The Sophomores carried their bowl in the second half after a hard struggle, and the forty-sixth half of the series that night.

Philadelphia Praise.
George S. Webster, Chief of the Pennsylvania Board of Surveys, in a talk yesterday to the Junior and Civil Engineers, praised Philadelphia as a city far advanced in the removal of its grade-crossing obstacles. "Climb, although larger, is farther behind in this respect," he said. "A time comes to all large cities when grade crossings must be abolished, both for the lessening of loss of life and for facilitating traffic. The Pennsylvania and the Reading showed advanced and excellent examples of the present movement."

Basketball Game Cancelled.
Word comes from the Virginia Military Institute that an account of an epidemic of typhoid fever and conjunctivitis in their basketball game with Pennsylvania must be cancelled. The contest was scheduled for January 7th, and, as the school is on an enforced furlough until January 10th, no practice can be held in the meantime, thus making the game impossible. Manager Browning will try hard to get another contest for that date.

To Open Social Room with Speaker.
President-elect Smith and Dean Annes, of the Graduate School, will be guests of honor at the official opening of the Social Room in the new Graduate House tomorrow evening. The entertainment will be in the form of a smoker, with plenty of "smokes" and "eats," besides music and a general good time. It is expected that the guests will deliver short address, but the affair will be distinctly informal in every way.

Mat Artists Begin Tournament.
The big brown mat at the north end of Washington Hall presents an animated appearance now that wrestling has swung into gear. Phil-Nelsons and Half-Nelsons and just plain stranglers hold fast to their basketball name with renewed enthusiasm. University Laundry 304 West Woodland Ave store to position his wayward clothing. He had scarcely got under way again when he was again tackled, but again he accomplished his double duty, amid the roar of the spectators, who had become converted at the spectacle.

When the fight was finally ended it was found that the Sophomores had twenty-six hands on the bowl as against the Freshmen's fifteen. Stanny Kremer, a Freshman, who suffered the dislocation of his right thumb, was the only one seriously injured in the fight. Among the men who had their hands on the bowl at the end of the fight were Sopho-
