Elections

The Pennsylvania takes pleasure in announcing the election of Lewis S. Smith, '11 C, to the Editorial Board as Associate Editor.

THE LAST CHANCE.

Tonight—the night of the last day of College—will witness the passing for the space of another year, of senior singing. The custom of gathering on the fence and singing the old songs that have been sung so many stirring occasions in the past—the custom of gathering here in good-fellowship to express the camaraderie of forty swift years about to close—has not been made of this year.

There is likewise scheduled for this evening a mass meeting, and for this reason the singing is to be held in the Triangle, in order that, at its conclusion, the Seniors may attend the meeting. The singing is to be given at 7 o'clock and will last until 7.30. It is to be hoped that every member of the graduating class will be on hand. It is a final opportunity.

HOW MANY?

Although the need for a large delegation which can cheer the base ball team at Princeton is more pressing this year than ever, there seems somehow, to be very little recognition of the fact aboard upon our campus. The Pennsylvanian will not be a peculiar situation when he sees the Tigers tomorrow. After the fluxo which starred the game on Franklin Field two weeks ago, it is hardly to be expected that the men will line up with tenseness as steady as they should be.

We know that the team is a good one—that it's a mighty good team, and we want to make every man on the fence feel that we know it; that we believe in the team and in him; that we expect things of him.

It is regrettable that the submission must be made that once again only too small a number has signified its intention of joining the crowd that will go to Tiger-town. No doubt there will be a full rush for tickets today. There always seems to be in this end of the college a delegation of proper size. Last year more than a hundred men made the trip on the special train, and many others arrived independently. And this in spite of the fact that the intercollegiate leagues were held on the same afternoon on Franklin Field.

How many men will be in the party this year?

Upper Classmen Will Meet on June 17 in Last Forensic Contest.

Friday evening, June 17, has been set as the date upon which the Senior debaters will meet the Juniors. The event will be held in Price Hall.

The occasion to be discussed is: "Resolved. That the United States Supreme Court should contain a Just for women, constituting a separate bench." W. C. Green, G. L. Cowen and A. Conrath (opt.) have been chosen by the seniors to take the negative side of the discussion. The Junior team is composed of C. E. Ashby, W. Cowen and J. J. Norris. Two prizes of ten dollars each will be given to the two best speakers.

Fraternity Base Ball Nearing Finish.

Interfraternity base ball has progressed to the last round. Four teams are left on the list in the pennant races and four others still remain to fight for the "consolation cup." For the present, the standings are as follows: Sigma Phi vs. Psi Omega and Sigma Phi Upsilon vs. Delta Upsilon. These matches must be played before May 27.

AMERICAN HENLEY TO-MORROW

Naval Enters Varsity Race—Close Competition in Junior and Freshmen Races.

The American Rowing Association announces that the Harvard University Boat Club race may be held tomorrow on the Schuylkill River, over the "American Course," which is one mile, five hundred and fifty yards.

The entry of the Annapolis Varsity crew in the race with the Harvard University Boat Club, the Columbia University Boat Club and the都在the Boat Club, of New York City, is welcome news for those interested in the sport. The Navy crew will be closely watched, since they defeated the Red and Blue first eight.

The Junior Collegiate race, as 2,3, will bring together Harvard, Yale, Cornell, the Navy and Pennsylvania. The race promises great excitement, since all of the crews have been steadily developing.

In the race for Freshmen eights, Yale, Columbia, the Navy and Pennsylvania have been entered. The Providence crew that showed such improvement after the shake-up following their disastrous race with C. B. E. is determined to get revenge on the "Flneos.

In the Junior Collegiate race, the Naval Academy second eight is a slight favorite, since they are credited with several wins over the first crew. However, Cornell and Harvard both have good chances, while the Junior Varsity also has been displaying good form.

The Columbia Freshmen are picked to some to win from the Navy and Pennsylvania, but the Red and Blue youngsters are showing such great improvement that the outcome is difficult to predict.

The Dairy Institute, an adjunct of the "Ford Show," opened yesterday in the Veterinary Buildings of the University, Thirty-ninth and Woodland avenue.

The exhibit includes herds of cows, some in perfect health, others not; and, still others which show the effects of various ailments. The general topic for discussion was "The Production of Good Milk." Hon. E. T. Gil1 presided, and addresses were delivered by Dr. Carl W. Gay, of the Veterinary Department of the University; H. W. Jeflerson, of the Walker-Gordon Farms; Dr. John B. Mahler, Chief, Pathological Division, C. B. Animal Industries, and other authorities on the subject.

The Dairy Institute will be open today and Friday from 10 to 1 o'clock. "Dairy Farm Sanitation and Hygiene" is the subject of today's discussion, while tomorrow the general topic will be "The Distribution of Milk."

No Extra Seats for Commencement

Owing to the fact that the graduating classes this year will be larger than ever before, and that the distribution of tickets to graduates will practically fill the capacity of the Academy of State, it will be impossible to send out any tickets for general distribution for the coming Commencement. As already announced, seats for members of the Faculty will be reserved upon the stage.

Southern Club Elections

The Southern Club held its elections yesterday and the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Charles H. King; Vice-President, Clarence A. Beall, Treasurer, William Crompton Bossale; Recording Secretary, John K. Dorgan; Corresponding Secretary, Edwin V. M. McCarty; Historian, Alfred Geary Lamert.

A Festive Night for Zeta

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.
F aplicación of a few principles to the business of making money will make the difference between success and failure of many an entering young man. We were practically compelled to face the fact, in the early days, that when we were first established, more men were running into difficulties than were finding their way through the business successfully.

For this reason, we decided to gather some of our most successful men together and explain to them the principles we had worked out in establishing the business, and how we had applied those principles in the early years. It was fascinating to see how different were the experiences of the men who had been in the business for a dozen or more years, compared with those who had been in it for a few years, and who were not aware of the principles we were discussing.
