TRAVESTY FOR MASK AND WIG

Rogers, Smith, McPadden and French Hansford at last have a chance to don "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

One of the features of "The Innocents," which is sure to be well received, is the appearance of Rogers, Smith, McPadden and French Hansford in " Alias Jimmy Valentine," which includes a number of songs with Jimmy also playing the enigmatic scene in which he opens the act.

T. H. Rogers, "El Jawn, In capital as "Jimmy Valentine," alias "Leo Handl," and "Shucks," daughter of the town president, and who is madly in love with Jimmy, is played by D. B. Smith, Jr., and all that need be said is that he has succeeded in charming beautiful and limpidly the enamored center of the play's major roles. J. B. French, Wh. '12, has also succeeded remarkably in the part of Shucks, the smug and smugly of the "Dees" of "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

To really appreciate the cleverness of the scene in which the four of the "Dees" of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which is now playing at the Adelphi Theatre.

The score: 200, Smith, McPadden, Rogers, French. It is not a difficult one but it is a grand one for its simplicity of style. Rogers wows his listeners with the opening paragraph of the scene. Smith, McPadden and French Hansford are tops in their parts and it is not surprising that their names were soon in the headlines of the New York Sun.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION'S PLACE.

Dr. McKenzie Discusses Its Relation to School Training.

Dr. McKenzie, invited to the Leaders' Corps yesterday afternoon on the subject of, "The Place of Physical Education in School Training," he discussed the development of the young boy of today, comparing the latter's life with that of the young Spartans and Athenians.

In the course of his talk, Dr. McKenzie gave some of the proper methods of fighting a school room, and emphasized especially the importance of constructing the desks and chairs to fit the pupils. It is considered that a large part of the spiritual troubles of children is due to the neglect of this.

NOMINATIONS TODAY.

Wharton Association Picks Men to Be Voted on After Easter.

A meeting of the Wharton Association will be held in Room 102, Logan Hall to-morrow afternoon, 4-30 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating officers for the coming year. President Allen Hunt is anxious to have every Wharton man on hand, in order that the best possible selection may be made.

The election of the men who are nominated today will take place on April 27, the first Thursday of College after the holidays. At that time no man will be allowed to vote who has not paid his annual dues of 12 cents.
