HOCKEY GAMES SCHEDULED.

Hockey games will be played.

Merry Christmas and the Week Following, and Entertainment will be Given Next Week to Any Interested Students Who Are Obliged to Return.

Merry Christmas to all, and may the Season be filled with joy and happiness. Christmas is the time for giving, and we hope that all of you will be able to share with others the joys of life as they might be. We will be glad next week to receive interested students who are obliged to return to college for the holidays.

The University Settlement is to conduct a number of social entertainments on Christmas and the week following, and the services of any students who wish to help will be appreciated. Those in charge of the Settlement are:

H. Melville Kiesewetter, the Resident Secretary, will supply information to our undergraduates who intend to remain in the city, and they will be glad to receive their calls. If there are any men who do not wish to entertain without taking any active part, they too will be welcomed to help in some measure.

Following is a complete schedule of all that will be done. To dine at the Home, at Twenty-first and Lombard Streets, during Christmas week...

There will be pictures for everyone. A plentiful supply of toys will be given to the children of the hospital, and gifts of the season will be given to those of spare years. None will be forgotten, for Christmas cheer will be spread through the halls of the hospital.

The students, with their backs to the wall, will be able to leave their tears to gather at large table, and their friends can be less formal now, for they will have to contend with eating off of foreign dishes. B. Taylor

This will be the second time of the season that the University Settlement will be open in the Cleveland region.

In 1898 the 'Varsity Seven played on fast sevens in the city on New Year's Day, and since that time have always been united in their sevens 'till his time the institution has always been a comfortable and luxurious livelihood.

The University Settlement will enjoy the hospitality of the District of Columbia Central Society.

The picture is the property of the University Settlement.

CONNELL THEATRE'S COMING.

The Maque to Present "The Butterflies" at its Bellevue Theatre.

The rising of the curtain on "The Butterflies" in the Bellevue-Stratford hall-room next week will mark the first appearance of Cornell amateur players in this city. The play is to be "The Butterflies" as presented by the Cornell Masque Council, the dramatic club of Cornell, which recommends the play and will direct the show on Thursday night. A young woman's social on Christmas evening and have made students will be needed.

Another Christmas will be spent in New York was physical fitness leant will play on fast sevens in the city.

Nevertheless, it is said to understand why time-tables and outgoing trains possess a greater attractiveness than a four to five class in pediatrics on the day before Christmas vacation.

Minor Sports Inactive.

All of the minor sports will discontinue practice during the coming holidays.

Bremen Taupsilon, the University tennis team, is inactive, and the members of the team are enjoying the winter holidays.

Dr. Smith in Chapel.

Visiting professors and members of the University Settlement will exercise this morning for the last time this academic year. It is consequently desired that the event be marked by a decided appreciation of the occasion...

Kelvin Physical Club.

The Kelvin Physical Club held its annual meeting, and the following officers were elected: Mr. William 1. Book spoke on "Cured Thalassemia," and Mr. Ralph C. Demers on "Detective Efficiency in the Field of Photography," in charge of Dr. Hough, followed.

GREETINGS.

Once again the Yuletide is with us, that time of the year in which the thoughts of every human being involuntarily revert to what he may not satisfactorily do for his fellow-man.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive" is a universal precept that implies the effort with interest to make some sacrifice for the bettering of humanity. To each and every one of us are offered different opportunities of doing good and making his happiness for others. Every country, every community, every group has its great needs, and at Christmas time the whole world over echoes with the appeal for a helping hand. If the opportunities thus offered are disregarded, whether selfishly or thoughtlessly, the very first duty of every Christian has been neglected.

It only remains for every Pennsylvania man to attain this laudable ideal and this render superhuman our sinners wishes for a very merry Christmas and the happiness of New Years.

TO OUT-OF-TOWN MEN.

Pennsylvania men will soon be scattered through every state in the Union, and on these men who live in places where Pennsylvania is not so well known as she might and deserves to be, there devolves a duty which, as some of the oldest University Students in the United States, they should not hesitate to fulfill.

A college man returning home for Christmas is always the center of attention for uncles, aunts, cousins, younger brothers, in fact the whole category of those who have never been to college, and there is not a little new mixed with the admiration in the contemplation of the college man "home for Christmas." What a chance not to be lost, therefore, for the Pennsylvania undergraduate to show the love and loyalty which he must feel, if he is a true man, toward his alma mater. There must be many boys of the impressionable age when the choice of a university is beginning to loom up before them who, through the right kind of college man, might be persuaded to come to Pennsylvania. It may be that they are open-minded on the subject, or perhaps already prejudiced in favor of our institution, or again it may be that a graduate of another university has influenced them otherwise, and it will be a test of which is the better man in helping the school boy to choose. In any case, it should be the duty of every Pennsylvania man to do in all his power for Pennsylvania. Let him tell what Pennsylvania has been, what she is to day, and what she promises to be in the future. One need not stretch the truth to do this; the simple facts are enough in themselves, and this, mixed with the personal enthusiasm of the men she has benefited, should do immeasurable good for Pennsylvania.

THE SETTLEMENT.

Among all the branches of college activity, among all the departments which go to constitute the great machine of an educational institution, we note, with pleasure, the growing interest in the University Settlement.
That a greater number of the student body should be exhibiting a concrete interest in such work is indeed hopeful for the future.

It is scarcely unfair to say that one does not naturally turn to philanthropic work of this kind; especially likely is the average student to be satnished with his own surrounding and appear oblivious to the conditions of others. But that the greater majority of undergraduate body should be totally indifferent to such an enti-prise is a false claim.

The largest institutions of this country pool with pride in the rapid strides made by their representatives in foreign mission work; but equally vital becomes the question of support in movements affecting their own localities.

A year ago the University Settlement was confronted by a financial problem for further development. The difficulty was fortunately solved and progress continued throughout all lines.

The present college year has been marked by a decided growth of intercest. The student body has apparently outgrown the childish affectation of indifference and now take pride in the Settlement work.

cest. The student body has apparently outgrown the childish affectation of indifference and now take pride in the Settlement work.

Beginning Saturday night, a full program of events has been arranged to provide cheer for the vast number of children during Christmas.
Without the cooperation of the undergraduates the plan will be materially impeded. It is our fondest hope that this call for student aid receive a hearty response.

Christmas comes but once a year, in what it always say.

But "Doc" Yanker says he wouldn't care
if it came twice every year.

Where is the call of the wild? Where are the wild songs of the genus Homo residing? While the walls of Breeks house first furnished a shelter for the loss of the Swedish tonics, hauled through a megaphone, have announced the advent of Christmas vacation. A student not acquainted with every step of his home-bound train was declared ineligible by the Faculty to occupy a room on the triangle. It is rumored that at one time the Demosthenes of Broad Street Station attained accommodations there solely on account of his ability to belove the name of every hamlet in the country without disclosing the identity of a single one of the same. In those days Christmas vacation was announced with a sounding brass and tinkling clock.

But now a hush spread itself over the Dorms. No jingle of pottery welcomes the coming of Yule-tide. The evening song of the house-people is forgotten. Not even the name of New York has been hurled into the transient atmosphere of the triangle. Like the heron in the Christmas rhyme, "not a creature is stirring, not even a mouse." Another tradition has entered into the world of Oblivion.

HOBSON COMING TO UNIVERSITY.

Hero of Spanish War Will Speak on Temperance.

Up to its return from the vacation just about to begin, the student body of Pennsylvania will have the privilege of hearing Richard Pearson Hobson lecture in Houston Club on "Scientific Temperance." Hobson's fame as an officer in the United States Navy during the late unpleasantness with Spain has reached to the ends of the earth. How he secured the Merrimack into the harbor of Havana and sank it, thereby setting up the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera in a host which has gone down on the pages of history, never to be erased. The heroic bravery of such an act can hardly be conceived by the ordinary mind. Ye, though known principally by his wartime fame, Hobson is nevertheless well-known in certain circles as a man of learning and as a statesman. He is at present the Representative from Congress from Alabama.

He is this latter eminence that he will appear before the student body to speak on "Scientific Temperance." His speech will be more than a mere plea for abstinence. He will submit testimony and figures to prove that the fatal effects of alcohol are a base for broader and more far-reaching appeal for the fulfillment of America's destiny to evangelize the world.

Full Dresses Suits

The making of Full-Dress Suits is an important part of our business because it seems as if every customer has placed an order with us.

This condition is due to our success in the fit, in the finish of the garments and the moderation in price. We make a fine ordinary suit at $50 and one at $80 is also a leader. Do not forget that this is no higher than a ready-made suit, yet the latter will be outgrown in a year perhaps, while ours will last five, owing to the fact that we provide large outlets. Which will you choose?

Perhaps you only need a coat? Or a white vest? Of the latter, we show a hundred patterns at $7 to $12.
