for the first time last year. Every member of the team, except Allerdine, is a good athlete. Michigan held her last scrimmage Tuesday, and left Ann Arbor last night for Philadelphia. They are expected to arrive in this city tonight.

The Mule and Blu will not be waiting in motors Monday. In addition to a large delegation of students and alumni, 500 sailors from the battleship Michigan will attend the game in a body to root for their favorites. They will have a band with them and will make a strong and novel addition to the Michigan cheering section.
