President Dr. Justrow thinks sensational reports of the finding of Ark of Covenant absurd.

Dr. Jastrow, librarian of the Philadelphia University, says that if the ark were so important, it would have been recorded in the Bible. "It is impossible to believe in the existence of such a thing," he said.

"All archaeological expeditions sent out from this country to investigate the direction of the Palestine Exploration Fund, have not found any trace of the ark. There are several explanations of the ark which are more plausible than the existence of such a thing," he said.

Whatever the facts may be in regard to the afghanistan being carried out, he does not believe that the ark of the covenant should have been found in the Holy Land. He says that the ark is a symbol of power, and has done a great deal of work in the making of the arrangements. The ark of the covenant is not to be seen in our time, and has not been discovered until now. It is located in a cave, and has not been found until now.

Carcassonne is one of the most beautiful spots in the campus, and to have it decorated with ancient neckties, discarded bottles and waste of all kinds seems to our imagination is lacking.

Nevertheless, there should be moderation in all things. If carcassonne is payable in college life, it must be made the first. But it seems to be carrying the point a trifle too far when the student so refined advertises his ability by making a miniature ash heap of the parts of the campus is

YESTERDAY'S MATCHES.

Harlow and Irish W. won Exciting Doubles from Ruse and Blythe.

Yesterday's matches in the University tennis tournament brought forth no really fast play. In the second round of the singles, Landreth and Johnson played two dozen sets, the former finally winning out 17, 15, 19. In the other matches, Irish easily defeated Richards 61, 61, while Wieder won from Blythe 60, 60.

The doubles matches were more interesting. Evans and Paine defeated Wieder and Rousnak in two fast sets 62, 64. Harlow and Irish, after losing the first set in Ruse and Blythe, 61, came back strongly, taking the second, 61. The third set went four times but Harlow and Irish finally succeeded in taking the next two games, winning 10-8. Scores of yesterday's matches:

Bingles—Second Round.

Wieder and Light, 60, 64.

Birdsden and Ballantine May Join.

So far the Aeronaut Club has had little preparation for the gliding contest and the balloon race, the former to be held in the airfield of Harvard University, on May 17, 20 and 30, the latter at North Adams, Mass., under the auspices of the Massachusetts Aeronautical Society of Williams College on June 3. It has not yet been decided who will represent the University in these events, and men are still needed who are willing to be members of the crew in the balloon race. Any one interested in this request should report to dress box 109 A., University of Pennsylvania Dormitories.

200 BUILDING NEARLY FINISHED.
Zoologists' Spacious New Home Will Be Ready for Use by June 15.

The new Biological building, which is to be used for students in Zoology, is nearly completed. The new rooms are still working on the inside of the building and have to have it entirely finished by June 15, the date set in the contract.

This building is one of the largest new additions to the University made during the last ten years. It has the same style of Japanese architecture as the Dormitories and the Engineering Building.

There are three floors and a basement. Twenty rooms, to be used for lectures and exhibitions, are in addition to a number of large laboratories, which occupy five floors. While the basement will be used for lockers and store rooms. At one end of the building there is a two-story auditorium, which will be used for important recitals.

The entire building is finished. The stairs are of pressed steel, while the doors and grilles are made of reinforced concrete. The roof is made of the same material, covered with slag.

The building will not be used until the General Assembly has completed its work. It is possible that Summer School students may be allowed to make use of the new building.

DEKES LOSE TO DELTA TAUS.

Southpaw Pierce Is Hit Hard, While Kichman's New Era Are Effective.

Delta Tau Delta defeated Delta Kappa Epsilon by the score of 7 to 1 in the Interfraternity series on the softball field yesterday. In the first inning Delta Kappa Epsilon put one runner on base, but after that they made no heart or to prevent their opponents scoring at intervals. Pierce, who pitched for Delta Kappa Epsilon, did not come up to expectations, as he pitched, with poor support at short and first base, the game. Kichman and Vining formed the battery for Delta Eta and did excellent work, while Thomp, at third base for the same team, was easily the best infielder on either side. Score: Delta Tau Delta 0 0 0 0 2 2 2 2 Delta Kappa Epsilon 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0.
