THE PRESENT.

The week of running and of midnight oil is past. The days of memory—of weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth for some, of wonder and astonishment at the irretrievable ways of Dame Fortune for others, and of satisfied endings for still others—have begun.

Unfortunately, the period which has gone to join "the tribe that numbers" in the past, was suggestive of the land of the lotus-eaters In the lazy warmth of candidates for any other undertaking, athletic or otherwise. It is to be hoped that history will repeat itself to-day. The best argument which might be used to induce the hastilist to go and swell the merry chorus, is that if there be or was has been anyone who ever regretted the fact that he went out for Mark and Wig, he has been most peculiarly secretive as to his opinions.

Those who have had the good fortune to pass through the famous door of the famous Club House down on Quince street will, if the iron hand of fate, permit, return this year, and will bring with them as many others as they can draw into their train.

<tr>
<td>&quot;The students of the University of Pennsylvania have received with great satisfaction the fraternal message of goodwill which we have sent to the students of the National University of La Plata, through Mr. Henry Gill. This message is an indication of the spirit of neighborliness and mutual helpfulness which should prevail between university men throughout the American continent, and it is particularly gratifying that the initiative has been taken by the students of a university which is in so many respects outstandingly allied with the University of Pennsylvania. We desire to reciprocate the cordial message and assure the students of the National University of La Plata that we are prepared to cooperate with them in every way which will advance the cause of international goodwill. &quot;</td>

INGUATIVA SINGS WAR SONGS.

| "Inquativa," Interest from the wild and wily Dahomian region of Central Africa, arrived at the Museum last week in several interviews and concerts with the entire Archae-
| eological section, contributed a couple dozen native songs to Dr. Speck's Odyssean collection on hitherto unknown instruments, and translated enough to keep the students in anthropology going for the next three months. |
| This is how it happened: "Inquativa" was raised on war, but the diet didn't agree with him, so at the age of 11 he took French leave for the coast and honed his way to Scotland. Here he was "discovered" by a tender-hearted philanthropist and educated in English, French and German. But Inquativa has too much of a Dahomian to stick to Linguisaties, so migrated to the United States and started a little side show, with himself as manager, press agent and chief attractiveness. |
| "Eight days later a dancing was a daily warm in a local vaudeville house. |

EMERITUS Helped Home to Greatness.

According to Professor J. B. Currier, who became the University Museum's Saturday on "The Emeritus and the Passing of the Time," the magnum opus received its first impression, which made possible its later development under Greek influence, from the Dahomians. Professor Currier, who is a member of the American Institute of Classical Studies in Rome, based his address on the fact that the character of the religion of the Romans existed only in Dahomia, where the Emeritus had their home.

SOCCER TEAM TIES TWICE
Marion Cricket Club Held Them to 64 Score and Haverford College Matches Their One Goal.

Last Saturday, the "Varisty soccer team journeyed to Haverford to meet the Marion Cricket Club eleven on their grounds, to attempt to even up for the 1-6 defeat handed out by the Main Liners in December.

The best that could be done, however, was to tie them, the final score standing 64. The game was fast and exciting, and remarkably for the number of goals scored.

With the wind in Pennsylvania's favor in the first half, the Red and Blue players ran with it, which seemed to be a winning lead of 6 goals to 2. However, in the second half, Marion's attack and endurance appeared to upstage their opponents, netting them four goals, placing the teams on equal terms.

The lineup:

On Saturday, January 21, the "Varisty played the Haverford College eleven to a one goal tie on Walton Field, at Haverford. The game was a friendly contest, preparatory to the regular intercollegiate matches, which opens March 1.

The two teams were evenly matched and it was a see-saw affair for the entire ninety minutes of play. The Red and Blue players showed some great combination, especially in the first half, and it was entirely through the clever work of Murray, Haverford's goalkeeper, that a victory did not come to Pennsylvania.

There was no score in the first half, but with three minutes to play in the second, Kelly netted a pretty shot from center. With only fifteen seconds remaining, Hare, of Haverford, broke away and scored a goal, thereby tying up.

Reduction in Pennants

THOUGH our reduction sale of medium and heavy weight suitings and overcoatings takes place only once a year, it does not require a half hour's time to get our stock in shape for it.

All the goods are left where they were when on sale at the regular prices, not a bolt of cloth is set aside. Attached to each is the ticket bearing the price per unit which was put on when the cloth entered our stock.

Any man can look around, can select the fabric that fits his needs, can deduct his own discount from the price per suit—which is plainly indicated on the tag.

Suppose he is in doubt whether the suit that he selected, lest the discount, is as good a buy as he can make elsewhere? It is a simple matter for him to ask for a sample. We furnish it gladly. He can take that sample and make comparisons, quality for quality, with any shop in town.

We are confident that he will come back—as we could not afford to make the suggestion that he make such comparisons if experience did not prove that our confidence is justified in the great majority of cases.

Prices start as low as $25.50 for a regular $30 custom-tailored suit.
