Despite the fact that few of last year's point winners are left to be put in the ledger, Coach Murphy predicts that he will be able to complete the track propositions for the coming season as soon as he has a full team. He has been able to sign up a number of new men of excellent ability, which should enable him to carry the load very well this year.

The new men who have signed up for the track team are: Bill Yancey, W. T. Cline, F. N. Hopper, and H. H. Thompson.

The track meet will be held at State College, on May 13th, and the events to be run are: the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the 440 yard dash, the 880 yard run, the mile run, the 4 mile run, the 1 mile run, the 120 yard hurdle, the 440 yard hurdle, and the 880 yard hurdle.

HAIL THE PROPHET!

The Pennsylvania is happy to announce that it is a false prophet. It would appreciate a little honor in its own country.

Early in the year, like all great prophets, the Pennsylvania had a wonderful vision. It caught a glimpse of a near approach from which the "C. G. D." was flashed in the halls of the University. Of course, readers of this paper were treated to all the latest news about the heavenly route in each morning's issue. It was a beautiful dream.

As in the case of all great prophets, the Pennsylvania met with a storm of jeers when it announced its vision, but the Pennsylvania is now experiencing the happy last laugh on its underdetermined reader.

It is pleasant to laugh last.

To prove that the laugh is justified, the suggestion is made that every individual who is sceptically inclined towards the realization-phase of the scheme pay a visit to Houston Hall.

In the basement of that building the visitor will have the pleasure of viewing in the process of its construction the child of the sky that is to be baptized as the "Pennsylvanian I." On the ground floor of that building the visitor will see a wireless station in full swing.

When the visitor has completed his tour of inspection, he will be forced to admit that, after all, the Pennsylvania is a truly great prophet. The Pennsylvania has been aware of this fact from the start.

The sight of hand performer displays the cunning of its art and then announces, "This is the way the trick is done." The explanation is all so simple that the audience is disheartened with its lack of power of perception.

The Pennsylvania concludes the magician by saying to the student who admits to adhering to whom prophesying on University affairs, and this is the formula: Given due faith in the skill and enter-prise of the men backing any scheme, you may be certain that the scheme will succeed. It is extremely simple.

The Pennsylvania had faith in the skill and enterprise of the University men interested in aerial navigation and aerial communication. Its faith was not misplaced.

Someone has announced that "the proof of the pudding lies in the eating." If anyone is sufficiently concerned in the ways of Pennsylvania progress along the lines mentioned to doubt the veracity of this paper in its announcement of itself as a great prophet, there is one way of settling his doubts at rest on this important question. Houston Hall admits all members and callers during the day and the evening. The hint should prove adequate.
GUN TEAM INSIGNIAS GIVEN

Athletic Association Directors Make Secret Appropriations and Read Michigan Apology.

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Athletic Association, yesterday, insignias of G. T. (Pennsylvania) Gun Team were awarded to five men. The money appropriations for the athletic teams were announced and a letter of apology from Michigan was read. The letter explains the case of "Joy" Miller, who played against Pennsylvanians this fall in football, when he should have been under the ban of non-eligible athletes. The case will in no way affect the relations of the two universities.

The men to receive the "P. G. T." were G. K. Herbert, H. T. Frutt, G. M. Starcheck, C. F. Davis, and J. B. Dixon. The money appropriations were withheld for publication in the final report of the directors' travel.

NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

Prominent University Graduates Were Among Speakers.

Twenty-four University men, the largest representation of any one institution in the State, have just returned from the Northfield Intercollegiate Convention of Student Volunteers, devoted to Foreign Missions, held at Rochester, N. Y., during the recent meetings.

Representatives from Bryn Mawr, Medill, Colorado, Harvard, Lafayette, Johns Hopkins, and other schools of learning about Philadelphia were present. The convention gathered from over 200 institutions. The gathering represents a large geographical distribution, two Chinese students from the University acting as honorary delegates.

A large part of the movement is to awaken and maintain among all Christian students an intelligent and active interest in foreign missions. Last year 25,000 students and professors gave over $160,000, $75,000 being expended for foreign missions.

Among the leading speakers was J. H. Matt, the world-renowned student leader, who is to visit the University and deliver lectures on vital student problems in the Gymnasium on February 14, 25 and 27. The authorities of the University, with the aid of the Christian Association, have appointed committees from various departments of the University to have charge of the meetings. Bishop McDowell and Pinchot, United States Chief Forester, were also among the prominent men on the program.

Those who took active part as delegates from the University were T. E. Evans, General Secretary of the Christian Association, D. A. Worrell, Secretary for the College; B. E. Collins, H. W. Fuller, R. A. Lambertson and C. A. Reilly.

Bowling Season to Open.

The schedule of the University of Pennsylvania Bowling League for the championship of the University has been arranged for the season of 1909-1910. The first game will be rolled on Monday, January 19, 1910. All games will begin at 3 o'clock.

Ten different teams have entered the tournament, each team to play five games with every other team. The Architectural Department holds the championship for 1909. The following classes and departments have entered teams: Architecture, Dentistry, Medicine, Veterinary, College, Engineering, Arts, Chemistry, 1912 Dentistry, 1912 Veterinary, 1913 Medicine.

The teams have already been chosen and are all confident of victory, so many and adjustable games are looked forward to.

Gift of Glider to Aero Club.

A glider of the Chanute pattern has been presented to the University Aero Club by Mr. H. G. Blake. The machine is at the disposal of the Philadelphia Country Club, and will be transported to Houston Hall as soon as transportation facilities are supplied. The glider, a copy of the world's record holder, will be suspended for inspection in the main room of the Houston Club.

Dr. G. Speck Visits Indians

Dr. G. Speck, of the Department of Ethnology, returned on Sunday from a visit among the Penobscot Indians, in the Interior of Maine, which little known tribe he has been studying for nearly a year, having spent last summer among them.

The mid-winter trip was undertaken to complete investigation into the field of tribal decorative art, history, customs, religion and industries. A collection of religious and popular songs was made and preserved on phonograph records. During his visit Dr. Speck was guest of some of the leading men of the tribe, and had the good fortune of witnessing and participation in part of a wedding ceremonial dance. The wedding ceremony is the occasion of all right dancing, in which a leader provides the music with a rattle. A snake dance, petro-dancers' dance, mince-mare dance and several others were held.

The Penobscots are one of the little known branches of the Algonkin family. Their earliest estimates to hunting and fishing, they are typically Indians, of great endurance and splendid physique. The population of 450 lives in one village. Storage is by the Penobscot tribe in a republic with its own laws and taxes and connected with the politics of the state, electing their own officers and police, and are subject only indirectly to the state laws. During the French and Indian wars the Penobscots were the terror of the frontier, and still retain their national pride and independence. Their mode of living has changed but little with the advance of civilization.

Dr. Speck has been studying the Indians for nearly a year, having lived with the Indian as they do, wearing their clothing, practicing their customs and acquiring the various languages. The Architectural Society to Meet.

A meeting of the Architectural Society will be held to-morrow evening in Houston Hall, at 7:30, at which the Architectural plan for this year will be read for the first time and the preliminary report of the Plan Committee made. The plans are being studied by Edwin Batten, Morris, '98, for so many years wrote the list of these for those plans. Grant M. Simon, who won the Stewardson European Scholarship last year, will have charge of the scene painting, and should they save all previous room because of his training. The music will be arranged and conducted by H. H. Packer, who sang "Spaghettied Land" last year's play.

Bible Leaders' Meeting.

There will be an important meeting of all Bible study leaders of the University in the Christian Association Rooms, Horseshoe Hall, Thursday evening, January 6, at 5 o'clock. Dr. Hill will have a discussion on "Methods," and plans will be made for the visit of Dr. Moir. All leaders are urged to be present.

Record Art Work.

All drawings for the 1918 Class Record must be handed to the Art Editor immediately or some report made as to the progress of the work. The drawings will be published which are not accounted for at once. J. P. Harris, Art Editor, A. R. Stanley, Editor-in-Chief.
