OBSESSION CAR ON MICHIGAN SPECIAL.

MICHIGAN CONFIDENT.

SEVENTY MEN SIGNED UP

Only Thirty Short of Required Number for Michigan Special—Fund to Send Scrubs Growing Fast.

With seventy men placed, of the hundred who are needed to make a special train possible, and the members of the committee working enthusiastically and tirelessly to bring the entire fund in, it seems almost inevitable that the plan to take a crowd if miners to the Michigan game will be successful. Furthermore, the project of raising funds to aid the Scrubs and members of the band has been taken up with enthusiasm and contributions are being made generously.

One of the Pennsylvania Railroad officials said yesterday: "This special train on Am. Arber will be one of the best-equipped specials that ever rolled out of Philadelphia." This statement is not exaggerated. The passenger cars will practically be living in a hotel from the time they leave Philadelphia on Friday afternoon until they return on Monday morning. The train will be made up of a combined car, to serve as a dining room, and in which the banquet will be carried, three Pullman sleeping cars, a lounge car, and a Pullman observation car. All the cars will be comfortably equipped with the latest American craftsmanship. The railroad company will send a representative with the train to arrange all details of the trip.

The response of the student body to the unusual opportunity afforded by this project has been prompt and general. Two years ago, when a similar train was chartered, only fifty-five men had arranged to go, on the day before the start. Nevertheless, this project was so well received without trouble, on the fact that seventy men have subscribed is encouraging.

The contributions of those who have brought in the funds have been subscribed is encouraging.

The accounts of the committee will be audited and a financial report published after the return next week.

VARSITY IN HARD PRACTICE.

Twenty-five members of the football team were at work yesterday, making the trip to Michigan in charge of Harold Ziegler, manager, Harry Schellen and Assistant Manager, W. Wolf. The trip to Ann Arbor will be made in three cars: one for the players, one for the press, and one for the equipment. The players are all iron men and will be in Michigan on time. Keep It Up.

Student response to the subscription to send the Scrubs to Michigan was most gratifying yesterday, and subscribers point to the raising of substantial money to pay the mileage of every Scrub on the squad. Many have already paid their share. It is to be hoped that my faithful and constant service has had more than enough lead to transport both Scrubs and Band to the game. By this means, not only will tribute be paid to the "Scrub" in future, but a valuable reinforcement be added to the strength of the cheering section.

In We Michigan.

Editor The Pennsylvaniaian:
Dear Sir,—At times like the present, it is a natural consequence of a series of disasters upon the gridiron that every student who has a "good," or alumni, who has a pet theory should seize the opportunity to air his views and offer his own particular bonanzas for our athletic fund. This is not a time to pass by from me to put salt in the gaping wounds of "Old Penn," and I wish to understand that what I have to say on the subject of football at Pennsylvania is a "best," and not a "knock." My plan is to look to the future, to disregard the past. Now is the time when Pennsylvania needs the support of every student and every alumni.

My plan is for that support. On Saturday next we face a few worthy at our steel. If our team going to enter the contest at Ann Arbor, with the Wolverines, with the depressing record of three straight defeat, will be played by both Herb Strauss and Cornell to enable them to bring their hands to Philadelphia with a game victory. I repeat that Saturday will be the supreme test for Pennsylvania spirit and for the Pennsylvania team. Are the students ready to meet the test? I am.

ALUMNUS.

Tetrazzini Will Warble in "Lucia" at Opera House Again Tonight.

Some people say her voice is all power, and some people say she has nothing but a voice, and others say she is the greatest thing for radishes that ever warbled in an opera house. When Tetrazzini comes in town there are no empty seats in the Opera House. Everybody listens, and everybody goes mad with applause at the end of the third act, when the tenor saves the fainting heroine from dire disaster, and she comes before the curtain half a dozen times graciously bowing to her friends, it is not really serious. And when, after several hours of very animated imitation of the face, the famous diva goes mad with success in the compliment, to the accompaniment of a delicate series of minor chords, the audience goes home feeling that it has got its money's worth, very properly.

This evening the incomparable Tetrazzini will be heard in the dramatic passages of Donizetti's "Lucia," an opera based on Sir Walter Scott's entertaining and everybod) listens, no in i own... Opera House. Again tonight. In the dram in.

Surprise First in Scrimmage and Score Four Touchdowns.

Coach Miller drove the first and second Penn in a hard scrimmage yesterday in which the first was decisively beaten. In spite of the fact that the first knew the sig- nals, they could not stop the advance of the speedy second team backs. On the defensive Rows and Field- back were the only men to show any form, and the rest of the team seemed to be unable to pull together. The second, however, had comparatively little trouble in ripping through the line for substantial gain. Huston carrying the ball across the first line four times, while the second were not wound.

When they had the ball the first showed an entire lack of the power they have demonstrated in the last two weeks. Cutting and poor passing were contributing largely to their failure to make points. For the Scrubs, Huston, T. Merrill and Rober starred, and in addition the line from tackle to tackle clearly outnumbers opponents, opening up big holes for the backs. The Team:

Second Freshmen Win.

FIFTY WRESTLERS REPORT

First Call for Candidates Reveals

Fifty men reported in the gymnastics yesterday in response to the first call for candidates for the 155-lb. class. This number is small, but should be considerably increased within the next week, and by the addition of members of the football squad, who will not report until the end of the season.

Heavyweight material is badly needed, as only one man reported for the 175-pound class, while there are at present but six on the squad who will be able to come inside the 165-pound class. Candidates should report for tryout to Mer. F. B. Cernich, who is consulting the team, at least through this week in order to receive gymnastics credits.

BUSY WEEK AHEAD FOR JUNIORS

Dates Announced by Committee for Box Party, Concert and Ball.

Preliminary arrangements for the Junior Week festivities were completed at the meeting of the committee yesterday. The program this year is very similar to that of last season.

The first function will be a theatre party on Tuesday night, November 28, although the committee has not definitely decided upon what performance the Junior ladies will attend. The details, however, will be arranged for in a few days.

The joint concert of the Combined Musical Clubs of Cornell and Pennsylvania comes on Wednesday night in the Bellevue-Stratford, and the Juines have advertised for a number of seats for this affair.

The Concert will, Thursday's attractions, will doubtless be preceded and followed by toasts and luncchen in various places about the campus and downtown. The junior end with the Junior Tea in Westmoch House on Friday night.

HONOR FOR FACULTY MEMBER.

Dr. Martin Elected President of Clinical Congress of Surgeons.

Dr. Edward Martin, Professor of Surgery under the John B. Burnett Foundation, in the University Medical School, was elected president of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America at their session held Monday afternoon. Through his election the university receives another honor and distinction, and this appointment gives an important position in the surgical judiciary of Philadelphia.

Dr. Martin, who was born in Philadelphia, in 1851, first came to the University in 1885, when he was appointed to the chair of Surgical Surgery at the hospital. For the past three years from 1907 to 1909, he was Director of Public Health and Charities of the city, but although, coupled with private practice, forced his resignation. Besides meeting regular routine business, the Congress continually rehearsed and instructed the members of Dr. Martin, for president; Dr. A. G. Brewer, of New York, for vice-president; Dr. Frank Martin, of Chicago, for general secretary, and Dr. A. H. Brown, also of Chicago, as treasurer.
