Central Pennsylvania and western Maryland are to be the setting for the annual banquet of the Student Body of the Pennsylvania State College, at 8 o'clock on Thursday, March 21. This event is to be a gala occasion, with entertainment by members of the college's musical groups and a banquet course prepared by the Pennsylvania State College's world-famous dining hall.

The program will include a welcome address by President John J. V. Wolfe, followed by a testimonial speech by Dr. Charles C. Stewart, head of the Department of Music. The evening will conclude with a performance by the college's orchestra and choir, under the direction of Dr. George S. Pfautz.

The banquet will be held in the gleaming new building of the college, which was completed last year. The setting is ideal, with its grand ballroom and ornate decorations. The food is top-notch, featuring dishes from around the world, and the service is impeccable.

The event is open to the public, and tickets are available for purchase at the college's box office. Make sure to reserve your place early, as this is a sold-out event.

For more information, please contact the college's events department at (123) 456-7890.
