Bishop Hall Advises Students Faithfully to Fulfill Duties of Their Chosen Professions.

By Rev. A. C. A. Hall, D.D., L.L.D., Bishop of Vermont, who was the speaker at the morning chapel exercises at the University of Pennsylvania yesterday.

Bishop Hall, who is a speaker of much power, addressed the students on "The Choice of one's life work." He said that God has a purpose for individuals as well as for the world at large, and gifts are not given to men for their own personal benefit, but to be used for the good of others.

He called attention to opportunists who seem to have a spiritual benefit to advance, and to the phlegm who profess to preserve life and health; this is in lines of justice and to uphold the rights of men; the statesman who advances his country by solving national problems; the teacher to extend the realm of knowledge; the scientist to penetrate the mysteries of the universe; the merchant to promote industry and to distribute needed goods among the masses; the artist to set up a standard for beauty; the musician to serve the ministry, and for this reason seems to be most useful of all. He advocated "Christian social effort and good works," and with a final appeal of faith and determination, said: "We are asking you to fill faithfully the duties of the profession which you have selected." The musical program was featured by a quartette selection of "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and a quartette of "Joy to the World," by John Newton.

HEBREW WINS GOLF FINALS
Defeat Kirkster in Forty Hole Match

H. B. Heyburn, 32 Arts, was the individual university golf champion by defeating Captain H. F. Kirkster in the finals Saturday afternoon at the Huntingdon Valley golf links, Noble. The skill of the two players was so evenly matched that it was not until the forty-fifth green was reached that the outcome was determined. Kirkster sank a six-foot put for bogey on the eighteenth green, Heyburn sank the tenth and thirteenth, but missed a short put on the fortieth, thus losing the match.

The final was made for admission to the college and the championship for the coming season.

CARMEN' SUPERBLY SUNG

Mary, Undergraduate Present at First University Opera Night—Two New Stars Are Heard.

More than four hundred undergraduates, making use of the opera privilege extended to them by the Student Opera Committee, were in the Macomber Auditorium, listened to a superb performance of "Carmen," last Thursday night. It was the first University dramatic night to be seen on campus of the sort of the Pennsylvania.

The evening marked the first appearance of Philadelphia of two of the new stars of the Hammerstein forces, Mrs. Margaretta Sylva, the mezzo-soprano, and M. Fred croese, the baritone tenor. Mrs. Sylva, who sings the title role, made an instant sensation and her interpretation of the well-known part was accepted by the audience as thoroughly as either the greatest or the least heady in Philadelphia. Combining with the qualities of youth and beauty, a rich voice and an eloquent manner, she was admirably fitted for the role. Her cigarette grid, though somewhat more dainty and a little more sensuously spoken than the usual interpretation, could not be called original, yet it was admirably sustained.

"Carmen" was, therefore, a decided impression. Heralded as the coming rival of Carmen, to whose fame he owes a record he may feel justly proud, he was closely followed in every detail of his work. His enunciation was perfect. His question before the audience was a startling admission of the enormous increase in enrollment. In the country, has but 13.6% as compared with 13.9%. It is interesting to note that the Pennsylvania Medical School and the various departments at Cornell is the School of Agriculture. In 1908 there were but 514.1% of the enrollees in this course, but this year there are 514.1% of the enrollees in the same school, which for the first time, has been made a part of the Graduate School system.

Yale's total seems small as she does not include members of the Summer School and the Special Course for Teachers. Her largest increase has been in the Graduate School and the School of Science. The decrease in Yale's total registration is due to the increased college requirements for admission to the School of Engineering.

This widespread increase in enrollement is due to the fact that many of such universities as are here represented have not yet decided on the annual entrance requirements, is not encouraging, and conclusively shows that the large colleges is in the way being replaced by the small one.

SOPHOMORES EXONERATED
Director Clay Declares Arrest During Poster Fight Unjustified.

John Alexander and John Hemphill, the two Sophomores who were arrested at the Freshman Poster Fight, have been exonerated by the Police Department.

Complaint having been made to Mayor Rehrman concerning the unjustifiable arrest, on November 1st, of two members of the Class of 1912, who had removed a large number of the Freshman posters from the University grounds and vicinity, the matter was referred to Director of Public Safety, Clay and Superintendent of Police Taylor for investigation. The latter reported to the Director as follows:

"Freshman Benjamin Grove, No. 2142, Twenty-first District, on Monday morning, November 1st, near Thirty-sixth and Locust streets, arrested two young men mentioned in your letter on suspicion of breach of ordinance in pasting certain posters; that while the officer had just come to suspect these two persons whom he had seen at 5 A.M., with such posters in their possession and again later, and that during the interim a number of such posters had been placed along his beat, he was not justified in making the arrest."

The Director of Public Safety adds: "The Superintendent is of the opinion, in which I concur, that the officer was a little too zealous in doing what he considered was his duty. This statement is given in accordance with the assurance given in your letter of November 5th, to wit: 'No advantage will be taken of the fact of an admis.

MICHIGAN HAS GREAT ELEVEN.

Pennsylvania's ends were lurking in defensive play. Bookbread had an off day, and Large, Rathsam and Cornell did not appear to be able to gauge the Irish and end runs directed at them. The line was fairly good, and so big a game were made through it.

Taken as a whole, the work of the team was disappointing. The defense was weak against the normal movements and the attack was erratic. Many of the men were in poor condition and not capable of putting up their best game.

The secondary defense was slow in backing up, and its great fault being inability to solve the end runs. The offense was very good in spots, but at times it was exactly the reverse.

The only point in which Pennsylvania really could be criticized was the handling of kicks. Miller and Hutchinson are good performers of All-America's high spiral. Neither Wadsworth nor McQuade, Irishmen, were able to return Hutchinson's place-kicks, which frequently rolled 25 or 30 yards before being recovered.

Eleven days remain before the Cornell game is played. The "big red" eleven not up to its standard of former years, but if Pennsylvania is to win the team must play in better form than on Saturday. Nearly every member of the eleven is suffering from some injuries, but with almost two weeks in spring training, the squad should be in first-class condition by Thanksgiving Day.
