INTERNATIONAL GUILD
American Colleges Play Oxford and Cambridge Saturday—Whitaker and Rudder to Represent University.

Norman T. Whitaker, ’12 Wh., will represent the University in the most prominent position on the American side when the Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania joint forces match Oxford and Cambridge tomorrow, playing for the historic Hunton Cup at the International Chess Temple, which was removed from the Uni- versity last year. The University is the only American University to be invited to the tournament of the Triangular College Chess League at the British Chess Congress in London, which will be held at the Red and Blue place, being selected to fill the vacancy made by the withdrawal of W. H. Huxley, who has left Yale. Yale will furnish two men, while Princeton and Cornell will furnish one each. The American team will play as follows: Board No. 1, L. A. Van Houten; Pennsylvania; Board No. 2, J. F. Chandler, Yale; Board No. 3, G. W. Comis, Princeton; Board No. 4, L. Toibs, Cornell; Board No. 5, G. Conino, Yale; Board No. 6, K. E. division, Fermi- vanti.

The American team will be stationed in Алексеевк Hall of Princeton, where the match on this side of the water was waged last year, while the English force will be seated in the rooms of the Metropolitan Chess Club, Lon- don. The match will begin at 9 A.M. and, with an hour's recess for luncheon, will last during the entire day. The cable press, containing much detail, will begin at 6 P.M. and be left for adjudication.

The time in England will be from 2 P.M. until 6 P.M. Throughout the match notices will be received at Houst- on Hall by wireless from Princeton.

Norman T. Whitaker, who will head the American secter, ranks among the very best class players in America, and is acknowledged to be the premier college player, having won seven out of eight games in the last two triangular League tournaments, and in the Pennsylvania, where Princeton, Oxford, England match, in 1908, he had a clean sheet of victories. He is champion of the Mercantile Library Chess Association, and President of the Phila- delphia Chess Club.

H. L. Reuder, the second Red and Blue contestant, is a player of no mean ability, having had third highest score in the last Triangular League tourna- ment, being beaten only by Lewis Toi- line, of Cornell, Reuder and Rimmer, of Cornell, had equal scores, and it was a draw between them for the oc- cupancy of the sixth board in the cable match.

Whitaker and Stephens, of Princeton, are the only two veterans on the team, which is not considered quite so strong as last year.

The new men will take the places of Hughes, of Pennsylvania; Wolf, and Members, of Columbia, and Pursh, of Harvard. Yale secured a place among the representative universities by defeating Princeton, Harvard and Columbia in their Quadrangular League tournament, thus crowding Harvard and Columbia out. The American universities have so far split with the English in the international, each American having won three matches, the British three and three being a draw. If they win this year the American team will have a record of three successive vic- tories.

DINARDO WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Evening Student's Design Earns Him Tour of European Cities—Hearson and Kayel Receive Mention.

Antonio Dinardo, a member of the University Atelier in Architectural Design, was yesterday awarded the John Richardson Memorial Scholarship, which entitles him to a year's study and travel in Europe. John P. Hearson from the Senior Class, and George S. Kayel, a graduate of the Annette in 1907, were awarded first and second mention, respectively.

The Richardson Scholarship grants to the holder $2,000 for travel and study in Europe. The recipient must spend at least one year abroad and usually divides his time between travel and study at Paris in the Ecole des Beaux Arts.

The subject of this year's competition was "The Casino of a Country Village," and it required the development of a plan of ground for 500 foot by 500 foot, facing the seaward and lying at the extreme end of the area. Upon this ground was required a Casino with ball-room, swimming pool and various dependencies usually required in a country club.

The work was done under the practical requirements of a carefully prepared program.

Twenty-six men competed, two of whom worked in Pittsburgh, as the competition was open throughout Pennsylvania.

The Jury was composed of four prominent non-resident architects.

Mr. Waddy W. Wood of Philadelphia, and Mr. John V. Penn, Pott, William G. Cushen and Austin W. Lord, of New York.

In surveying the drawings the Jury expressed their approval of the extreme cleverness shown particularly in the design of boxes and in their rendering; but, on the other hand, lamented the failure in many cases to produce a plan which in any sense characteristic of the subject.
