The Bed and Blue swimmers will meet the Faculty crews to-morrow afternoon in what will be one of the most important matches of the present inter-collegiate League season. Both teams have been training for this match for a long time, and are keyed up to the highest pitch.

Water, the great performer, expects to find Peters, of Columbia, the most dangerous opponent he has yet met, in the spirit of the Light Blue and White will be recaptured by Cumil and Dickinson men who have proved their mettle earlier in the season, but they have never opaled the tone made by either Graham, Clement, or Overbacker, in Col-

University. Unfortunately, Jamieson, the diving star, will be unable to join the George team, so Walton will be in his place. Walton has complete faith in the Duke backers and his team for a year, and in that time has acquired a reputation as a diving backer. He never failed to make a good show, and has preserved a sensational success.

With the exception of the Delft rower except Roddick, the All-Collegiate goal, who is recovering from a recent illness, all the men are pretected to start the game to-night. Walton, who is a new man who is showing up well, and the Duke backers are running away making us. Walton and Wright have shown up well in practice yesterday afternoon, and Barkei and Clark, who in a week's time, for unusual service and speed, Barkei and Clark, the Duke backers, are ranked with the best backstrockers in the East, and will give the Red and Blue forward a hard struggle to approach the goal, while, without Captain Hayden, it has proved to be a hard struggle to approach the goal, while:

NEW BOOK BY PROF. NEARING.

"Social Adjustment" in Title of Latest Volume by Wharton Professor.

Dr. Scott Nearing, of the Wharton School Faculty, has just received from the McMillan Company the first copies of his latest work, "Social Adjustment." In the book Dr. Nearing has endeavored to show that social maladjustment does exist in certain parts of our country in virulent forms, and that it is due to economic conditions, consequently involving a social cost. This maladjustment can, he claims, be remedied through social action and eliminated through efficient education and wise remedial legislation.

"The vast majority of children," says Dr. Nearing, "are born normal, and they become abnormal and degenerate only through defective environment. All social classes are capable of the same uplift, but progress is impossible while society condemns men because of the aims of the fathers and while it is blind to the transgressions of the brothers. Maladjustment is to be eliminated through the promulgation of a new view of the universality of human capacity, the remediality of maladjustment, and the advantage of universalized opportunism."

The book is divided under headings, each dealing with a social problem which is thoughtfully treated in regard to its rightful classification among the adjusted and maladjusted social conditions of the day. Among the more important of these headings are: University of Public Education, Law Wages and Standards, Congestion of Population, Dependence of Women, Menace of Large Families, Destructiveness of the American Home, Dangers of Trade Unrest, Unemployment, and Child Labor.

WRESTLING SCHEDULE OUT.

It Comprises Six Metu—Intercollegiates at Princeton Last in March.

Manager Hagan, of the wrestling team, has announced the following comprehensive schedule for the season of 1911:

Feb. 10—Columbia at home.
Feb. 14—Anchorage at Anheiser.
Feb. 25—Open.
March 1—Cornell at Ithaca.
March 11—Princeton at Anheiser.
March 18—Princeton at home.
March 25—Intercollegiates at Princeton.

A general of interest and enthusiasm has been shown this year in wrestling, and it is fascinating indeed to count for anything, the championship should come to Pennsylvania. For the management is very sanguine as to the Red and Blue's chances in the Intercollegiates, which will be held this year at Princeton.

More than fifty men are working regularly, and some very good material has been uncovered. Of course, Captain Stewart, last year's intercollegiate 140-pound champion, is the marquise of the team, but some coming stars have been dropped around him, so chances for a strong team look very bright this year.

Mr. Pontius Speaker of Evening.

At the Christian Association meeting, last evening, Mr. Pontius, Secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on the general subject of Group Work and Bible Study in the Eastern Universities.

At a later meeting at the Phi Delta Theta house, Dr. Hildebrand made a brief address following a talk by Mr. Pontius, the same that he gave before the Christian Association.

Plays for Junior Banquet.

Elaborate plans have been made to hold the Junior Banquet at the Hotel Singer on March 5. The Junior bodies in turn to surpass all other banquets in former years to make the coming affair a great success and thereby set a standard for the classes to come. Partition strongers and Partition women will furnish entertainment and give the touch of enjoyment that will make the evening a recorded success. Tickets can be purchased from any one of the Banquet Committee for $2.50.
