Freshman at Mercersburg

Hard Court Expected from Mercersburg Eleven - Crawford Expected to Save in Today's Game.

This afternoon, while the varsity is engaged in the preliminary round of matches, the freshman team will line up against Mercersburg Academy at Mer- cercburg, Pa. The first men's game is in fine condition and the splendid showing they have made in recent games has convinced everyone that they can be taken seriously.

A neat signal drill, practice in kick- ing, and handling, combined with a good base line of players, has enabled Coach Robert Tall McKenzie, 2d, of Mercersburg, to make his second year's team one of the strongest in the history of the school. The varsity team has a good base line of players, and the candidates for the Mercersburg team have been selected from the best of the freshmen.

The team lines up as follows:

1. H. T. Watts
2. E. E.史密斯
3. D. W. Miskel
4. W. C. H. Parker
5. F. P. Bell
6. R. A. H. Couch
7. W. R. J. E. Smith
8. W. C. P. L. Baker
9. W. C. H. Parker
10. E. H. B. Couch

The freshmen are expected to make a good showing and may perhaps be able to win the day against the varsity team.

Protest Addresses Evening School.

More than two hundred and fifty members of the senior class and the smoker given to the entering class in the upper classes of the Evening School of Accountancy and Finance, in Bruton Hall last night. The feature of the festivities was an address by Proctor Patterson, who was in an effective style his account of the treated lessons which his long service and successful business career has given him. He said that he was interested in your association for I shall always be deeply In- terested in your association. Dr. Smith gave a condensed history of the University with his "picture book" of the history and scenes, and R. J. L. H. J. Morris rendered a "picture book" of the history and scenes, and R. J. L. H. J. Morris rendered a "picture book" of the history and scenes.

"Don't want this to be considered a paradox, I have been present at your meetings in previous years, and I hope you will invite me in the future, for I shall always be deeply In- terested in your association."

Dr. Smith gave a condensed history of the University with his "picture book" of the history and scenes, and R. J. L. H. J. Morris rendered a "picture book" of the history and scenes, and R. J. L. H. J. Morris rendered a "picture book" of the history and scenes.

Mask and Wig Smoker.

A very successful affair was held last evening in the Mask and Wig De- partment of the Evening School Preliminary Ball. Judging from the en- trance list this year than ever before, as the evening school and its members entertained with songs and dances from former shows. The even- tual list of the Mask and Wig Smoker will bring Pennsylvania songs. All candidates will report for competition (lre Mon- day, evening, 21 at 8 o'clock, at Wig and Mask House, 2d Quincy street.
Most America's outdoor games require so large a playing field that it would be impossible for the University, located as it is, to provide the grounds necessary in order that a great number could take part. This objection, however, does not apply to tennis, for a court covers but little area, and a fairly large field if laid out in tennis courts would offer opportunities for recreation to a crowd. The land granted by the city to the University at the last commencement is not being used at present. What could it not be utilized for this purpose? The cost connected would not be exorbitant, and the courts might even pay for themselves by charging a small fee for the privilege of their use. It may be too late in the year for such an undertaking now, but if work were begun early in the spring the courts would be ready by the time those days came in which every one feels like being out doors. Here, then, is a excellent opportunity to solve that enigma which has so long puzzled the authorities, how to provide outdoor recreation for the great number of men at Pennsylvania.

BISHOP BRENT WILL SPEAK
Philippine Missionary to Address Mass Meeting Tomorrow in Gymnasium. George Wharton Pepper to Preside.

The Right Rev. Charles H. Brent, Bishop of the Philippine Islands, and one of the greatest missionary bishops in the Protestant Episcopal Church, will address a mass-meeting of undergraduates, members of the Faculty and visitors in Weightman Hall to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

George Wharton Pepper, who continues to be lad out as a possible successor to Dr. Harrison, will preside at the meeting. He has just returned with Bishop Brent from the Protestant Episcopal General Convention at Cincinnati.

Bishop Brent is one of the greatest figures in the Protestant Episcopal Church. At the convention which has just closed he was mentioned prominently for the office of President of the Board of Missions. He has an authority on Eastern problems. His wide knowledge and ability in this direction was recognized by Mr. Roosevelt, who, as President, appointed him one of the three delegates from the United States to the International Opium Conference in China two years ago.

A few years ago Dr. Brent was elected Bishop of Washington, but despite the fact that his physicians warned him that the climate of the Philippines was extremely dangerous in his case, he refused the new, better and decided to continue his work in the East. His address in Weightman Hall will be the only one delivered in Philadelphia.

Medical Club Holds Reception.
Nearly three hundred physicians were present last night at the reception given by the Philadelphia Medical Club, at the Bellevue-Stratford, in honor of the physicians now practicing in this state, who were graduated fifty or more years ago. A number of Pennsylvania men were there: J. E. Darrough, '86; R. L. Dower, '96; C. W. Houghton, '90; R. N. Downs, '95; C. Stewart, '92; W. R. Lumphager, '95; A. Stout, '95; H. G. Taylor, '95, and R. B. Wilson, '96. Dr. Taylor, who is secretary of the Medical Club, is the prime mover in this reunion of veteran physicians, and the unexpected revolution last night was pronounced such a great success that he hopes to make it an annual affair.

Philomathean Society.
Intellectual topics were the order of the night's meeting of the Philomathean Society. Mr. Bechtel's essay on "The Anarchy of Francis Ferro," Mr. Shinnemann's review of "The Strike in France," and Mr. Cronin's selection, the "Woman with the Serpent's Tongue," were all of high literary character.

The debate: "Resolved that the acts of the Portuguese Republican party in Portugal are justifiable," was won by the affirmative.

Cross-Country Handicap Today.
An open handicap cross-country meet will be held in Fairmount Park today. All of last year's Veterans will start from scratch, and from present indications will have trouble in overcoming the handicaps allowed some of the new men, who have shown up so well this year. Joe Ballard, who returned to the University this year, will run today. All those who have entered will leave the gymnasium at 1:30 A. M. to-day for the Park.

Veterinary Anatomy, by Stimson, now the text-book on the subject, is on sale at Pennoock's, 2090 Woodland Ave.

Zoological Society.
Three numbers of extraordinary merit contained the program at a meeting of the Zoological Society last night. Mr. Gilly speaks on "The Need of Law," Mr. K. Shidlo read an instructive paper on "The Ideology of Insects," and H. M. Kline-writer made some interesting remarks on the University Settlement.

ANNUAL RECEPTION TO NEW MEN
Provoit and Mrs. Harrison will entertain incoming students next Friday night.

Every new man in the University will be invited to the reception given by the Provost and Mrs. Harrison next Friday evening in Weigman Hall. In other years the Museum has been used, but the large number of new men this year, there being more than 1,200, has made use of the Gymnasium necessary.

The sending of invitations was begun yesterday and will continue through today. Mistakes are likely to occur in sending so many letters, and in case any man should not get an invitation he will know that it is due to an error.

Provoit Harrison is very anxious to have every new man attend the reception, whether he is a freshman in either the College Department, Graduate School or the Professional Schools, or whether he is entering upper classes with advanced standing.

As this will be the last time that the Provost and Mrs. Harrison will be here to welcome entering students, they desire every one to make an effort to be present.

Mechanical Engineers Meet.
The Mechanical Engineers' Club held a smaller last night for the incoming men of the department. Addresses were given by Prof. W. H. S. (now for the Department of Mechanical and Civil Engineering; John Shynook, for the University and A. J. Wolf, for the Alumni.

Dr. Dr. H. Applied Anatomy. is now ready; Penneo has it, at 500 bow.

W. C. M. A. Notes on same, also at Penn's.
