In the preliminaries for the National Broadsword Championship held at the Philadelphia Athletic Club, the University fencing team, captured second place, thereby qualifying for the final series of matches, which are to be held in the first part of July at the New York Athletic Club.

Captain Peck's showing came as a great surprise, as last night's concert was the first broadsided meet of the season in which he had participated. Dr. Frieder, of the Keystone Fencers Club, won the gold medal, and L. S. S. Smeltzer won the silver. Both scored in the elimination doubles, defeating the second place team.

The members of the famous pyramid in which Penn Charter, Drexel-Biddle and Pennsylvania Institution, had in mind only to score a good point in the match that they had played last night, were numbered among the three men who missed last night's performance. Captain Ouberbacker, of the University and the other man who had missed the match, are improving rapidly.

In the University's double round matches against the newly-organised University team, and Captain Ouberbacker, of the Villanova University, only succeeded in scoring a point in the match that they had played last night, Captain Parker's showing came as a great surprise, as last night's concert was the first broadsided meet of the season in which he had participated. Dr. Frieder, of the Keystone Fencers Club, won the gold medal, and L. S. S. Smeltzer won the silver. Both scored in the elimination doubles, defeating the second place team.

SPORTSMANSHIP.

That great unfortunate feature of our national game, the attempt to dis- credit the opposing team, has been too much in evidence at Franklin Field this season. The efforts of visiting players in the vernacular of the game, are not made any easier by the remark which came from the stands. A team playing on its opponents' grounds is under enough disadvantages without those being added to by the action of the spectators.

During the past year the treatment which has been accorded visiting teams has been most courteous. The base ball championships of the last two years we may be the prouder of as they came through the ability of the players and not through errors on the part of our opponents, occasioned by the noise and heckling in the stands. From one point of view this is natural enough, for, wishing to see the team win, its supporters will do everything they can to achieve this result. But to adopt methods such as have characterized the two home games of the present season is unmanlike and cannot be too severely frowned upon.

There is, moreover, no need for it. The best results will be achieved by the local support of our own team and by the proper appreciation of the merit of their opponents, which will spur them on to greater efforts.

Every man on entering Franklin Field should remember the inscription which is on the entrance: "Pennsylvania welcomes her worthy rivals." This is a sentiment with which every one is in accord. If we do not wish to be trenched as hypocrites we should act in a manner which becomes such an expression. It is surely a poor welcome to make it difficult for visiting players to do themselves justice, and yet this is what we do when we try to make a pitcher lose his control or add to a runner's troubles in recovering a foul ball. A real welcome should.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS

Discussed by Prominent Speakers at Second Session of the American Academy's Annual Meeting.

"Industrial Accidents in the United States and Their Prevention" was the subject of the second annual session of the American Academy, held in Pittsburgh last evening. The meeting was preceded over by the Hon. Charles Nagol, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who introduced the speakers of the evening for fifteen-minute talks.

Miss Mabel T. Beardslee, assistant to the head of the Red Cross, briefly outlined the scope of that organization. Miss Crystal Eastman, Secretary of the New York State Commission on Employment Liability, gave a very clear-cut outline for reforms in accident statistics. Hon. J. C. Delaney, Chief Factor Insurer of Pennsylvania, described the work which the State is carrying on to prevent accidents. Hon. James Ross of Rhode Island, Assistant District Attorney of New York, gave a valuable exposition of the legal implications involved in preventing accidents. Mrs. Florence Kelly closed the evening with a closing plea for adequate statistics of industrial accidents. Dr. John H. Hampton, President of the Bureau of Mines, who was to have spoken, was detained late yesterday afternoon to supervise reviews and was not able to speak.

Prof. Samuel McHenry Lindsay, of Columbia University, will present at this morning's session, which will be devoted to a discussion of the "Defects in our Present Liability Laws," The afternoon session, on "Employers' Liability and Workman's Compensation," will be followed by John Graham Brooks, of Cambridge, Mass., while the closing session will be devoted to a discussion of the "Recent Progress in Legislation with Reference to Employers' Liability and Workman's Compensation," with Dr. John H. Hampton, of Washington, D. C., presiding.

SHULTZ IN GOOD FORM.

Pitches Last Three innings of the Phillies-Athletic Game.

Wallace "Toots" Shultz started his career as a professional base ball pitcher yesterday, when he worked the last three innings of the Phillies-Athletic game at Broad and Huntingdon streets. The former Red and Blue star, during the innings he pitched, was faced by only ten men. Eddie Plank being the only World's Champion to reach first. He was passed by Shultz.

At the bat, Shultz also shone. The first time up he hit a clouted one of Plank's curves to deep center for two bags, scoring Dooin, who was on second. On his second trip to the plate "Toots" put a snappy border between first and second. It, it, it was a clean hit.

The Athletics won, 8 to 1. Dewing, who started for the Phillies and pitched six innings, was pounded for all the runs.

COLLEGE RELAY NOTES.

Temple's victory will be represented by teams from its college department and the preparatory school.

Cook, of Princeton, is running better than ever this Spring. Keene Fitzpatrick, expects him to give Bennett a good race, and will be in for a hard one on the 28th at Franklin Field.

Roberts, of Amherst, the Intercollegiate champion, expects to compete at the Relays. His big leg was broken in the last hard last last but he expects him to jump as well as ever this Spring.

Tillyer, of Dartmouth, is out for the hammer this year. Last season, as a freshman, he threw over 100 feet, and Harry Hillman, the coach, expects him to do over 100 feet at Relay Day at Franklin Field.

Simons, the Princeton weight thrower, is making great progress under the coaching of Fitzpatrick. He has been throwing the weight constantly over 200 feet, and will probably do even better at the Relay Day.

ADDRESS BY NOTED ENGINEER
H. M. Bylesha Gives Instructive Talk on Financial Topics to Members of the Wharton School.

"Watered Stock" was defended yesterday by Secretary B. M. Bylesha, head of the firm of Bylesha & Co., of Chicago, in an address to the students of the Wharton School.

"This wonderful development," said he, "which has taken place in the United States, which has given us the greatest transcontinental railways in the world, and the greatest electric light plants in the world, and all at the lowest prices that are charged anywhere in the world, has been built up gentle-ly, from watered stock. Watered stock is a premium upon brains. Most of these enterprises have been started by men who in the initial stages had nothing but their brains and the profit sharing stock. If you seek to call it, was the premium on their brains. If they had made it had a value. Where there can see any harm in a stock of that kind is more than I can see."

Mr. Bylesha was high in his praise of the public service commission. "The public service commission," he said, "should be an appetizing commission. It should be composed of men, commoned all with the dignity and at least the semblance that surround the Supreme Court of the United States. You should not have a commission that every incoming administration can overthrow and replace.

These commissions should be made up of men who are there for life and part.

In speaking of conservation, he declared there is no way to do this but that by the public service commission and that you will lose that great country of ours the consumers of power, the mining industry, and the integrity and brains of those men who have built up this great country of ours and who, if this policy is continued, will necessarily be forced to remove their field of operations from these United States to Canada or Mexico or elsewhere.

In this connection Mr. Bylesha criticized the present lack of limited permised upon natural resources.

RED AND BLUE ON SALE

Well Written Articles and Pacing Cover Design Attention Attract.

The red and blue, with a pleasing cover, designed by C. P. Davis, are on sale at the news stands yesterday. Many of the well-known contributing editors have articles published and the photographs are as clear and brilliant as can be.

The covers are admirably rendered and is especially worthy of note. A series of small, well-cut cuts of high order, supplemented by interesting, well-written articles of timely interest, complete the paste-up. The literary contributions in prose and verse are well written while "Tea in Oxford" and "Winter Woodlands" call for praise. "Beverley W.'s" has the real ballad swing. The whole book is put together, and we are glad and sorry to say, with a success that was warring to the best results. The red and blue, this month, demands attention.

SUNDAY SERVICE ADDRESS

Will be Delivered by the President of Muhlenberg College.

The Rev. John A. W. Haas, President of Muhlenberg College, will deliver the address at the University Service in Houston Hall at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Dr. Haas received his bachelor's degree from Pennsylvania in 1884. He then taught at the University of Longin one year, and, returning to Texas, he was ordained a Baptist Muster in 1888. Since then he has been a professor of Bible, at Muhlenberg, at Allentown, Pa.

Dr. Haas has not announced his subject, but this is important in an authority on Biblical criticism leaves no doubt as to his address will be highly profitable.
