ON TONIGHT'S PRODUCTION

The present season of grand opera will be brought to a close this week, as the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company, under the direction of Hans Graf, will present the grand opera "Tosca" in its full grandeur.

"Tosca" is a three-act opera by Giacomo Puccini, with a libretto by Lionel mappeau and Arrigo Boito, and is a masterpiece of the Romantic opera style.

The story is set in Rome during the reign of Pope Paul V, and revolves around the love affair between the opera singer Tosca and the painter Mario Cavaradossi.

The opera is known for its beautiful arias, including "Vissi d'arte," "Recondita armonia," and "Un bel di vedremo," and its dramatic and emotional scenes.

The Civic Opera Company will present "Tosca" in all its grandeur, with excellent singers in the main roles and a brilliant orchestra under the baton of Hans Graf.

The performance will take place at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, and is sure to be a memorable event for opera lovers. Don't miss this opportunity to experience "Tosca" in all its glory!

"STAND FOR SOMETHING"

Dr. Woodcock Appeals for Students to Avail Themselves of Religious Opportunities at Sunday Service.

The Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, D.D., Bishop of Kentucky, was the speaker at the regular Sunday service in Houston Hall yesterday morning. His address was a part of the program of the First Annual Conference of Episcopal Church Students of the Middle Atlantic States, which was held at the University on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

 Bishop Woodcock made an appeal for the consecration of men's lives to useful service and called on all to make their lives count for something worth while. He declared that men today are living lives of uselessness, despite the fact that they know better and have opportunities for practical application of Christianity. As a remedy for this evil, he pointed out that the need was a definite, clear-cut purpose in life—a main incentive of doing something worth while. In his words, "The problem is for each man to translate Christianity into his personal character. We must get the truth we know into the lives we are living. We must dare to follow God in business and in social contact."

He further said, "What we need is not so much talent, but a definite purpose. What do we stand for in these days? What have we ever said to help any man do anything? What have we ever done to help any man be anything? What have we done to justify God for creating us? "There is no such incurable waste of time as an education which does not tend toward a greater social efficiency. The goal today is to get out of the littleness of life into the higher sphere: to stand for something; to ring true.

"We shall measure every man's life in the relation that his deeds bear to his opportunities. What do we represent?" In the world better we because we have lived in it? The next best thing to creating a soul is to save one Can we do something so that when we stand before God we can point to one somewhere when we have helped?"

"No matter how hard the struggle is, no matter how great the sacrifices are, but we shall bear some marks for having done something in life other than for our own interests. Let us stand for something."

LECTURE ON SEXUAL HYGIENE.

Dr. W. S. Hall will treat subject at 1:20 P. M. in Houston Hall.

Another step in the social hygiene campaign will be taken today when Dr. Winfield Reed Hall, P.D.D., M.D., head of the Medical Department of Northwestern University, delivers an address at 1:20 in Houston Hall. The subject of Dr. Hall's lecture is "Sexual Hygiene." Perhaps no one is better fitted to handle the subject, for the annual seminar by Dr. Hall has written several excellent books on Sexual Hygiene and is one of the best-known as well as the sauciest speakers on the subject in the country. Dr. McCoogan will preside at the meeting, and it is expected that Dr. Hall's address will be largely composed of undergraduates.

SPRING RUGBY STARTS SOON.

Team of Last Fall intact for Two Final Games on Schedule.

The Rugby season will be resumed in about one week. The eighteen men of last autumn's aggregation will all be back in the game, and Manager Panco is confident of making a good showing in the two remaining games of the spring season.

Last fall there were four games played, but only one was played. Two of the teams were unable to come down for Philadelphia and in the other game there was a misunderstanding as to the eligibility of freshmen. Pennsylvania was unable to get a team on the field.

The next game with the Irish-American and Canadian A. C. will be played during the Easter holidays, and the time of the other with the Scottish-American A. C. has not yet been decided upon.
