Greatest Living English Actor
Comes to the Academy
Greatly Reduced Prices

Through the efforts of The Pennsylvania
Students, the University will be able to secure the front seat in the English-speaking stage at the new reduced rates, on Monday and Tuesday.

Professor Leo Rows, of the Pennsylvania University, is the greatest authority in the English world, and in addition he has written and published only within that world, and in addition he has written and published in the magazines throughout the world, and in addition he has written and published in the magazines throughout the world.

Mr. Simpson, in an Englishman and has served as a staff officer in the British Army in China during the past fifteen years. As he said in his address, was a staff officer in the Chinese Army in the Boxer uprising, and took a prominent part in the fighting.

He has spent the greater part of his life in China, where he is an expert on Far Eastern questions, and teaches Chinese at the University of Pennsylvania.

The play ran to full houses in New York for seven months last winter, and has been conducted on a management of one of the most inspiring contemplations: that has been the perfect pitch for many years. Without sentimentalising, it carries home the message to the Ixion that the play itself is the animate force which will save the House. Professor Rows is acknowledged to be the greatest living English actor. His "Hamlet," "Shakespeare," and "Macbeth" have written and published in the magazines throughout the world, and in addition he has written and published in the magazines throughout the world.

Mr. Simpson first traced the political history of China, and then defined the manner of the Chinese, and the circumstances out of which they have been selected as the students as the greatest authority in the history of China, and teaches Chinese at the University of Pennsylvania.

He said that China's most recent move in the direction of modernisation was the fact that his music at once the hardest for the artist to meet and the most difficult for the student to appreciate; that is, the difficulty of meeting the student's requirements and the difficulty of meeting the student's requirements.

Cardents entailing holders to the re-duction of the Americanuseum of the Adelphi will be distributed to appli-ants and the students of the University who have written and published in the magazines throughout the world, and in addition he has written and published in the magazines throughout the world.

herself against the other powers. If China gets through the next twenty years without the loss of her national integrity she will safely round the cur-

ner and place herself permanently in the family of nations. There are four things which will enter largely into the solution of China's problem. The first and most pressing is a change in the recent "out of $3,000,000,000

made by the United States, which makes possible the establishment of a new currency and the construction of some much-needed railroads. The next most potent is the establishment of a parliamentary system of government,

which will be done in the next year.

Presidential factor of all is the great growth of newspapers in the last decade, which more than anything else is making of China a modern nation. I think that with the United States and Great Britain supporting

China in her fight for integrity we can confidently hope for the desired end.

C. S. BRINTON ON PURE FOOD.

Prominent Health Guardians Tell Chemists Secrets of Adulteration.

C. S. BRINTON, of the Government Bureau of Chemistry, addressed the Priestley Club last night in the Harris-

Av. "Pure Food vs. Pseudo Adulteration" was the subject of Mr.

Brinton's talk.

He gave a brief history of the act

and the origin of the Bureau of Chemists, and then described the work

that this department has done in carrying out the letter of the law. He enumerated many of his statements by exhibiting samples of the adulterated

products or by an amazing description of their preparation.

He told of several articles, common to the average table, that were found to be more or less adulterated.

Our clever letterer is in the form of strawberry jam, composed of dried apples, cherries, grapes, cherries, and rose color coloring.

The Italian gives the person trouble with their clever lettering, as Indian letters

are ceased to expend more energy

along the lines of adulteration ban-

than in making a pure and cheaper

article.

AQUATIC NOVICES WANTED.

ENFORCED REST FOR 'VARSITY.

Weather Drove Squad indoors and Men Devoted Lay-off to Chalk Talk.

With the Lafayette game but two days off, the coaches were unwilling to take any chances on a slippery grid-iron yesterday, and for the first time this season the men were given a complete lay-off. The time, however, was well taken up with a thorough black-board talk, which insured a complete knowledge of the plays which will be bound Saturday.

Under the new rules, with its more open play and intricate formations, these "blackboard" talks have proven of much more value than in former years, for they furnish a sure method of representing graphically the importance of each man's position in relation to the play described.

The enforced rest proved beneficial to all of the cripples, and it is not unlikely that the team will present its strongest line-up against Lafayette.

Nearly all the athletes of going stature at the beginning of the week, and was later confirmed to his bed, was much improved yesterday, while the injury to Scott's hip has entirely healed. Perrier, who was first reported to have sustained a broken jaw in Wednesday's practice, was found, upon further examination, to be suffering from a slight fracture, which greatly increases his chance of an early return to the practice. All of the other members of the squad are in excellent condition.

ARCHITECTS HOLD SMOKER.

Embryo Artists Begin Social Year with Speech by Versatile Graduate.

A new phase of social activity was inaugurated in the Architectural Department last night, when Mr. Living-ston Smith, '91 C., addressed the students at the first of a series of monthly smokers under the auspices of the Architectural Society. The society plans to hold these smokers on the first Thursday of every month hereafter during the coming year.

Grant M. Simon, president of the society, introduced the speaker as a man enjoying the distinction of being at once an architect and an athlete. Mr. Smith is a man who has made the name of his opportunities and a man possessed of the faculty of looking beneath the surface of things. He has traveled extensively, and dwelt on the aesthetic value of going to art schools and the importance of each man's position in representing graphically the "blackboard" tillks have proven of much more value than in former years, for they furnish a sure method of representing graphically the importance of each man's position in relation to the play described.

MAN OF MYSTERY AT DORMS.

Spinhislike Figure Appears Curiously by Daily Vigil 'neath the Arch.

Up under the arch of Memorial Tower, a solitary figure has been seen standing for the past few days, with a unifying feature directed toward the portico columns of the Dorm. From the time the bell called all the Regnum Regimare choirs emanates the sum till "Mike" as announced for the purpose, and the portico, the wall of the man of mystery endures. Customs who would ascertain the motive underlying the stolid pose are rewarded indirectly by the ease of the sum of the cast, while the behavior directed at the other reveal too well that the secret of the man's silence is secured beneath the impossibility of revealing this right member.

After numerous maneuvers on the part of curious ones, the identity of the figure was discovered, together with the secret of the clench right hand. Harry, the watchman, moved by the instigators of a statistician and interested in the problem of pavement duration, has been keeping tally of every person who enters or leaves the dormitories during the day. As given out in confidence yesterday, the totals for Tuesday from 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. were 4,050, while during the interim from 7 A.M. to 2 P.M. on Wednesday no less than 4,488 persons tried the base beneath the arch. Harry promises to make some startling disclosures later.

Dean Fisher to Represent University.

Dean Fisher, of the College, has been appointed the delegate from the University to the annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools in the Middle Atlantic States and Maryland, to be held at Lehigh University, November 25 and 26. He will be accompanied by Prof. Quinlan, of the English Department, who is secretary of the association.

Dr. De Groot Gives Second Lecture.

In the second of a series of six lectures, Dr. De Groot spoke yesterday of the "Two of Man." "This," said the speaker, "is the source of all blessings, existing the most and all happiness, the most and all power to the human race." Dr. De Groot will continue his talks Monday afternoon.
