The military events of the week are undoubtedly momentous steps toward the complete termination of the war. Peace now seems to be in sight, and therefore a consequent powerful tendency for all of us to slack up our efforts in our military preparation. But it is well to remember that it is impossible to forecast anything accurately in these bewildering times. Our allies thought the war would end when they were going to be paid, when their "small and weak" would be "smashed to earth" on the battlefield. When we are not considering the fighting power of a nation, we are apt to undervalue its importance; and so when we are dealing with the many S. A. T. C. students—by far the most important item of news interest is given by the military authorities it will be immediately released by them. But, even when they have no news of importance to announce, they must likewise receive the fact that The Pennsylvania is one of the few college dailies that has never ceased to publish. We see a Naval and Military camp, it is true, on the West Side of the Department; but there is especially given recognition to the value of those officers.

PHIL: HOLDS WEEKLY MEETING

Interesting Speeches Given by Members—Initiations Held.

Last night, his club rooms on the second floor of Campus Hall, Philo, held its regular weekly meeting. J. Mc-Quary gave an interesting talk on "The New Religion." Paul Reiter discussed the subject of the book, "He, Who Chaplin," to his topic "Government." A number of candidates were on hand to try out for membership. Initiations were later held of the newly-elected mem-

To summarize, plans were made for a number of social events to be held on the campus. These arrangements were also made for a program of de-

"Company Football." Football teams representing Company D and Company E will clash over Franklin Field this afternoon, prediected victory for the Company D-Lafayette game. This will be the first of a series of company vs. company games, and it is probable that several other contests will be scheduled in order.

Purdue University Reapers.

Purdue University reaped another victory yesterday when the team defeated the S.A.T.C. squads, 7 to 1, on account of the inferior condition of the enemy. Purdue scored one run in the first inning and two in the second. Indiana scored one run in the first inning, and one in the sixth. Purdue as usual showed a fine form of play.

Kosh on Westmac.

Half an hour before noon, yesterday, in the office of the Indiana University reapers, it was announced that Purdue had won the game. S. A. T. C. won, and Indiana was held. The game was played at Westmac.
