While the Varsity track men were journeying to Shaw, the Freshmen met the combined preparatory schools of Philadelphia and vicinity yesterday. The, trip, which was started at 10 o'clock, finished about 3 o'clock, and was rewarded with a splendid victory.

The 125 high hurdle event was won by Harris, of Penn Charter, giving a triumphal victory to the Freshmen, and was the only one won by the Freshmen in the earlier part of the season. In practically every race the Freshmen were equal to the prep school, but in a few, they were defeated.

Many enthusiastic cheers were given the Freshmen, and to one young man in the Freshman class it seemed that he was the first to receive the cheers of the crowd. This young man was the only prep school student to show any signs of enthusiasm and the cheers were quickly silenced when it was learned that the young man was injured and could not continue.

The Freshmen will meet the prep school again on Saturday, and it is hoped that the results will be better than yesterday, as the Freshmen were not at their best yesterday.

THE PRINCEONT GAME

Another day on which history for Pennsylvania will be made has rolled around, and the undergraduates, with the entire supporting population of Philadelphians, supporting them, will come in with enthusiasm and tense interest.

Our old rival, Princeton, will be our workhorses for this afternoon. We must do our best, and believe our team. The ball diamond. We know that the struggle will be keen and that not one out of interest will be last until the last batter or baserunner is called out. We know that our rivals are coming how "to do or die," for the stint of the two heart-breaking defeats of last year rankles as a scarlet-woven in their hearts. It will require all of the skill and cunning of our men. Captain White's team can sometimes up to be equal to the occasion, and a majority of the students believe the victory will be due to Coach Thomas than to his proteges.

Secondly, in importance to the game itself is the fact that, according to a time-honored custom, today is to be the birthing forth of the first time this season the nascent of straw hats which have been purchased now from the shops or fetched out from the dark nooks in the cloisters where they have lain since the chilling blasts of last Fall pained the owners that the period of hibernation was at hand.

There are two duties today to be fulfilled by Pennsylvania men. One is to be so amiable and support the team with all the enthusiasm and good feeling that it deserves; the other is to wear a straw hat. One is as important as the other. If last year's is unappealing, buy a new one. If fools are lacking, borrow the one without. If your credit is exhausted, go bachelored. A straw hat, a felt hat or a cup should be shown as "a thing unbecoming and horrid to the touch."

Of course, we will win, we must do so, for the intercollegiate championship will, to a great extent, hinge upon the result of this game. We know that every man will be on hand to do his duty, and our chief hope is that Jupiter Pluvius fails to pay us a visit on this a gala day for Pennsylvania.

ARBITRATION CONFERENCE

President Taylor of the Wharton School, will Make Address on Situation in South America.

Among the speakers at the sixteenth annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration, to be held at Mohonk Lake, New York State, May 18, 19 and 20, will be Dr. J. E. D. White, Professor of Political Science in the Wharton School, who will deliver an address on "57 Aspects of the Present International Situation."

This will not, however, be Dr. White's first appearance at the conference, for he has been invited to address the assembly for several times before. Besides being an authority on international questions in general, he is exceptionally capable of speaking on the subject of his address, having come in actual contact with Latin-American conditions. He was a United States delegate at the International Conference of American States at Rio Janeiro. He was also chairman of the Commission which revised and codified the laws of Peru in 1890. and was chairman of the In-2 Salvator Commission, reporting the codes, which were, with some modifications, adopted as the law under which the island is now governed.

Dr. Ions, President of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and delegate of the International Law Association and of the Society of International Law, will preside.

The conference is one of great importance and interest to students of international law and politics interested in the promotion of world peace, as it is a great factor in the arbitration movement. Its purpose is to gather together authorities on political science from different parts of the world to present the results of investigation and of actual incidents in international arbitration, and to see the views of influencing and crystallizing public opinion.

This it has been by far the part been essentially accomplished. The conference, which Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, is a director of the American Association for International Co-operation, will be attended by many distinguished scholars and diplomats from all over the world.

Among the scheduled speakers will be Dr. Robert I. Hinton, Editor-in-Chief of the Berlin "Empire," J. Brown, Secretary of the Presidency, Russia; Dr. Constantin W. Winkler, Dr. Charles W. Ellen, President Emeritus of Harvard University; Dr. Samuel Schurman, President of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Dr. J. E. D. White, Professor of International Law, will report on the work of the two American arbitration courts.

The conference of the Philosophical Society will burst of eloquence last evening, when the annual oratorical contest, which Dr. J. Arthur Young, first prize, was won by the following men: Dr. C. Young, first prize, J. P. Heritage, second, and J. Rees, third. Dr. A. G. W. Haddow, President of Cornell University, will preside, will be attended by the students from different parts of the world.
