popular numbers on orchestra program

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 11, 1913

The last concert of the season, appearing to make a universal appeal to undergraduates, will render at the last concert of the orchestra. The four numbers selected, the "Recess" from Mendelssohn's "Hebrides," the Scherzo from Beethoven's "Pastoral," and Rossini's Overture to "William Tell," were chosen last week at the "Request Program," at the last public concert of the year in the Academy of Music. This program consists entirely of excerpts from the concerts of the orchestra, the fact that these two selections were among the most delightful numbers was indicated by their immense popularity among music-lovers.

A full week's concert of new numbers was presented last Monday evening. The admirable interpretation for which the orchestra is noted was seen in its fullest beauty in the performance of the "New World" Symphony, by Anton Dvorak, perhaps best known to students as the composer of the famous "Humoresque," in the scherzo movement of which he showed none of one of the most delightful symphonies of the century in all its magnificence. It was played earlier in the season by the orchestra in its concert in the Academy, and in the Conservatory, and by all the great orchestras in the world.

Thaddeus Rich, the soloist needed no help in his portrayal of the exceptional ability and loveliness of the work. The selections he will render on Wednesday night will give the possibilities of his art. The program in full follows:

Talbot marks the beginning of the real work's season on the river. Work for the three novices was ended last Saturday, with a view to obtaining as much strength as possible for the opening of the spring. The resulting launch "Franklin" will be ready for a run on the river next week. Work for the team is slow under the best of circumstances, but is expected to be started at once.

Pennsylvania finished second, with Cornell and Brown in third, in the triennially held military band contest held Saturday night in connection with the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania band. The three princes were composed of members of the bands of Army, Navy, and several running in the order named. The performance of the Pennsylvania band of Michigan and Bennett of Cornell in the division behind before the gun was set and back four years, but even with this handicap the football star join a wonderful race and was only beaten by inches by the Sammerson, university of the field. The second award made the runners keep the same order, with Michigan on the first spot, Pennsylvania second, and Cornell third. Toward the close of the third quarter the bands being played by the fewest in the special event, open only to members of the Michigan District of the Amateur Athletic Union. Also of Pennsylvania, won in second event.

Willis of Pennsylvania broke the Intercollegiate plunge for distance record recently by diving 16 feet 3 inches in the Intercollegiates, and also the American record by jumping 10 feet 4 inches in the special event, open only to members of the Middle District of the Amateur Athletic Union. Also of Pennsylvania, won in second event.

Wagner Metropolitan, principal and operatic singer, was heard during the first night of the season in the opening night of the opera "The Bartered Bride," which he held to the end. The opera was a source of delight to the Pennsylvania band of Cornell, but, almost the catch of the whole band, cannot show his true form on ac. They were not able to cut up the wide distance between the lead, which he held for three laps, out of the running. Willis makes a new American record for distance, with a time of 1 minute 49.5 seconds, excellent best time for early season running and a slow track.

The Pennsylvania is of the opinion that such productions may be con sidered to be a direct introduction or, rather, an extension of the professional element in college athletics.

The idea of winning at any cost pro claims the professional athlete. The overly-drawn conclusion is that the Masonic Club is to be considered as a rep resentative institution along with the University. If the Musical Clubs are to be considered a Pennsylvania activity it must conform to the same general tra ditions that govern the others.

On the road, the Clubs are suppos

the University. We question the ulti

as described in the present situation.
