ROBERT E. SPEER AT SERVICES

Noted Student Leader Makes Powerful Address, Taking for His Theme "Life as a Battle."

During his usual striking way of saying things, Mr. Robert E. Speer, A.M., Secretary of the Pennsylvania Board of Athletics and Recreation, addressed several hundred students, addressed a large audience Saturday morning during the pregame warm-up.

The keynote was the claim that life is a "battle." He called it a "life battle" that we are all fighting in order to win the ultimate prize.

Speer pointed out that the same principles that apply to athletic competition apply to life as well. He emphasized the importance of discipline, teamwork, and perseverance.

One of his most powerful points was that life is not just a series of wins and losses, but a continuous struggle. He encouraged the students to view each challenge as an opportunity to grow and become stronger.

Speer concluded his speech by encouraging the students to "fight hard and fight fair." He reminded them that the true meaning of life is not just in winning, but in the journey itself.

Speer's address was met with enthusiastic applause. The students left inspired and motivated, ready to face the battles of their lives with confidence and determination.
ONCE MORE.

We are rather lax in submitting to our readers once more the question of Chapel services. Often this year our columns have been filled with discussions of this momentous subject, so often, in fact, that we have feared that the readers have tired of this topic and refuse to understand the question.

But it is a dead issue; indeed, it is a dead issue; for on April 13th a plebiscite was held and it resulted in the decision that the Chapel services be resumed. The College will decide when to resume the services, as it does not wish to interfere with the regular College schedule.

The decision was made after much discussion and the majority of the students were in favor of continuing the Chapel services.

TUFTS MUSICIANS COMING
Combined Musical Clubs of the New England College Give First Local Concert Tomorrow.

Making merry far from home, the Tufts College Musical Clubs, after every year's journeying all the way from Massachusetts, will arrive tomorrow night, to gladden the hearts of the good people of the City of Brotherly Love. The New Englanders, who will appear at the University of the State have never before placed in Philadelphia, and little is known of their ability. Their reputation in the Yankee State, however, is unexcelled by that of any other college musical organization, and they may be expected to offer an entertainment which will bring soothing balm to the souls of the trolley travelers.

They are under the leadership of W. L. Wales and A. L. Com, and their enrollment shows in all fifty-eight members.

The "Musical Tufts" are accustomed to long wanderings, and within the last two years have journeyed as far from home as Washington, D. C., and Detroit, M. I. Their visit is given added interest by the fact that the Tufts baseball team will meet Pennsylvanians today on Franklin Field. The program follows:

Outdoor Exhibition Coming
Dr. Mackenzie has announced that the annual outdoor gymnastic exhibition will held this year on Wenesday afternoon, May 4, on Franklin Field. The exhibition will consist in the usual Marx drill and class athletics, in addition to which will be ad-added relay races and a high jump and pole vault contest. In previous years participation has been limited to friends of the University and the exhibition has always been well attended. This year, however, a small fee, not over twenty cents, will be charged for admission, and the proceeds will be given to the Philadelphia Playground Association, which is doing such a valuable work throughout the city.

In the composted state of Franklin Field at present and the dangers from thrown balls, all outdoor gymnasium classes will be held on the Museum grounds.
