Preliminary Play Chosen

In order to effect the reorganization of the intercollegiate Cricket Association, representatives of the universities of Stanford and Pennsylvania held a meeting in Houston Hall last Friday afternoon. The main purpose of the meeting was to revise the old constitution of the Association as shown up in 1856. The most important clause was the adoption of the plan which he made to hold annual in each member university two regattas.

The officers for the past year were:

President, H. E. Powell, Pennsylvania; Vice-President, H. A. Forster, Harvard; Secretary and Treasurer, C. H. Wharton, Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania was awarded the intercollegiate championship for 1889. George B. Hulley, Jr., was named assistant trainer. The officers for the next year were President, L. C. Ritts, Harvard; Vice-President, H. E. Powell, Pennsylvania; Secretary and Treasurer, Allan Hummel, St. John's.

It was also announced that a number of prominent cricket clubs in Philadelphia had concurred in making a proposal to the intercollegiate Association to organize the University of Pennsylvania into a club, with the following officers:

President, J. H. Godby; Vice-President, C. H. Wharton; Secretary, H. E. Powell; Treasurer, S. T. Oakley.

"The Second Season," a new and entertaining football team, was formed last Monday. The opening of the season at New York on Saturday will be held at 7 o'clock.

Student's Battle on Gridiron

The second half was an exciting one. The Pennsylvania team, under the leadership of Mr. J. H. Godby, scored several times, and the Juniata team, under the guidance of Mr. T. A. Kelleher, fought hard.

The game was referred by Harry Stackhouse, and "Diary" Henderson acted as umpire.

Precious, Three Cent

As the last strains of "Aida" died away at the Philadelphia Opera House, the third year men of the Junior Class left the music hall with a feeling of satisfaction and anticipation. The Junior Week came to a most successful conclusion.

It was a week of rejoicing and merrymaking, not only for the third year men, but also for the whole University. With one exception, all the traditional events were included on the third week's festivities. The lively bearing and heightened spirit which for years has served as the hallmark of the third-yearers was not greatly subdued, but the gap it left was in a measure filled by an innovation, an opera party at Hammersmith, which, though not necessarily the most popular feature of the week, was yet successful.

The third year men of the Philadelphia Orches¬ tra on Saturday evening was the last formal event of the week turned to the popular form of entertainment. The orchestra under the baton of Mr. H. T. F. Senior was held in high esteem.

The third-yearers have shown great interest in the opera during the past year, and it was therefore decided to hold an opera party as one of the features of the third week festivities. The third year men of the Sigma Delta Tau, the most enthusiastic of the opera men, held the opera party at the "Glebe People" arie on 12th Street.

The fourth annual "Carnival of Colours" to be held in Weightman Hall, where they were entertained at a banquet given by the Juniors and their friends, concluded the Junior Week festivities. The trophy rooms were tastefully decorated, and the members of the Juniors' Club, who kept the hall light and airy, were treated to a first-class banquet.

HOW ABOUT THOSE TICKETS?

Another Communication Drawn from the Field on the Editor's Desk.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 21, 1909.
To the Editor of The Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir,—As an Alumnus of Pennsylvania, and as an undergraduate, I want to vote in the columns of The Pennsylvania a protest against the so-called allotment by lot of tickets for the Penn-Cornell game.

"This is going to be a straightforward kick," and one which demands a 100% vote, that is, a straightforward statement that "rich and so-so" is basic for the best interests of Pennsylvania. If that is so, then state those interests, so we all can hear them, and then it is up to us, as undergraduates, to immediately stop all grumbling.

"Why is it that an undergraduate, who has burned an exploit on each year, for over five years, should always be allotted seats in section G or H, or M, or N, in the North Stand, or the end sections in the North Stand? Never once in the whole four years of his college life should he be successful in securing good seats, and yet good seats do not mean simply those allotted on the 10 yard line, but seats within 2, H, G, F, the four center sections. The season-holders surely do not number above the first ten rows in these sections.

"Thus, again, this student immediately consults with his fellow-students as to their applications, and the same answer comes from them, "Mine are rotten in M" or some other of the end sections. Now what can be the reason of all this? The players in the football team themselves do not receive much better seats.

"I heartily approve of placing the choosing section in the North Stand, if the students are to be benefited by better seats, as it also gives visitors to Franklin Field and other loyal Pennsylvanians the chance to really see and hear out great Pennsylvania spirit.

"Again, in the allotment of seats, I think the Seniors in the various departments should have the preference in the choice of seats, and then the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen—giving the College Department the preference, as it is from our College Department we look for our true Pennsylvanians and those who can and will devote their time and skill to place our Pennsylvania teams leaders in the various branches of sport.

"Here's hoping for a great change in this matter in the future, and one way for the students themselves to take more real live interest in the elections of the Athletic Association, and when elected give the student-representatives more active control, not mere nominal control. Also, I think, there is sufficient agitation among the students in regard to seats given them this year for some explanation being made— Very truly yours,

DEBATING TEAMS ANNOUNCED

Dates of Varsity Trials Announced.
Seniors Clash With Juniors.
Zeta to Meet Banard.

With the close of the football season, debating will claim its share of the student's attention. The Varsity Debate Committee and the head of the Public Speaking Department have planned a strenuous season.

Representatives of the Senior and Junior classes will meet on December 5 at 6:30 p.m. for the first annual interclass debate on the question of a Commission Form of Government for American Municipalities. Defending the negative side in this debate, the Zeta team will clash with Banard Literary Society on December 16, in New York City. The question of municipal government by commission is one which is receiving a great deal of attention, and will be used not only in serious study by the candidates, but in the debates also.

The Varsity Debate Committee has announced the plan by which the Varsity teams will be chosen and at work before the Christmas vacation. Trials for the two teams to represent the red and blue in the Triangular Debate League will be held the first part of next month, the preliminaries to take place Monday, December 4, the semi-finals, Tuesday, December 11, and the finals on Friday of the same week, December 14.

The question for the Varsity debate is, "Resolved, That the Commission Form of Government Should Be Adopted by the Municipalities of the United States."

Philadelphia will also pick out its representatives, on December 18, to compete with the Pennsylvania Society of Columbia University. Trials for the blue and the red in the Pennsylvania teams will likewise be held within a short time, though no definite dates have been announced.
