from more than one viewpoint. It does not take a championship athlete to win in the annual minor sport. Any man with patience can develop into a squad man, at least. If efficient management in the past has done much to retard the progress of minor sports, but the Association has recognized the trouble and is making strenuous efforts to correct the evil. Semi-final trials for the Varsity debate team will be held in the Law School this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The eighteen men who qualified in the preliminaries on Monday will argue the motion of the Sherrill antitrust law, and six of the number are to be eliminated.

The men who will appear tonight are: Abbott, ’14 Law; Ashby, ’11 W.; Adams, ’14 Law; Arnold, ’14 A.; Beaul- ley, Post-Graduate; Glaister, ’14 Law; Harpeth, ’14 W.; Hughes, ’14 A.; Kowchaitz, ’18 W. M.; Knott, Post-Graduate; Magoff, ’14 Law; Monda- witz, ’12 Law; Postume, ’12 Law; Quinn, ’12 Law; Rialus, ’12 A.; Row- ley, ’11 A. Scolio; Tru- bauer, ’12 A.

The resolution to be discussed, which is in the form of motion, is the following: "Resolved, That the Sherman Anti-Trust Law should be repealed so as to sub- stitute a policy of regulation instead of destruction;" the one being considered for adoption in the Triangular contest this even- ing. The exact wording of the ques- tion is at present still in dispute between the three universities to be rep- resented.

WRESTLING RESULTS.

Boyd and Franklin Win Their Bouts.

Other Classes to Be Decided Later.

The finals have been reached in two classes of the wrestling meet which has been progressing for the last three weeks. In the 115-pound class, Boyd proved his superiority yesterday afternoon by knocking out his adversary in 16 minutes, 25 seconds, five seconds before the end of the time set. In the 110-pound class, Franklin was given the decision when he defeated Bauer Wednesday evening.

The semi-finals were run off in the 126-pound class on Wednesday. Wil- liams getting a decision over Britton. The finals will be a bout between Wil- liams and McNamee.

Manager Sherritt expects to have the wrestling schedule completed to a week. This season should be a very successful one for the team as a whole, but men are badly needed for the 115-pound class and the heavy- weight division.
