Few Members Are Known in America. Despite Prominence in Their Own Country. Only a few members of the French Educational Mission, which is expected to visit the University within a short time, have been previously known to the American public. Confident, however, the French scholars are among the most prominent educators in their own country. Raoul de Martonne, who heads the mission, is Exchange Professor at Columbia University in 1914, and is one of the few members who has been well known in educational circles of his country. This is Professor Martonne's fourth visit to the United States. Others of the educators whose lectures will be of especial interest to students here are: Professor Ferdinand Beldener, now of Columbia University, who will speak on "Human Tendencies in French Literature," and Dr. Eliene Harnett, of the Pasteur Institute, who will interpret "Pasteur as a Representative of the French Scientific Spirit." Mr. Severine de Nell, the noted art critic and secretary of the "Gazette des Beaux-Arts," will lecture on "The Castles of the Loire" and "From Watteau to Poussin."

Professor Charles Canavulis, of the University of Paris, is another member of the mission who has had previous acquaintance with America. Professor Canavulis, who is a captain in the French army, is now at Columbia University. His lectures will be on "The Unity of France," "The Prince of To-day and To-morrow," and "The Personality of France."

This does not relieve desertors or delinquents from the consequence of their acts, and all neglects released are liable for call at any time.

Rival Naval Teams to Play. Westphalhick Barracks will meet the Section Base on the gridiron Friday at Cape May. The last game played between two services resulted in a win for Westphalhick, but the score, which was 6 to 4, has not been satisfied to both participants, and consequently Friday's game is to be a new start, and due to both participants, and consequently Friday's game is looked forward to both participants, and consequently Friday's game is looked forward to.

Evening School Makes Plans. Plans are being made to have Westphalhick Evening School for a program of peace. Those in charge have been taken to form a basketball team, and a school has been formed for the students interested in debating. A plan is also under way to choose the head of the Evening Junior Class to be held to some honor.
