LIBERTY LOAN REACHES $21,000,000

Word has just been received by the Commandant of the Penn, that the final date for induction of men into the Navy has been extended until October 30 to October 31. This order affords an opportunity to the men who have not been drafted to still enlist in the Navy.

Information has been received from Washington to the effect that the 100 men who were registered in the draft prior to September 23 and were placed in Class 1, General Service, may now be inducted into the service. This order provides, however, that the applicant must have been a bona fide student of the institution from which he graduated in the term 1917-18, or who were in Class 1, General Service, men who were students in the Medical, Veterinary Medicine, Dental or aeronautical school.

The offices for this induction will be held late this week, and each applicant should present himself at the Office of the Commandant for induction on the 30th of October, or the 31st of October, 1918.

The Liberty Loan campaign of the Nation is gaining momentum, and the success, despite its handicap in lack of women students, is more than six times the average of the original quota.

BRITISH MISSION VISITS PENNSYLVANIA

The conference was marked by a strong British feeling, which is now being filled now. The Delta I's is second with $4,700 subscribed, while Community I is second with $4,000. Besides the subscriptions already made, an offer of $5,000 was made by an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, who wished to be known.

The conference was held in the form of a luncheon in the Houston Club on the 22nd of October. The luncheon was presided over by the chairman of the University of Pennsylvania, who wished to be known.

CAMPUS DAILY TO EXAMINE OFFICERS AND ARRANGE WAR PROGRAM

As a part of their intensive training, the editors of The Pennsylvanian have scheduled a meeting with the officers on Friday at 12:15, in Room 163, Logan Hall. During the meeting the editors have planned to ask for the officers to give a help three months ago. It has been found that the majority of the students are not as free to soldier as was the majority of the students from the class of 1917. No high standards of conduct are to be insisted upon, and if the students are to have a chance to soldier, they must be given a chance to soldier. The officers have agreed to this plan, and the students are to be given a chance to soldier.

Over $65,000 has been subscribed to the Campus-Troop Committee for the Fourth Loan. An organization committee is now working with the Campus Committee to meet Brown University on the 15th of October.

S. A. T. C. and Naval units Subtitle Large Part of Total—Costs Secure $42,000.

REPORTS MUST BE MADE TODAY

In accordance with the published system of former classes, the Seniors have taken their annual "bat" report after repairs in the library. It seems that the "bat" which was the Seniors' exception to the present system of the library, is being kept in the lounge at Carpenter's Wood. The committee has been informed of various local organizations, the Pennsylvania Athletic Association, which are to be used for the game.

Margaret Ashcroft, the Senior president, pointed out to the Freshmen that Pennsylvania's ancient Pen- nsylvania athletic spirit, and in living up to the old traditions. A speech of welcome was made by Daily Profile, president of the Working Men's Union, and the courtesy of the Mayor was extended to the football team.

The Navy unit also did good work in keeping subscriptions amounting to $35,000. The men in the S. A. T. C. and Naval units committee of the institution have made a general appeal to other units, and the subscriptions have been taken, making an average of $5,000.

In the S. A. T. C. the competition was very brisk, and the goal post was not long in being filled. The officers made a statement that the income of the institution is not going to be reduced, but that the income of the institution is not going to be reduced, but the coaches are going to be increased. The coaches are going to be increased.

Football Eleven lined up itself represent an unknown quantity for the Varsity, with the exception of three men, none of the players had ever represented Pennsylvania before. The men showed the fact that they were strong in the constant training under Coach Hollenback. The players were able to secure an understand-able offense and showed that they were as good as any team in the East.

Unit 20 Has Football Team. "Bert" Hell, captain of the 1918 football team, has been elected captain of the team for the 1918-19 season. The team consists of members of the November 1917 class and is in full swing for the season.

S. A. T. C. UNDERGOES INFORMAL INSPECTION

Captain Roberts reviews Battalions but Gives No Ratings—Compares

Two New Companies Formed.

Pennsylvania's S. A. T. C. unit assembled in a body for the first time on the campus. The officers were present, and Captain Roberts made an informal inspection. Following the inspection a practice session was arranged for both the S. A. T. C. and Naval units, which was shown to be successful. Captain Roberts then made a review of the institutions, and the troops were formed in battle front. While the officers were present, the S. A. T. C. and Naval units were formed in battle front. It is to be regretted that the city fathers do not assign responsible representatives to report the doings of the S. A. T. C. A military organization, involving some twenty-five hundred draftees not within the city limits, to serve a better and more truthful representation than has been given it for the past fourteen months by the reporters covering its work.

One downtown daily of Saturday morning contained a front page article describing certain alleged happenings on the campus. As a matter of fact, the S. A. T. C. were said to have been ordered by the authorities to form a line and march to the railroad station.

It appeared however, that while the authorities had issued the order, they had been misled by the reports of the S. A. T. C. members, and were surprized, to say the least, by the manner in which the turn out appeared. As a matter of fact, the counter demonstration was the outcome of a highly ignorant and ill advised procedure on the part of the men referred to as being under restraint; no report of their conduct was turned in to headquarters.

A fortnight later, as the fumes of this incident lasted but a few minutes and was promptly quelled by the officers of the local Port Lewunower—on account of the efforts of a correspondent.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor of The Pennsylvanian.

Last year I noticed that there was considerable discussion in your valuable paper as to the management of the Houston Hotel. As this problem was one which had never settled satisfactorily, I would like to open discussion again, as an incident occurred today which prompted me to write this letter.

This afternoon several of the boys had time to kill, and so started an impromptu entertainment around the plans on the second floor of the Houston Hotel. There were songs and dances and everybody was enjoying himself immensely when Mr. Dickens came in and asked us to stop the rowdiness. There was no rowdiness at all, so those who were dancing or reading could freely enjoy the good show, and all that was required was the pleasure of students who, at the accident of the evening, could not go to play, so play, etc.

I would like to know how true the statement in the Evening Tribune that the Houston Club is a large, attractive, and homey place is. Mr. Dickens only aims in managing this club is to make it as attractive as several times this has happened. The Houston Club is in a residential street where the old and young, moderate fellows want to enjoy themselves and not, as Mr. J. E.self wants it to be, a 6c. Lunch Home. Hence the little solicit is barred.

I would appreciate it if you would publish this letter, as it represents the feelings of the other fellows present, and will have the desired effect in the Tremont Hotel.

Zonal Movement Program.

Students concerned in the Zonal movement at the University will prob. ably be interested to know that a new important step has been taken towards final success. The Jewish people of Austria passed resolutions asking that they might be admitted into the League of Nations with equal rights, and also that they might be permitted to have representatives in the Peace Conference.

Settlement Fighting the "Flu." Over one thousand cases of influenza have been treated through the services of the University Settlement. Several medical students have been changed from their regular work to examine patients, and also to change the few meeting rooms which have had to be closed.

St. Joseph to Have Eleven. That St. Joseph's College will be represented on the gridiron this year by an S. A. T. C. team was officially decided at a recent meeting of the Athletic Association. Fifty candidates were present, and several of the old "Varsity" players have reported and are practicing daily on the campus. Bucknell, Villanova and Columbia are among the teams scheduled for games.
