FRAZIER DEBATE TO-NIGHT

Dr. Johnson Urges Cause of Continuous Aquatic Freight System Before Science Conference.

Possibility of a connected system of American waterways and the annual need of which are examples of such a system the country formed the theme of Prof. Robert E. Johnson's letter, discussion before the Social Science Conference in the Franklin Institute last evening. A walk-through, the fact that American waterways are needed to overflowing, consisting of the fac- ter improvement of the upper Mississippi

WATER-WAYS WANTED

The French, English and German naval systems were often referred to in the course of the debate. Following a well-executed plan, connecting the waterways of the four nations, in England it is proposed to connect the region of industrial center by four waterways. For the British Empire, for such internal means of traffic has been proposed. In Germany, England is easily accessible by a con- current system, twain of which connect the North Sea and the Rhine and Elbe rivers, has been proposed. In Italy, which has no national canal system but the Boulevard of the Po. Professor Johnson a regrettable condi- tion in building American waterways is con- fess that neither of the selection! deeply appreciate.

WRESTLERS GO TO STATE

Untried Team to Grapple with Enemy Away from Home.

With a team composed almost entirely of new men, the University of Pennsylvania wrestlers will meet the State College team at the latter's floor tomorrow night. This is the first meet of the year, and Manager Rynlick expects trouble to follow the upstart grapplers.

Only two men are left of last year's team, and, as State has a fast lot of men, Pennsylvania will have to do her best to win. The team will have to make the trip without the services of its captains, Graham, who, owing to an unannounced, will have to remain in Philadelphia. This loss will be severely felt, as Graham was counted upon to throw Talbot, the ex-Cornell man. Dickson, the newly-discovered star, will also be unable to go with the team. His hesitantly, however, will not be so much as Graham's, as Payne is almost as fast, if not quite, as good. The whole crew, despite those setbacks, are confident of capturing the State College men in a few weeks and coming back victors.

The team will be as follows: Palins, in the 115-pound class; Glancy, in the 125-pound class; Stover, in the 135-pound class; Brown, in the 145-pound class; Smith, in the 154-pound class; Braddock, in the 175-pound class; Pike, in the heavyweight class.

The team will leave West Philadelphian Station tomorrow morning at 8.30, accompanied by Manager Rynlick and Coach Vassilier.

State College has entered the following men: Glancy, in the 115-pound class; Dick, in the 125-pound class; Brown, in the 135-pound class; Moore, in the 145-pound class; Vary, in the 154-pound class; Gehr, in the 175-pound class, and Talbot in the heavyweight.
