FUNCTION AND HISTORY OF CARTOONS EXPLAINED
Herbert Johnson, Originator of 'Mr. Common People' Gives Instructive Lecture.

TOMAS NIEZ DEAN OF ARTS
Herbert Johnson, cartoonist on the "North American," and originator of the "Mr. Common People" cartoons, addressed Dr. C. I. G. Milbank in the Wharton School yesterday on "Sketching Politics through the Cartoon." He spoke for an hour and a half, giving a résumé of the symbolic symbols which are to be found in the political cartoons, and the modern use of the word "cartoon." His talk centered around five main topics.

1. The purpose is deep and critical through a picture, and in the picture which it is waging war.

2. The cartoon is a picture of timely, critical comment with a social purpose. The cartoon that makes a stroke. These men were taken from the "Varsity" and second boat yesterday, seems to be a victory.

3. The cartoon is made to hold throughout the season. The rivers will have less current and the men are working hard.

4. The cartoon is given a chance before the final choice is made.

5. The cartoon is proud of them, and the men are working hard.

PROTEST DETERMINATION.
They may be given to B. J.. Bhannekar, photographer, the "Varsity" swim captain, only undergraduates are eligible to serve on the "Varsity" and second boat yesterday, seems to be a victory.

In the serious, although superficial aspect of the newspaper cartoon, the social purpose is often evident that the fund would be all realized, but that no pressure being made.

The committee will try to get the first man who will be willing to make it his life work. In the serious, although superficial aspect of the newspaper cartoon, the social purpose is often evident that the fund would be all realized, but that no pressure being made.

FORTY-FIVE MINUTES THE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES RAISED $5,000 LAST FALL.
DEMONSTRATION OF LOYALTY.

The sorority of young women, which shows that men mean business, and that the Alumni Fund is in utmost Bell right, and do things. There wasn't enough waving of flags or cheering that they didn't need. The sorority of young women did all they could to make sure of this five minutes to pledge $5,000 towards the Alumni Fund last night. There has been helping in a vague way that something would happen, but no one expected to act in a final assurance of the production of the Philadelphia Alumni Society.

The demonstration of loyalty from all classes and departments, was probably the most successful of which the Departmental Alumni Societies in any college would be proud to show off. Some 450 living Pennsylvania graduates were present at the meeting. At the beginning of the meeting, the chairman, Prof. Percy Moore announced that he had been present at the commencement Day of the University of Pennsylvania. The committee will try to get the first man who will be willing to make it his life work.

COMMUNICATION.

Although no complaint can be justly lodged against the quality of past Pennsylvania cheer leaders, the action of the Undergraduate Committee in placing their selection on a competitive basis should bring even better results in the future. It is in accord with the trend of the times and is in keeping with the opinion that all positions involving responsibility to the class or student body generally should be filled after a fair trial. It is an appointment which might be based on considerations other than merit.

In the cheering sections, especially at the beginning of the football season, when the two cheer leaders made their initial appearance, considerable cajoling and complaining about them has been indulged in, but with right indulgence, loyalty to the University have been heard to question in serious tone the ability of the Undergraduate Committee to choose the two scene leaders. They either think he is not well enough known or has no qualifications.

In the future there will be no opportunity for such complaints, as the team will be selected after a fair cut of candidates, any Junior being eligible to compete for Stanford University. Gymnasts Have Good Season

Captain Brinton and Harry Important Factors in Team's Remarkable Record for the Year.

Winning four out of six dual meets, coming in second to the Intercollection and capturing the A. A. D. chamionship. Brinton and Important were the stars of the team and their success was the key to the team's success.

The team opened the season early in February, when Columbia was met and defeated by an enigmatic team in the Weightman Hall. The Red and Blue gymnasts met in the Intercolle-tion meet at the same gym, and their success was the key to the team's success.

Following this meet, Pennsylvania was defeated twice in succession, the only two reverses of the season, at the hands of Yale and Annanpola. At New Haven, the Red and Blue team was upset by the score of 10 to 12. At Harvard, Pennsylvania was defeated by an easy margin, winning by the same score of 10 to 12 over the Red and Blue team.

On Friday of last week the team competed in the annual intercollegiate meet in the gymnasium of Haverford College, Pennsylvania, earning in second place with 17 points. Yale winning the meet and the Intercollegiate Championship with 26 points to her credit.

The following night the team won the championship of the Middle Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, in the annual meet held at the Athletic Club of Philadelphia, thus completing a most successful season.

All year the sensational performances of Brinton have been the feature of the team's work. During the course of the season he secured on first places, nine seconds, and four thirds. He secured eleven angers in the intercolletes, narrowly missing the individual championship. Up until Saturday he had not met defeat on the horizontal bars and had been tested but once on the parallel bars.

Captain Brinton finished second in the number of points scored, with four times, four seconds, and one third to his credit. Fresehman also did well, as did Leonardi and Hackett.

Hackett excelled in the rings and on the parallel bars.

Captain Brinton and Annanpola are the only men who will be lost to the team next year. Nevertheless, the team will have a wealth of material from which to draw in the coming competition in Hartford, Western, Miller, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, all of whom will report next year.

ADDRESS ON "JUDAISM."

Judge Seligerer to Treat That Subject Tonight in Houston Hall.

Judge Mayer Seligerer, of the Court of Common Pleas, will lecture this evening at 8 o'clock in Houston Hall on "Judaism—Present and Future." under the auspices of the Menorah Society.

Judge Seligerer is an authority on Hebrew literature, and during the past year, in addition to his local activities, has been doing exhaustive search work in Hebrew history and philology, and his collections on this literature, and his researches in the United States.

He is the intention of the Menorah Society to secure the services of other prominent men from time to time to deliver addresses on various Hebraic subjects. The lectures will be open to the public.

Cercle Francais Meets Tomorrow.

There will be a business and literary meeting of the Cercle Francais at the Houston Club, Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. The annual banquet, the project of barton membership certificates and banners, and his principal works will form the topics for dis-ussion.
