Combined Musical Clubs in Brilliant Concert

Cornell Pennsylvania Musicians performed before Record Audience in Bellefonte-Stratford Ballroom.

Smoker at 212 Quinn Street.

Several expectations were the success of the joint concert of the Cornell and Pennsylvania Musical Clubs in the Bellefonte-Stratford ballroom has eventuated. The advance sale of seats was greater than ever before, and when the Pennsylvania Club Club opened its doors with "Flight for Peace" and "The Red and Blue," the great crowd was treated to everything with one of the most brilliant authorities that has ever covered such an undertaking.

The charm was marked by the great number of societies given by Phila. ladies in honor of the occasion and the presence of many of the women's organizations gave an additional charm to this greatest of all beneficent concerts.

The joining of Pennsylvania were so rend with great appr. as were also "Miss Moller" and "Cornell," which were splendidly rendered by the pianists.

The biggest hits of the first part of the program, however, were the "Romeo" and "Juliet," for the Pennsylvania Club and "Snake Lake" by the correctness. This piece fairly carried the evening off, "Tchantment. "Sanson and Delligi" by the University Medallion Club, the Foxtrot quartette and "Chattelier," by the Ithaca Musical Club were among the best received numbers during the concert.

The concert ended with "Hush Away," a Brazilian number by the Cornell Medallion Club, one of the most unique numbers ever attempted by a college orchestra organization. The selection was repeated several times.

Ninteenth Annual Game Between the Two Teams

Last time, the members of the Cornell team arrived at the Ross and Pottsville House, where they were entertained at a sumptuous banquet given by the Cornell students. The next day, the Cornell team was to take part in the annual visit to the Pennsylvania game, the most successful tour in recent years.

AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN MONDAY

Work on McCracken Fund Will Be Launched in Earnest After Recessional

With the conclusion of University work on Monday morning, the campaign to raise a McCracken Fund of $3,000 will be put in full swing. The past work has been devoted to the Undergraduate Committee to prepare a form of check which will make it possible for the money soliciting scheme, with a rush that is expected to bring a successful conclusion with in a month.

Although the aggressive campaign has been in progress, a check for one hundred dollars was received yesterday from a friend of the McCracken Fund Committee on the understanding that the amount raised on the McCracken campaign will be shared with the Student Advisory Association. Many members of the faculty have already donated a total sum of over a thousand dollars.

JUNIOR BALL TO-MORROW

Bevy of Season's Debutantes Will Attend Brilliant Ceremony at 1913's Week of Festivities.

Decorated with chrysanthemums and roses, Weightman Hall will not be recognizable as a place of erasing halls and horizontal bars when the Juniors and their guests enter it tomorrow night, at the annual Junior Ball. Not only the most important event of the year for the 1913 men, but also one of the principal dances of the college year, the occasion will be a splendid climax for the week of Junior festivities.

The committee who have planned the affair promise that the hall will be covered with flowers, with lattice work, swinging the leaves of the poinsettias, at each end of the room. Garlands and flower-filled baskets will hang from the ceiling. Nothing that could be done to make the affair brilliant with light, flowers, and music has been neglected.

Probably more decorations will be present tomorrow night than at any other time since this season. Among them will be the Roses Margaret V. Howard, Maria Buller, Mathew Butler, Glaston Clay, Marc Alice Clay, Edith E. Davis, Elizabeth Deets, Frances Power, Marion Foulke, Margaret Fox, Cecile F. Howell, Mary Robinson, Mark Adler, Heights, Esther, Elizabeth B. Putnam, Elizabeth Roberts, Dorothy Roberts, Isabel Sloughter, and Walter G. Becker.
