LAST DAY FOR NON-

Residents' Induction

Secretary of War Orders Sons Temporarily to Subserve Loan.

NEW COMPANY TO FORM DAY.

Tickets are special orders from eight orders in the Philadelphia theater, approved by Major Griffith.

Approximately thirty-five candidates have been registered in Philadelphia, at 5 P. M. on October 12, 1917. Hours of induction for such men are from 9 A.M. to 12 noon, and from 1 to 5 P.M. for the same day. Men under 18, otherwise qualified for induction, are to be notified in the report for the purpose of filling out questioning forms.

By order of Maj. LAWRENCE W. ROBERTS.

Capt. and Adj., R. A. T. C., C. P.

Guard duty officially begun last night at 6 P.M. by Capt. T. D. Knapp, Alumni is to be used as the office of the Library and the President's office behind the firehouses from 7 P.M. to 8 P.M. every weeknight.

Two New Influenza Cases.

R. P. Ballantine is found Unconscious.

Ballantine, alumni in Decrease.

R. P. Ballantine and Herbert A. Lawe are the only additions to yesterday’s sick list. P. Ballantine was found unconscious in his room, but emergency measures taken by Dr. Thomas and Dr. Stimson have saved his life. He is now doing well. He is in a room in the Veterinary School.

The influenza situation among the students is under control. Nearly all the patients at the emer-
The winter and general working in the Quadrangle at night brings us to a歌曲 for sale, but the buildings that dot the campus are still lit up with lights. The military authorities are sending tons of food and water to get the S.T.A. in running order as quickly as possible, and to burn a pile of German uniforms and books, and open the dormitory quarters to a capacity that is equal to the present need.

The loss of this snug college of some 3,000 men and women is a matter of great regret to the parents of the students, but the future of the country depends on the success of the next campaign. The fact remains that the outlook was not as bright as it once was.

The new system of organizing the S. A. C. companies for Liberty Loan subscriptions is proving to be the most effective means of reaching everyone more speedily than ever before.

It also allows a better opportunity for systematic marketing than ever before. While some may be skeptical of whether to subscribe or not as much as the individual's discretion before, given him the opportunity of having his weekly installment plan out of the way before he has a chance to consider the matter.

This idea is a practical one, as the fact that 20 in every 100 men is unused is not encouraged by signing for a $56 bond. It is not too late to subscribe in this way, even if your company has already been solicited. Remember! America's pledged to give "without stint or stint," and that means your money as well as your services.

Activities of the Settlement House.

Under the direction of Miss Duncan, the Settlement House is functioning in the usual manner. The work consists of keeping up the reports of new cases, distributing articles of food to those in need of the "tin," and in the case of those men actually caring for the festivities. Miss Duncan urges anyone who can spare any time to assist in the work. Such volunteers will not come to contact with "military culture," as they are only needed for reporting work.

OFFICIAL QUALIFICATIONS REVIEWED IN MEMORANDUM

Adjutant General McCain Sends Note on Abilities and Defects in Candidates.

Some defects that cause a great many of the rejections by War Dept. Officers, which will be of special interest to S. A. T. C. men, are enumerated in a memorandum issued by Adjutant Generai R. F. McCain. That men who do not carry themselves like officers and gentlemen and whose attitudes are practically sure to fail in competition for commissions is a point emphasized, and expected note is also made of the number of rejections caused by the poor articulation of the candidates.

"Perhaps the most glaring fault noted in aspirants to the Officers' Reserve Corps," Adjutant McCain says, "and one that might be corrected by proper attention in our high schools, preparatory schools and colleges, might be characterized by the general word 'blankness.' I refer to what might be termed a mental and physical indifference. At military camps throughout the country mental alertness, accuracy in thinking and acting, cheerfulness in conversation, manner and tone of carriage and bearing must be emphasized, for two reasons: that officers must be deemed as nearly as humanly possible to guarantee it with the material and means at hand, and that priceless human lives may not be needlessly sacrificed. Only by possession of the qualities referred to can one become a natural leader."

The candidates' code is defined as being able "to get out of one's self to keep one's steps fixed upon the goal rather than upon the roughness of the path, to realize that one unable to rise above the level of discrimination cannot hope to face with equanimity the tremendous responsibilities of the office under modern conditions of warfare."

X-COUNTRY COURSE ABANDONED

Military Training Hours Interfere with Fencing of Coach.

Owing to the fact that Military Training has caused the shortening of the regular track practice, Coach Robertson has found it impossible to have his cross-country squad run over the Gibb's Creek course. No meets have been scheduled for October, practice will be held on Frank Field until other arrangements can be made.

It is probable that the barriers will begin on cross-country practice about the first of November. The team will be entered in the A. A. T. Championship on November 18, and also compete in the struggles run over the Fairmount Park course on November 29. This latter meet shows promise of being the banner event of the season, and it is expected that over 250 competitors from the S. A. T. C. units will be entered.

Law School Professors Ill.

Two more professors of the Law School faculty have been prevented from meeting classes in accordance with their usual duties, Dean Skill, who has been ill for some time past, is still confined to his home and is not expected to return for several days. Professor Aronson, who has been ill for some time past, is still confined to his home and is not expected to return for several days. May Use Checker Tables.

Although the pool rooms in the Houston Club have closed till the epidemic has subsided, the chess and checker tables, which are sooted to those rooms, may be used on demand. This is contrary to the general supposition on the part of some that a number of moral and social advantages will take advantage of the rule.
