The Pennsylvania Opened the baseball season in Philadelphia, March 23, 1931.

Pennsylvania and the Navy tied for first place in the Ivy League. Pennsylvania won the first six games of the Intercollegiate Pennant Preliminary Round, scoring a total of 25 points, and were posted because of a rule prohibiting athletes in Princeton in Monday. The score now stands. Princeton is in the lead with 15 points. Columbia is a close second with 11 points, Princeton third with 7, and Cornell lost with 6.

The two bouts lost by Pennsylvania were to the light heavyweight and the lightweight. The former is between W. J. Johnson, Princeton and John, Pennsylvania, the latter between Capt. Holmes and Hoff, of Pennsylvania. In both cases the lighter weight won the bouts. Pennsylvania and Princeton will be tied for first place with 15 points each, but if either man loses, Princeton will be outright winners.

The meet was full of surprises from start to finish. Cornell, coming to the meet with the most chances of winning, lost both of its meetings, while Yale scored upset victories. The meet gave Red and Blue a chance.

The meet ended with Northwest's 13-pounder Prettyman, Princeton, winning from Johnson, Pennsylvannia, after 19 minutes; third, Kirch, Pennsylvania.

The 115-pound class McCaulds, Columbia, was won from Maddalena, Cornell, after 18 minutes; third, Johnson, Pennsylvania.

The 175-pound class Nilsen, Pennsylvania, won from Burdett, Princeton, in the first match; third, Holsworth, Columbia.

The 220-pound class Cassell, Yale, was elected captain of the Fraternity. The new building will be used to house the Fraternity. The new building will be used to house the Fraternity.

PHI BETA KAPPA AT DINNER

Honorary Fraternity Holds Its Annual Spread at the University Club
New Members "Initiated."

The annual dinner of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity, given in honor of the recently elected members from this university, was held at the University Club Saturday night. The attendance was exceptionally fine as usual, and probably no other group of dukes would be better qualified to handle the general topic of discussion during the dinner, "The Relation of the Cultured Man to Social Questions.

Professor Edward P. Chevalier, President of the dinner committee, acted as toastmaster, and in the course of the evening introduced P. L. Waldos, of the "Public Ledger," the Rev. E. M. Desrousseaux, Professor Carl Kelley, of the Wharton School, and William A. Green, representing Harvard.

Dessert was served by Horace Wolfe, of the Senior Class, and Albert Brough and Frederick Eddies, Juniors.

MANY CALLED, BUT FEW CHOSEN.

Comica's Multifarious Manger Cake at Last.

Illustrator Cronic is called. Never in his directorial experience has he cracked his whip over such a stellar bench of middle-class contestants as is now reinforcing the canvas of Wrightwood Hall. Undergraduates are appearing daily and literally fighting to have their names among the "stupendous aggregation" which is to comprise the University Circle on April 7 and 8. All of these are vying, to a point, with one another for the chance to have their picture taken as a part-time member of the organization. While half of them are probably interested in the social aspect of things, it is very likely that all of them, as long as they are students, will be a part of the Y. M. C. A. organization, in one way or another, although there is some sort of talking among the prospective candidates as to what the future holds for the organization. There are those that believe the organization will continue during their college days, while others believe will discontinue after graduation.

Add to this a number of entrances in the expirations of sales and a galaxy of writers, strong men and strong women, and the chances are the group will continue for some time. There is a good chance that the group will continue, if the present enthusiasm should carry through.

That being the case, on the question of whether the side-show will be a feature this year. There are those that believe it is a necessity for the development of the group, while others feel it would be a feature that would only detract from the aims of the group. There is a general feeling that the group is not a commercial proposition, but a social, educational, and entertainment group, and that the side-show would only detract from the aims of the group.

In the future, the side-show will be a feature of the group, and it is hoped that the group will continue to grow and develop as a group of people interested in the social and cultural aspects of life.
