The Junior class eighteenth boat was the only one of the eight to cross the line before the cutwater of the Arc, the junior class tenth boat, was second to cross, and the second junior class boat was third. The race was fast, and both the juniors and senior class boats were in the lead almost the whole way around the course.

NEW COURSE OPEN TO PUBLIC.

Readings From Sacred Books of Orient
Every Monday Afternoon.

The University offers among the courses in the Graduate School this fall one that is of general interest, and, in view of this, it has been decided by the Trustees to open the course to the general public without any fee.

The course—conducted by a number of the University Faculty, Professors Custin, Jastrow, Montgomery, Kent and Dr. Muller—consists of readings in English from the sacred books of the religions of the Ancient Orient. The purpose of the course is in this way to make more generally known the sources and also knowledge of the religions of Egypt, Babylonia, Assyrn, the religion of the ancient Hebrews, the religion of Persia, India and of India.

The course begins with four readings from the religious literature of Egypt, conducted by Dr. Muller, who in addition to reading his own translations of the interesting and valuable texts, furnishes a running commentary in order to set forth the development of religious thought in ancient Egypt.

Professors Muller will be followed by four readings from the religious literature of Babylonia and Assyria conducted in the same way by Professor Jastrow. After that Professor J. A. Montgomery will devote six sessions to selections from the Old Testament, with explanatory comment, setting forth the historical background of the selections chosen, and the religious and social environment which they reflect.

Professor Kent will then take up, in three sessions, selections from the Avesta and other religious writings of the religion of Persia, followed by six to eight readings by Professor Barton on the religious writings of India, notably the Veda and Upaurus.

The course will be closed by four readings from the Koran, and other materials of Mohammdan origins by Professor Jastrow.

The course is given every Monday afternoon, beginning October 29, at 5 o'clock in Room 211, College Hall.

JOYFUL TIME AT SMOKER.

Engineers Have Section—Department of Orchestra.

Engineering students of the Mechanical, Chemical and Electrical departments held their first smoker last evening in the assembly hall of the Engineering building. The hall was filled with a large crowd of smokers, who expressed their enthusiasm in song and cheer.

The speakers, among whom will be professors, included several recent graduates, and students, who swell the ranks of students while freshmen at the University.

Professor Spangler welcomed the men of the latter department and urged them to take a pride in all the University property and to consider the faculty as friends, not as enemies.

The time between the speakers was taken up by the Engineering Orchestra, which played University songs and the latest hits. Cries for the various teams, including Columbia and Pitt, were exchanged, and the ambition engineers joined in with the orchestra in its rendition of their favorite selections.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR OFFICERS.

Chinese Students Honor Their Countrymen This Evening.

Officers Yung, Chang and Chen, of the Chinese Navy, who will be the commanding officers of the battleship now in course of construction at Cramps' shipyard, are to be entertain- ed by the Chinese Student League in Houston Hall to-night at 8 o'clock. The question of introducing the speakers, among whom will be former Provost Harrison, Vice-Pro- vost Penniman, Deen Parker, Dr. J. H. Hildreth, of the Chemistry Depart- ment, and Century Evans, of the Christian Association.

A large Chinese flag, which will be placed in the Houston Club, is to be presented to the university by the Chinese students at this time.

EVEvY freshman wants to start right. Put him next to Velbet—the college smoke. It's the real, time-matured tobacco with smooth, delightful flavor—a taste that never pulls on you—doesn't burn hot.

Variety is splendid—aged two years as ideal smoke. Today—tomorrow—always the same. Being a college man, he will want to see you. You will become a Veteran, just as we are in mold. As it dries, SPARKLE & HERRICK CHICAGO
