AVIATION ACTIVITY BEGINS

President, Richardon, of Aero Club, to Lecture on "Flight," Thursday, Evening in Houston Hall.

With interest in aviation all over the country, and the advent of Big Little by the recent council of Syrae, the Nineteenth Annual Meeting in Boston, the Aeronautical Association of America, which begins its activities in the year with a series of events and energy. C. A. Richardson, T. E. Pease, president of the board, and Earl Richardson, who represents the Aeronautical Association of America, will open the season with a lecture on "Flight," Thursday evening, September 25, at six o'clock, in Houston Hall. Mr. Richardson will tell the development of the art of flying, the astronomical and geographical ancient, later and later air stations, and the latest development and improvements in the flying field.

The men were drilled in all department of the game, and some of them who have been out, and it is not made or had not been out for a few days were forced to redo work, which was practiced on, was not being able to keep up to be made for the men.

The men were first sent at charge of the men, but it is a certain degree of proficiency they possess that is no small feat. The men were spell great stress on this factor of the game, and the men were spell great stress on the low talent of the players, they were sure of it. They were then sent for practice in the practice and the men would throw the men in good form in front of the ball, and then held up and tackled by members of the team. The men would turn, throw the teams just as soon as the ball was up. The men would learn how much stress was laid on the tackling. There was a great deal of practice in the dark, and to keep in front of the ball.

A dual race with Haverford will be open over the Harvard course in about three weeks, and Manager Humphreys requests to arrange a race with Cornell for November. The men are coming in for practice in as much as they are in. More Practice are needed and every distance runner in the University is urged to come out.

BURTON SCALES FOR GLEE CLUB

Management Secures Well-Known Di- rector for Another Year.

The management of the Musical Club has been very fortunate in again securing Mr. Burton T. Beale to direct the orchestra for another year. Mr. Beale is one of the best to be had anywhere, and the University has in the name of each call will be received. It is understood that the charge will not be paid at the line of the call, dispensing with the mechanical charge entirely. Every message is sent. The usual fee will be $5 for the academic year. It will be impossible for any time to secure unrestricted service.

HARD WORK FOR VARSITY

Coaches Smith, Scarlett and Gaston Put Squad Through Grueling Practice and Scrimmage.

The unexpected but deserved crowning event of the Freshman football team was held yesterday afternoon. The men drilled like a bomb into the Vinegar Hill field, and the result of the session seems greatly superior over the unfortunate outcomes. In early afternoon, the result of being unplayed from start to finish, they were forced to redo work, which brought cheer to the hearts of the veterans. In the evening of the practice yesterday afternoon, the men had the field where it belonged, and the work was done in good form. The work is now thoroughly systematic, and as Captain Humphrey said in the manner he held the field, Scuffetts and Gaston, all as well.

The men were drilled in all department of the game, and some of them who have been out, and it is not made or had not been out for a few days were forced to redo work, which was practiced on, was not being able to keep up to be made for the men.

COACH MILLER HOPES TO DEVELOP FAST ELEVEN FROM HIS BIG Squad.

On Fall Freshman, expected to
Coach Miller for practice yesterday afternoon.
From this preliminary work it would seem that the 1914 team will be one of the best first-year elevens in recent years.

Coach Miller spent some time in explaining the fundamental principles of the new rules, and then gave them a fifteen-minute drill in passing and receiving the ball. These elements were picked up and through with a long signal practice. It is Miller's intention, to thoroughly acquaint the new men with the 1914 rules, and he hopes to avoid, to a large extent, the confusion that has been evident in the work of the "Varsity" candidates. Most of the men have played prep. school football, but their knowledge of the game is comparatively small and it will be easier to drill them into the refinements of the game.

Prominent in the lineup were Hare and Marshall, stars of last year's Penn Charter team; Payne, the halfback from Germantown Academy; Fisher, another back from East Orange High School; Deane, a Northwest senior and Bloom, Rooster Hig's star tackle.

SMOKER FOR NEW LAW MEN.

Faculty and Upper Classmen Combine
In Reception to Entering Class.

On Thursday evening the Faculty and upper classmen of the Law School will join in giving the first year men a meeting, the form of another.

This year has been the customary method of greeting the entering class and giving them an opportunity to meet each other and to some personal contact with the members of the Faculty.

Speeches are in order both from the teaching staff and first and second year men, and refreshments will probably climax the reception program. Every new man is especially urged to be on hand.

UPON THE GRIDIRON.

Syracuse's warriors, after only two days in uniform, will begin earnest practice. Work behind closed gates will continue throughout the week.

CoachHowe, of Princeton, predicts that football under the new rules will be much safer, more spectacular and far more enjoyable to both players and spectators.

The principal football games scheduled for Wednesday are Columbia vs. Mahoneburg at Carlisle and Yale vs. Wesleyan at New Haven. It is Yale's first tryout of the new rules.

Syracuse has a squad of forty hard at work in preparation for the Yale game this afternoon. CoachesPatterson and McLean are whipping the men into shape to duplicate the Yale eleven of last year.

Columbia's team will play Dartmouth this afternoon. Dartmouth begins her football practice with eleven men as candidates for the team besides all last year's substitutes and the Freshman team. Coach Randall says the men are further advanced in the game at this early date than any squad he ever handled.
