The Van Rhyn came through with flying colors against Lafayette Saturday and the students have every right to be proud of their team. It showed power and fight throughout the game that marks it as a true Pennsylvania team, in every way worthy of the University. But, fine as was the showing of the student, the student body gave a less commendable exhibition of spirit. The players were cheered lustily and the support of the students undoubtedly helped the team to continue its driving power until the whistle blew. There was organization and team work to the stands as well as on the field, and for the first time this year, the student body showed what it could do in support of the team.

Saturday's victory will mark a turning point in the career of the team. Up until now the team has been an undeveloped body, a piece of steel without temper. On Saturday it showed a well-organized machine, a new and powerful piece of machinery. The two previous defeats only served to bring out the best in the men and show where improvements were needed. Now in every reason to be optimistic about the outcome of the rest of the season.

Saturday's campus dance—the first of what we hope will be a series of such events—was a decided success and credit to the organizers of the plan is heartily extended. Strictly a campus affair throughout and with only University students and faculty attending, it forms conclusive proof of the feasibility of regular, wholesome entertainment on the campus.

According to a social tradition such dances will act as the Junior and try balls, nevertheless the amount of money otherwise needlessly expended is saved and the entertainments have been support and cooperation of the military authorities. As a campus institution, we hope these Saturday dances will continue to attract a student audience and that the results of the many traditions shaltered by war might another more suitable, entertaining student activity has sprang. Purpose of Organizing on is to Spread American Ideas Among Poles Through Universities.

On Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock the Polish students of the University will hold a smoker and reception to the Polish President in the Union Hotel auditorium. It is in their plan to organize a Polish national fraternity in America, to spread American ideas among their fellow men.

The other leading factor in the new organization shall be equality and democracy. In Poland they claimed her Independence in Independence Hall October 28, 1918, it is fitting that such a movement should start here. S. J. Kapa, "3 E. K., chairman of the Reception Committee, announced that a series of lectures given by prominent Poles in Poland, who have been arrested because of their Polish fraternity will be formed to all prominent colleges of the country.

A. P. Jaworski, "12 W., chairman of the Program Committee, has assured speaker for the first meeting C. A. Frankowski, a graduate of Princes, and chairman of the Pennsylvania Foreign Liberty Loan Committee. One of the phases of the new fraternity will be to encourage all men of Polish birth to enter college and shall endeavor to have the Polish newspapers found scholarships, open to competition for all Poles.

Crome to Instruct at Princeton Camp

Physical Instructor at University
Called to Help Install New Training System.

Recognized as an Authority,

W. J. Cromle, Instructor in Physical Education at the University, has been called to Princeton by the government in order to help organize and install the Central Physical Education Training Course for Officers. The purpose of the camp is to standardize the physical exercise and recreation programs in the different training camps of the country. Mr. Cromle is one of the few chosen to organize the course, which is to be of three weeks' duration.

Four officers from each of the twelve training camp districts will take the three weeks' course at Princeton, and on completion of the instruction return to their districts and disseminate their knowledge to the physical instructors of the different camps. The exercises and games will therefore be taught uniformly throughout the country, so that when the soldier is transferred from one camp to another he will not be put to a disadvantage in having to learn a new system of physical education. There is a possibility that Mr. Cromle being commissioned for the services he will render.

For the last twelve years Mr. Cromle has acted in the capacity of Physical Instructor at the University, and, in cooperation with Dr. McKenzie, Director of Physical Education, has made the University system a standard by which many other colleges have modeled their courses.

After the United States entered the war, Mr. Cromle went to Ottawa, Canada, in order to study the Canadian system of physical training in the camps. On his return he was sent to Camp Kinston, Virginia, to take charge of the physical training of the soldiers. His efforts met with success. When the S. A. T. C. was established at the University, Mr. Cromle returned and helped to map out the course of Physical Education for the army and Navy students.

As an authority on gymnastics, Mr. Cromle is universally recognized. He has written and published over eighty books and articles on health, athletics and gymnastics. At present a series of his articles on “Self Defense” are being published in the “American Boy” magazine. Mr. Cromle's latest book, “Gymnastics and Athletics for the Army, Navy, and School.” is just off the press. It has created much favorable comment in Physical Educational circles as a text of originality and adaptability. Other books on the subject by various authors have been successful in application, but the new book with a lengthened title, another book “Clipping Line's Ladder,” is being prepared and will soon go to the press.

In this book the author delves on the necessity of exercise for continued health and prolongation of the natural life. During the absence of Mr. Cromle from the University, W. R. Beihl, Assistant physical instructor, will have charge of the course which civilian students are now taking. Owing to the return of the government to take over the gymnastics building, it was at first undecided whether Mr. Cromle would stay with the University, as he received many other tempting offers, but due to the efforts of Dr. McKenzie, the University still retains his services.

Boxers Prepare for Bouts
Coach Derker's Protégés Are Ready for Boxing Contests.

Under the coaching of George Derker, the boxing candidates are rapidly emerging from the awkward stage and soon will be able to compete in bouts with the confidence of experienced boxers. The squad is working hard to prepare for the coming tournaments which will decide the classification of the quartet.

Coach Derker is preparing a squad which will be as good as any border teams for years. With many old boxers back this season and the best of the newcomers to fill the vacancies on the team, a creditable showing is expected in the bouts which will be held. Content may be held with many of the individual trials and enlarged teams in the vicinity.

to earth by Smith, the plucky little quarterback. Three successive line plunges only doubled in losses, and a 15-yard penalty on Lafayette temporarily brought the ball out of the danger zone. Again Lafayette advanced, but was unable to get the ball beyond the sixth yard line, where the ball was lost on downs.

In the second half, Lafayette opened strongly, carrying the ball from their own 30 yard line to the Pennsylvania 31-yard line. A penalty and a poise punt gave the ball away on the 13-yard line. From this point the Twenty-Eight made a series of line plunges and end runs, but did not gain until the ball was behind the Lafayette goal post. McNichol, Brown and Smith carried the ball on this journey, but a pass to McNichol in hip pocket carried the ball to the ten-yard mark. Three times Brown hit the line, but on the third rush he carried the ball over the goal line for a touchdown. The defence Lafayette put up against the attack of the Pennsylvania team seemed to exhaust the players, and from this point on the game was a walkover for the Red and Blue.

When Geddis fumbled on his own 25-yard line, Acting Captain Neilon fell upon the ball. Brown gained seven yards, Harvey added five more, and Smith advanced the ball to Lafayette's 21-yard line. Braun, on an off-tackle play, darted through a gaping hole and succeeded in crossing the goal line for a touchdown. In the last period, after an exchange of punts, McNichol got off a kick which a Lafayette for blunder. The defence Lafayette over the goal line in inches. The last touchdown was the result of plunges by Brown and Straus, the latter scoring the touchdown. The nature of the game was the remarkable offensive development by Hollenback during the past week. The Penn team showed that, after much experimenting, it has the right combination of players to enable him to advance the ball in yardage and points.
