Pennsylvania will be well represented at the Columbia in New York on March 17, when the Cornell University track takes its turn off the relay, which is the third of those run for the national title. Wallace Johnson, who won the quarter-mile yesterday, will probably be in the race, which should be a close one.

success, is to bring the members of the Cosmopolitan Club and the Chinese Students' Club in closer bonds of friendship and good fellowship, and nothing could be more conducive to this admirable end than an entertainment of this sort in which the manners and customs of the races whose representatives take part in it are depicted.

Another side to the question is the display of increased activity and enthusiasm evidenced by an undertaking such as this. It shows that the foreign students are working for the best interests of Pennsylvania, and because of this, our heartiest congratulations are due them.

American Colleges.

Bliss Lasson, in the last of a series of articles on "American Universities" which has been appearing for the past year in the independent, summories in the March number the stories of the business greatest American institutions visited. In his contributions Mr. Bliss has been impartial, fair and comprehensive.

As a general introduction to the recent article, Mr. Bliss remarks: "This article has been added to the series in order to make some comments, to draw some personal conclusions, to remedy some criticisms, and to add some criticisms that ought not to fall upon a single institution. The American universities have grown rapidly; in the last two decades that few people not directly concerned realize that one and present relative standing."

Continuing, he says: "The important ideas are innumerable and unchangeable. Some one young man among these is better north relaxing than a thousand others. But which in the one, and what kind of training is best for him no one knows. When the professors become skillful enough to determine occasional ability by bases of relative advancement and association of ideas, we may take the same, sciences and are metamorphoses of gray matter by conferring higher honors to the finest. In the meantime it is best to throw out a wise but with a fine mesh.

Speaking of the grading of doctors' degrees, he has the following to say: "It seems to me that it would only be fair to every condition of the class, such lack of comparison is in direct opposition to the real aim of liberal arts education. We extend our hearty approval of the proposition and are confident that it will be a certain next winter.

Bible Study Progresses

Many Leaders Associated to Spread the New University Movement. Meeting To-morrow Night.

The University Bible study leaders will gather at the university student center supper in Houston Hall at 6 o'clock to-morrow evening, to render reports concerning their success in starting groups during the last few days and to be coached on the Bible study topics for next Monday's group meetings. It is expected that every dormitory, fraternity house and boarding house will be represented at the supper by student leaders or by undergraduates interested in promoting Bible study groups.

Though classes were not yet organized everywhere last Monday night, most of the fraternities and groups in the dormitories and boarding houses will distribute zend lecture reports. Every student, whether he is a class leader or not, who is interested in the movement should attend the supper to-morrow night as they will be personally benefited and can lend great aid in the movement. Following the supper, the attending will be coached for three-quarters of an hour on the next topics for discussion by Dr. Hillsbrand. Dr. Holmes and Rev. Gray, according to the course with the students chosen.

Edward R. Hollenbeck, '00 College, chairman of the Protestant Committee, yesterday announced the members of a large commission on the Bible Study Movement, composed of undergraduates from each department. The duty of these men will be to promote Bible study in their departments, board, dormitories, fraternity and departments. The committee is as follows:

It's a FOWNES

That's all you need to know about GLOVE

It is conceded that we make more dress suits than any other firm in the city—a fact of which we are justly proud; and we mean to retain that honor by the same means that we won it: hard work, quality, price, style and several other things.

At $33, $40, $45 and $50 they are much better than you usually get at these prices; at $55, $60 and $65 they will equal the high-priced tailor's suit at $75 to $90.

We put large orders in all our dress suits so they can be made bigger should you gain in weight. A ready-made suit does not contain these features, to avoid them for your own good. With the Opera and social season in the foreground, now is the time to have one made; one week or less will do the work.

A white or pearl vest is usually worn with a dress-coat and we have nearly one hundred patterns from which to select.

We would be very glad to have you and your friends call, as we think we can interest you.
