PROVIDENCE NOT FAR OFF

Rhode Island City Expects Big Pennsylvania Delegation This spring and Last year

You Need for New England Trip.

Only once in the course of Brown's football history has she been defeated in such a rank manner. The game of tention fell to Amherst. Pennsylvania Women's hockey team, which has already caused the legal and after their heart-efforts to win and which fights especially hard when at home. The last game played In Providence was in 1907, when Pennsylvania was represented in a strong team, but were held in a tie score of by the Brown eleven.

The two arrangements possible have been made for the trip to Prov-by the committee in charge, which is well within the means of a great many more men than have thus far signed up. There now but a mere handful who have signified their inention of being with Captain Coolen when his team meets the strong Brown aggression. For the team to put forth their best efforts they must receive support from the undergraduate body, and this can only assume a tell-for at least a crowd of one hundred and fifty men being present in the Pennsylvania exhibition section next Saturday.

As especially interesting part of the trip will be an entire roll of Pennsylvania songs to be played by the orchestra on the boat, which will give all a chance to exercise their lungs.

The arrival in Providence will be at 7 ecking in the evening, so that this will afford a splendid opportunity of seeing the campus and University buildings. Word from Brown assures Pennsylvanians a hearty welcome.

GLIDING SOON TO BEGIN.

Aero Club Will Start Flying on the Museum Grounds With Next Few Days.

Experiemental firing on the Museum grounds is the next thing on the program of the Aero Club. This was decided upon at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Two or more days will be taken out of storage and put into condition for practice flights. For the purpose of stimulating interest in aerphony at other college, President Richardson, of the Aero Club, has been writing to distinguished lecturers at various institutions on

"Principles of Volo", and has been looking for a large enough field at Swarthmore last week, and on next Thursday night he will give his lecture at Haverson.

Latin-American Reception.

A reception will be given to the Latin-American students next Wednesday, at 6 o'clock, by the Latin-American Club, at their first annual meeting. This date has been chosen because it is the anniversary of the discovery of America. Among the speakers will be Vice-President Smith, and Dr. Brown. The latter will speak about his trip to Mexico and the United States Centennial celebration.

Studenits from Chile, Colombia, and Mexico will describe the Student Congress which were held in Buenos Aires and Mexico during the summer.

Dr. Harrison to Select the First Year's Students in Woman Hall on of Evening of October 26.

Provost and Mrs. C. C. Harrison will give their annual reception to the students in Woman Hall on Friday of Evening of October 26. In "Mother," Harrison assumed the position of the committee. He has be the last occasion of the kind at which Provost and Mrs. Harrison will be the hosts, and it is probable that bestsuites, including the Provost's, will mark the occasion.

In previous years the reception has been held on Friday of this year, owing to the large number of freshmen. It will be given by

GRADUALLY EATING ITS WAY

Money Power, Year by Year, Extending its Hold on College Hall and Intending to Keep It Up.

College Hall, white and grave, consecrated to the study of the humanities as they are known to Pennsylvania, and an inspiring monument to the loyalty of many generations of college classes, has been invaded by a foreign power. The shadow of the money god is glowering over its portico.

Every September, for many years, thousands of young men have entered College Hall, looked discerningly at the right-hand and after twittings and turnings, discovered the offices of the Dean, discreetly hidden from the public gaze, where amiable young women sat all day receiving the all too insipid petitions of the needy popes. One fine day the office began to glow. The golden stream that came pouring in swamped the narrow quarters that had been snug aside or out of the way until now the Dean's office is one of the spots of light in College Hall. Modern in its color scheme, replete with glass doors, and insecure machines that can add up examples as well as the Deans can do calculus. It invites the passer-by to come and rest awhile and get a receipt from the Dean. Departing boys have been known to express the things and are now so complex that the boy who does the receiving has the official title of assistant superintendent to the junior officer.

One is the days of fragrant mem- ories, when the man who took the money bid kindly inside the corridor, to let the mercurial and mischievous boy in peace, now he shares honors with the Dean himself, and who is to say what will stop?

SWIMMERS CALLED OUT.

Preparations for a big swimming season are already under way, and Coach Kiefer yesterday issued a call for swimmers for the 1915 Varsity and Freshman teams. Only three men, Captain Shryock, Hopkins and Hall, have been tested this semester, and the outlook for a good season is bright. Now men are requested to report between the hours of 1 and 2 and 3 and 4, in order that the coach may satisfy himself as to their ability.

The plans to have an intercollegiate network and Hopkins will be hard to fill. Shryock was at one time the individualist champion in the fifty and one hundred yard swims, while Hopkins established a record of eighty-six yards in the plunge for distance that stood for two years. Hain was a point winner in the three mile relay.

A swimming pool will be begun in the latter part of November and continue until March 1, when the intercollegiate contests will be inaugurated.
