Sophomore Class Will Enter Social Column When It Gives First Dance Tomorrow Night.

Arrangements for the Sophomore dance have at last been completed, and everything looks to be very successful affair on Friday night. The committee, under the able direction of J. Paul Burleigh, has done everything in its power to make the occasion enjoyable. They have arranged to accommodate four hundred people, and promise the best in the line of music and refreshments.

In general, the plans of last year's Sophomore dance have been followed out, although the decorations are much more elaborate. The music will be furnished by Herzberg, the supper by Riley and the decorations by Halverson.

Especially novel and artistic decorations have been promised. The dancing space will be enclosed by rows of Doric columns, surmounted by festoons of garlands and foliage. Surrounding this will be a conventional balustrade. Soft colored lights will be hung at convenient places in the ceiling. The orchestra will be completely concealed with cut flowers and palm leaves. At one end of the hall the motto of the class, 1913, in red and blue electric lights, will be hung. The general color scheme will be pink and white.

Tickets may be secured at the office of 'The Pennsylvanian' or from the members of the committee.

Custom-Tailoring Only

Why do the so-called bargain sales make so few permanent friends for the store?

We know nothing about running a department store, but in the tailoring business we have proved by twenty years' experience that it pays to do the best service possible, to set the most moderate price on that value, to reduce prices only once a year on any class of goods and at that time to make a reduction large as possible, consistent with giving the best service of which we are capable.

Though our fifteen per cent. discount—in force this month on suitings and overcoats—may not sound as large as some other discounts, you are interested in the price you pay and the suit you have made. On the score of low price combined with quality and assured satisfaction, we are willing to stand comparison with any house. We welcome such comparisons.

We should not have suggested such comparisons, as a regular part of our policy for years past, if we did not know that the man who makes them becomes our pleased customer and our strong advocate.

Full Dress Suits

The making of Full-dress Suits is an important part of our business because it seems as if every customer we have places an order with us.

This condition is due to our success in the fit, in the finish of the garments, and the moderation in price. We make a fine silk-lined suit at $10 and one at $15 in a day's order.

Do not forget that this is no higher than a ready-made suit, yet the latter will be outgrown in a year perhaps, while ours will last five, owing to the fact that we provide large cuffs. Which will you choose?

Perhaps you only need a coat? Or a white vest? Of the latter, we show a hundred patterns at $7 to $12.
