In the Path of the Chosen

Sophonates Elect Professors Huebner, McGinnis, Hatcher, R.and will be burned in effigy.

Friday, the thirteenth, the hallowed day of all saints, proved a portentous one for the students of the Pennsylvania pronesors, when in popular ballot they were elected to be burned in effigy. Great will be the honor of the professors Richard H. Hatcher, M.D., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Commerce at the Western School, Chancellor, W. H. M. Simmons, B.S., Instructor in Physics, and Stephen Hugh Frenz, B.S. in E.E., Assistant Professor in Mechanical Engineering, when they receive the due of Warrant of their offices.

The particular; heavy ballot was cast for these strong favorites, none more, it was soon pointed out, than by sabre-thrusts, verbal subterfuges, and the object of their burning desire.

The speeches of those candidates whose names would be more appropriate, have been selected as a rival for the ballot of the electors and to explain the why and wherefore of the possible punishments.

First Year Men to Meet Cornell 1913

Aggregation on the Diamond

At 10 A.M. Today.

In the initial home contest, the Freshmen will meet the strong Cornell 1913 aggregation. The game is scheduled for 10 A.M. A. M. and will probably be an even start between the two teams. Both Cornell and Pennsylvania men are so well matched.

Physical Examinations.

Upon their entry into college each man is subjected to a careful examination by the authorities. This examination includes a physical, dental, and mental examination. The Freshmen will leave college this year. There will be about eight hundred undergraduates, including those taking one,

Already, however, this privilege has been abused, probably unintentionally. In the last few days several windows have been broken in the dormitory houses facing the Big Quad through the careless batting of baseballs. The fear that damage might be done in this manner has been the reason for not permitting the use of this ground for such purposes in previous years. It is for those who avail themselves of the newly granted privilege to see that such accidents occur no more.

The Big Quad is one of the few places available for general athletic purposes, and it is important that its use be not prohibited.

BISHOP TALBOT HERE AGAIN.

Particularly Pointed Talk Will Be Given at Sunday Service in Houston Hall Tomorrow.

Dr. Eliezer Talbot, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Central Pennsylvania, and noted lecturer to college students, will be the speaker at the Sunday morning services in Houston Hall tomorrow.

Bishop Talbot, who is not stranger at Houston Hall, being on the list of Sunday service speakers for several years, is a man of strong personality, and his talks are exceptionally vigorous and to the point. He is a frequent speaker at Cornell, Princeton, Dartmouth, Stanford, and many other Eastern institutions, and is popular among college men wherever he goes.

Graduating from Dartmouth College in the class of 1879, Bishop Talbot entered the General Theological Seminary and was ordained a priest in November, 1882. He then became rector of the St. James Protestant Episcopal Church, at Marion, Missouri, where he served until 1887, when he was consecrated Missionary Bishop of Wyoming and Idaho. While in that Western section, then a wild frontier mining country, where tact and exceptional ability was necessary to successful work of "sky pilots," he had many interesting experiences and came into close contact with the rougher sides of human nature. Upon the death of Bishop Rollson, in 1897, Bishop Talbot was given charge of the See of Central Pennsylvania, over which he now presides. His home is in Butte, Mont., where he served a preparatory school for boys.

Northeast Manual Smoker.

The smoker and recreation tender the Senior body of the Northeast Manual Training High School each year for the benefit of the Central Manual Training School. The smoker will be held Monday night, the 16th, in College Hall, at 8 o'clock. The club has also invited the graduates from the Central Manual Training School to be present. With the help of Masons here, not in the University added to this number, the audi- ence will be the same of one of the largest school smokers in many years.

The speakers will be Dr. George E. Palmer, Dr. James T. Young, Dr. Clarence G. Child, Scout Master, Professors de la Rochelle, Yochim, Nye, Samuel Rosenbaum, Frank A. Paul, Wallace Swaine, Walter Levering, Frederick Ramsdell, John Van Winkle, and William Hoefler. Harold Whitehill, a former side, presider of the club, will introduce the speakers.

Interfraternity Baseball.

Sigma Pi defeated Phi Gamma Delta decisively, referee afternoons, on Franklin Field by the score of 16 to 8. Mr. Trainer, the Hibbins for Phi Gamma Delta, was found quite satisfy. The game was called at 5:30 P.M., the 15th, in order that the "fervor" might practice for the Yale game today. The score.

MCKENZIE HIGHLY HONORED

Appointed as United States Representative to the International Physical Education Congress.

Dr. R. Tall McKenzie, Director of Physical Education at this University, has been highly honored by being appointed a representative of the United States at the Third International Congress on Physical Education, which will be held in Brussels on August 10-13. Dr. McKenzie was appointed by the Secretary of State at the suggestion of Elmer E. Brown, Commissioner of Education. Before taking part in the routine proceedings of the Congress, it is probable that Dr. McKenzie will make an address on "Physical Education in American Colleges."

The purpose of this Congress is to interest the public in physical education, particularly in schools and colleges. Representatives from all the leading nations of the world will gather together and discuss the existing condition in the various countries. King Albert of Belgium, will preside over the Congress and the delegates will meet in the "Belgium Hall of the International Exposition, which is now being built in Brussels. The two presidents of the society, Minister of War, Heliodore and Minister of Science and Art, Decwars, will occupy the chair alternately during the sessions. Fourteen important questions will be brought up for discussion, the most important ones being the value of sports in schools, what should compose a gymnastic lesson, music and dancing in relation to gymnastics, gymnastics among retarded children, and the importance of swimming and breathing.

Before going to Brussels, Dr. McKenzie will attend the "Congress of School Managers," which will convene in Paris about August 1. At the last meeting of this Congress, which was held in London, he delivered an address on physical education in this University.

Princeton-Cornell Games.

Princeton and Cornell meet in dual track games tomorrow, and the result will be extremely interesting in view of the Intercollegiate Championships here on May 17 and 28, in which both of these teams are entered. Today's meet will bring out all the intercollegiate possibilities. Dr. F. W. Paterson, won the hurdles at Yale in 15.6 seconds, which is the time made by Snell against Pennsylvania. If the latter defeat Dwight he will then be regarded as a sure point winner and possible champion in this event. If Dwight wins in fast time he will be the favorite for the high hurdles, an event in which not a single point winner between Harvard and Yale is in college. Axa, in the middle distance, the race between Hoover and McKenzie will give pretty sure indications whether these men are consistent performers. If they both run up to form of their best last week they will be factors in this event on the 30th, and make it all the more difficult for Harvard, who is counting on scoring in this race.

The half and mile will also bring out the meet of the Princeton men. If Whitney again runs in the mile, this will indicate that he is training for this contest, and he will have to show much better form than he has ever done to make a good showing against the fast distance men. The meet should be very close, as there is hardly an event in which either college will have a decided advantage.
