BUSINESS STANDARDS LOW

There was no business for the principal business of life—the development and maintenance of a high type of mankind. Much of our business of the business was carried on.

Mr. Lansing outlined the need for ever more moral standards in the business life of America. Drawing his quotations from the Bible, he came to this point:

GOOD TIME MADE IN RELAY TRIALS

Lippincott, Lockwood, Cooper, and Robinson Picked by Coach Haydock for the Freshman Team.

RACES ARE TOMORROW NIGHT.

In the time trials held yesterday to determine the starting four, all Sophomore relay teams which are to clash tomorrow night, the First Regiment Armory, D. Lippincott, E. Lockwood, T. Cooper, and T. Robinson, were picked for the Freshman team. As only Four Sophomores turned out no trials were necessary. H. Macgowan, H. A. Beaton, J. A. Langhorne, and H. R. Fasenius, will make up the team. The Freshman substitutes are R. R. Kevig, W. Conn, and V. Langhorne.

The first year men were run off in two heats. The first heat was won by D. Lippincott in the fast time of 35 seconds, with J. E. Lackwood second in 35 seconds, and second heat best in 54 seconds, with Robin- son third. The time trials were used for the purpose of coming to the close of the Intercollegiate League. The game with Gettysburg tomorrow is not expected to be a very fair contest, although the visitors are to be expected to put the men in shape for the more important contest of the following week. The team will play Yale at New Haven on February 2, and Dartmouth at Hanover on the following day. If Pennsylvania is successful in winning both these contests, she will take the place at the head of the Intercollegiate League. GYM. A VERITABLE GARDEN.

Brilliant in costumes which were embellished by the beautiful colors of the flowers of the first day of Philadelphia's decorations, the Ivy Ball, the crowning social function of the Class of 1912, which was held last night in Weights and Scales, had an unparalleled success.

The gymnasium, with the walls concoincidentally violating apparent ethics in the matter of copying papers and the like. This sort of thing is practically extremely even in the upper classes. Yet on the surface it would seem that the doing of one's work is just as much a matter of honor as the writing of a quiz. Both are submitted to the instructor as the product of individual work.

There are other phases to the situation. Under the rules of the Honor System any other man who detects a man is, in honor, bound to report the offender to the committee. How many men have been negligent in the System in this respect? It is unreasonably an unpleasant thing to do, and few men care to play the role of informer, unless the information obtained is the System is of no consequence. It would be quite ideal-Life to say that no unfair work goes on, and no doubt this is quite true in ine cases out of ten. But, unfortunately, the other element does exist and it is not possible to make the results noticeable. College men do not often become absolute saints because of their technical degree. And the system is often placed in working order to cope with actualities. Experiences and not idealism must be the standard of such a system.

Few question the present system as an improvement over the watch dog method of examinations. To many men, the presence of an instructor in the room is no invitation to try and get the better of him. It is partly to get away from this temptation that the system is in use. Much has been gained by its inception. But is the Freshman ripe for such treatment when he enters college? Formerly, the Freshmen were given one term to develop sufficiently enough to accept the system. In view of recent occurences, it becomes a question as to whether that, after all, is not the best plan.

The Pennsylvania does not question the ethical merits of the Honor System. It merely wonders whether the present methods of obtaining honor in work could not be improved upon.

WRESTLERS WORK FOR LEHIGH.

Coach Beck and Assistants Preparing Men for First Meet.

Final preparations for the wrestling meet with Lehigh, on February 5, are being made. More than thirty men are engrossing daily.

Coach Beck is receiving the assistance of many old wrestlers. Among them are Charles Brown, '07, chairman of the Wrestling Committee; Louis Zang, of the Central Y. M. C. A.;
the Grace-College star; and Stuart, both past masters.

The men to compose the team have not yet been picked. There is an abundance of good material in all classes except the heavyweight, and the freshmans have not been able to do on the best men in several classes.

In the 153-pound division, Franciesok and Knapp are both likely material, while in the 153-pound class, Jack Browne and McNamee can be considered the favorites. At 135 pounds Captains McCraw and William are doing good work. Sharp and Boyd are showing no trouble at 145. At 155 pounds Secker, Bishop, Howard and Clark have trained consistently.
