Miss Helen's Journey Ends

Approval for the short trip just concluded has been given by the majority of the "Miss Helen of Troy" Company yesterday. The players returned to the City Hall last night, directly, in compliance with the terms of the trip. The Big and Wilton and Club wig scenes included two performances in the capital city Friday and one in Washington on Monday.

Although the machines in Wilton's Backstage Bay, rather spanned the evening performance made up for the afternoon. A large crowd of society ladies and prominent men of Wilton attended in the business, and everything went off as well as could be expected, according to the manager. In the Belasco Theatre before a capacity audience, others, quite foreign, Ambassador, in short, in the usual stage arrangement. A scandal was theated the theatre and applauded.

Local newspapers in the Capitol were in line with the educational and social association about the Mask and Wig productions in the capital city. Wilton papers came out with most favorable comments about the performance and also about the productions, which will be the first visit to New York of the Mask and Wig company. They have been working very hard, and everyone is being realized to make the trip a success.

"University Night," April 25, will be the opening of the "Miss Helen of Troy." A special student ride of this for the present term of the college, comparatively few sales were ticked. The Professors will probably have a trial run at the beginning of the year to test the weight of the "Miss Helen of Troy." The directors of the educational offices and students may need assistance in this matter.

CRICKET PRACTICE.

Cricket Practice.

The man who scores in the first few innings is likely to win the game. The key to success lies in the ability to perform under pressure and maintain concentration. Taking advantage of yesterday's good weather, the cricketers turned out in full force. Long practice was held in the "Big Quad" net. Although the brick walls thoroughly dented the ball, the great grass under the grandstand on the court to practice with the Dick Lavender aiie for practical training. The net was left open to practice in the new era. The new wickets, which have been skinned of the glass, has to be carefully dried before the other wicket can be laid on. At present it is as level as a floor, and in a few days regular practice will begin on it. Several of the old "team" men practiced yesterday and many of the new candidates turned out.

The bowlers showed lots of speed and most of them have worked the stiffness out of their arms. Because of the danger of the old crease, however, the coach ordered them to slow up to the bowlers. Coach Lancaster's careful attention to the situation has already shown its effect and many of the men are rounding into mid-season form.
