The American Rowing Association race and the boat race. The association race will be on Saturday, May 27, promises to be the outstanding event of the year, held, of a college point of view. Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Columbia and the Navy are expected to participate.

In the Junior collegiate race, at 3:39, the Red and Blue crew from the University of Vermont, will be the favorite. The Red and Blue crew has been beating the Ural race almost from the start to the finish. The Yale Junior crew is the second favorite, having the best of the Ural race, and the Navy seconds all rowing in good form. The Junior collegiate race will be hard fought from start to finish. The Harvard crew, which has been making the first rate, is the second favorite, and for this reason a slight favorite. Harvard will have to be a strong contender. The Cornell and Yale crew have not had a chance for their strenuous strength cannot be doubted. The results of the Junior collegiate race, which have been represented in one way or another, will be closely watched by the rowing world.

The course for the Freshman crew will bring together Yale, Columbia, the Navy and Pennsylvania. The Freshman crew race is now as follows: Dow, Person; 2, Griffith; 3, Hillier; 4, Val- lentine; 5, Crawford; 6, Pennington; 7, Blake; 8, Brown; 9, Neubauer, Following the Freshman race will be the hands of the Naval Academy "pitchers," the Freshman crew, Columbia and Yale. The single sculls and the double sculls, Interclub eights, Inter- club fours, and Interclub eight-oared crew, have been entered from the University Boat Club, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and the Quaker City Barge Club.

Mary Will Make Princeton Trip. Only three days remain in which to decide on the Princeton game, which will take place on Saturday, May 27. The senior class committee in charge have already been in consultation. It is generally understood that the Pennsylvania nine will not be available. It is hoped to hold the Tigers for the second game of this season. The final arrangement of the game, however, and these may be presented at The Pennsylvania office daily at 1 P. M.

Senior Singing in Triangle at 9 o'clock.

THE LAWYER AND FINANCER.

Judge Porter Explains Relations to Business Class Last Night.

"The Relation of the Lawyer to the Business Man" was the subject of a most interesting talk given by Judge Porter, of the Philadelphia Bar, to the Business Class of the Wharton School last night.

Judge Porter is an "Old Grizz" of Pennsylvania, and he began his talk by requesting the fellows to sing a verse of "Red and Blue." Bows, he said, at the conclusion of the song, "you each have a great responsibility upon your shoulders, and you are receiving the training to enable you to meet that responsibility. The business man of today must have a broad understanding of life. The day of small enterprises is past, and I prophecy that the next few years will produce greater organizations than the past has dared to imagine." He then went on to show how the business of public law would be of invaluable value to the student in future life.

CRICKETERS MEET ALUMNI.

Weekened Varsity Pitched Against Former Students This Afternoon.

With many regulars out of the line-up, the Varsity cricket team will enter the Alumni game today in a badly weakened condition. Clement, Wreden, Graham, Waters and Watson are among those who were saved for the important match with Haverford, which will take place to-morrow.

Many former stars will play on the Alumni team, notably C. M. Graham, who is one of the best bats in the vicinity of Philadelphia, and W. Graham, the best bowler in the Haverford Cup last year. Both are new members of the Belmond C. C. team. In addition, W. F. O'Neil, the wicket-keeper, Hermansauw, C. C.'s star bowler, F. J. Crowell, who managed last year's Varsity cricket team, and W. A. Allill, a good all-round cricketer, who is now playing with the Belmond C. C., will appear in the Alumni line-up.

LANGUAGE

Some cigarettes may be Greek to you but in plain English—Fatimas are Good.

No language can quite describe them—can quite describe that "distinctly different" taste.

But college men have a language of their own and their appreciation is expressed in the number of Fatimas they smoke.
