GORDON-TO-GORDON "Siegfried" Will Give Hensel, Matzls, and Griswold Chance to Charm Philadelphia Audience.

Students will be given their first chance since Christmas to appreciate the advantage of opera privileges tomorrow night when "Siegfried" is given at the Metropolitan Opera House. The production will be a unique one, and the result of their efforts is awaited with much interest.

Heinrich Herzol, who is best the role of "Siegfried," young German honor of immense popularity in his native land, who has seen nearly his New York appearances. He is said to combine something of the ability with a voice that abounds in richness and power.

Millicent Margarette, the latest controls to the part are as reserves. Here has been the talk of the opera world to say that she has taken New York by storm would probably be justified. Millie has even competed with the stars of other days, and that is a big press notice in this country.

Putnam Griswold is an American, the first to take the "Gandalf" in the Metropolitan Opera House, and has not been presented here during the season. The drawing power of "Wagner" is one of the great secrets of the Metropolitan. Owing to the work of the Griswold, an American, the Metropolitan will be able to present the "Gandalf" in the third opera of the "Ring" cycle in the "Walkie" will be able to add a little more than a little to the "Ring" opera. The Phladelphia Orchestra of the orchestra will be able to put on the "Ring" and to go over Wagner's music can be attempted. For some unaccountable reason, names are never at a premium when the works are problematicate.

It is probable that there will be plenty of seats at tomorrow night's production. Redemption cards will be given out at The Pennsylvania in New York for 1 to 1.50 o'clock show.

DEAN'S TROPHY AWARD.

Dr. Fisher Will Present Award to Sophomores Tomorrow.

Dr. George R. Fisher, Dean of the College Department will present the Dean's Trophy to the Class of 1914 to the class of 1915 at the Keystone Athletic Laboratory. W. W. Crawford, president of the class. The team of the Pennsylvania Country Club, which he has won in the Schlocher and Dominion classes have struggled to win for this the season. The team of the Schlocher and Dominion classes are not considered in the awarding of the trophy, but only the college contests. Nat hay, track, swimming, cricket, and hockey each count one point toward the honor.

Last year 1914 and 1915 were tied for the honor of winning the trophy, neither team being considered in the awarding of the trophy. This year's contest is expected to be a close one.

1915 DEFEATS CENTRAL HIGH.

The Freshman added another victory to their list when their completely undefeated team defeated the Central High team 35-18 at Westmount Hall. Score—27 to 11.

STILL IN THE RACE.

There was nothing to brag about in the team work displaced by the baseball fire historic night. Although the result of the game was distinctly encouraging to chances of coming out on top In the league race. Cornell's defeat by Dartmouth evered up the leaders and another victory for Pennsylvania will aid materially In making the "Variance a dangerous factor in the struggle.

It will take considerable hard work to round the team into its best playing form, and strong student support is badly needed at this juncture. The attendance Saturday night was far from what it should be, and the cheering was hardly up to the Pennsylvanians created. A little more enthusiasm at the next contest might not be amiss.

CONCERNING EVils TO COME.
The close proximity of the mid-year examinations made the library a Norse for a rest from the demands of the curriculum of undergraduates who are not as far along In their work as their instruments call for Naturally enough, all can't be made up in four. Hence the lib-table approach of the "I told you so" period that visits the University in half-freedom sectarian sean-

ses. Prevarications, safeguards and warnings have never succeeded as precautionary measures against disagreeable truth, and it is doubtful if they ever will.

Having disregarded danger signals, the delinquent must seek a haven of refuge, but at best the value of his life-preserver is proportionate to the gullibility of the gull. He is in the rolls of the professor, and only the great god Biff can ever offer any assistance. To what extent his assistance will prove will also be best judged when classes reasonable in the second semester.

Arts Roster Out This Week. For O. E. Glenn, of the Mathematics Department, the students have the roster for the mid-year examinations of the Arts and Sciences Report completed by today or tomorrow. This roster will be for four classes.

DR. HIBBENS POPULAR HERE.

New Princeton President Has Many Admirers in Local Faculty.

The election of Dr. John Green Hibben to the presidency of Princeton University has been received with acclaim by the students and faculty of Princeton, but by all who know my conditions as well. His election is looked upon as the end of the Willcox controversy over the Graduate School, the cause of so much dissonance and trouble among the faculty for past four years.

In speaking of Dr. Hibben, Prof. F. F. E. Rice, president of the board of the University, said, "From all I have heard, it is going to be a very happy choice." Dr. Philip, of the College, expressed himself more fully. "He is a very admirable man," said Dr. Philip, "eminently qualified for the position, and, as far as I know, he is established in the good graces of the students." As soon as the news of Dr. Hibben's election was made public he received hearty congratulations from the presidents of Yale, Harvard, Columbia and Cornell. All expressed great satisfaction in the choice of the trustees, and with one accord hailed him as the man "for excellence" who was best fitted to undertake the duties of the presidency of Princeton.

Dr. Hibben, like many 12 years of age, received the B.A. degree at Princeton in 1882 and won several literary prizes, and is permanent resident of his class. In 1892 he received the M.A. degree from Princeton, Ph.D. in 1893 and an hon-corary L.L.D. from Lafayette in 1902. At Princeton he taught Philosophy and in 1892 was orcillated in the Presbyterian ministry. He returned to Princeton as an assistant professor of biology in 1893 and was elected to the presidency of the University in 1912. The choice of Dr. Hibben, Princeton trustee returns to the president of having an selected minister for his president, whose views on education.

CURTIS LECTURE TO-NIGHT

Eminent Authority on Redskins to Deliver Invited Address in Academy of Music.

The only opportunity the students of the University will have to hear Mr. Edward H. Curtis, the eminent Indian authority, will be tonight at the Academy of Music, where he will give his pictorial musical entertainment on the North American Indian, under the auspices of the University Museum. After his appearance at the Academy and a few other American cities, Mr. Curtis will again devote his entire time to further research among the Indian tribes of North America. This, therefore, is the only chance to hear him until his monumental work is completed, about eight years hence. The series of twenty volumes on the North American Indian, of which Mr. Curtis is the author, is being issued at a cost of $10,500, under the patronage of Mr. J. P. Morgan.

In today's lecture he has been permitted to show some of the admirable models of the American Indian, in story, picture, and music, much of the best that he has gathered during the past fourteen years of research among many tribes. An orchestra of nine pieces will render music especially written to accompany the motion pictures of the costumes and ceremonies in which Mr. Curtis has collaborated as a poet. This music is composed by Mr. Henry P. Gilbert, of Boston, who has drawn his inspiration and his inspiration from Mr. Curtis' photographic records of the Indian dance songs, and it therefore, will in every instance characterize the dance it accompanies, as well as artistically correct and beautiful. This is not a commercial undertaking, but rather a cooperative effort to prepare a monumental record of the North American Indians under the patronage of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and others interested in preserving the history and the lore of our native tribes.

While the demand for tickets has been large, there are still a few choice tickets to be had but it is not likely that the committee in charge will make any reduction in the price to students. If any change in this respect is made it will be announced at the Pennsylvanian office and the bulletin boards of Houston and College Halls before noon today.
