NAVAL UNIT MAY RECEIVE MONTHLY ALLOWANCE TODAY

If the Pay Department of the Fourth Naval District is not delayed in compiling pay lists of the Naval Cadets, such lists will be distributed today, as usual. The substance of the announcement is that a call will be received at the Commandant's office, but unless the call is received before the appointment of pay the pay list will be distributed at the Commandant's office. The information has already been made known by American Signal Corps units and subsistence in the same manner. As soon as such word is received it will be sent to the Commandant, who will decide when the instructions of the Uniform Schedule will be made at the earliest possible time.

That Pennsylvania's Varsity eleven has developed from an unstable, beginning team to a steady, dependable one was conclusively proven by its clean-cut victory over Swarthmore on Saturday. But, despite this, it was painfully evident that Pennsylvania students are the stands cheered heartily and with no spirit at all. Only in the first half, when the Red and Blue were trailing fourteen, did the entire student section come to life. The entire second half, the team out of the game, the stands sat listlessly and saw their team come dangerously near defeat.

If this lack of spirit on the part of the students continues, a victory over Dartmouth in the last game of the season can scarcely be hoped for. After Saturday's victory, it was announced to the more benighted students that every effort would be made to educate them.

Conrad, Terrain, of the full and valiant squad, has completed arrangements by which all men interested in the sport may now join the club. He is on hand every day to give individual instruction to new men. Those who sign up immediately will have the opportunity to compete for the Captain's Cup at the end of the term. Although the establishment of the B. A. T. C. has somewhat, in spite of these difficulties, much progress has been made by the squad.

Practice is held daily and all men are strongly urged to attend. In the near future an opportunity will be given to all men to compete for a place on the team. As soon as the novices have acquired sufficient proficiency, Coach Terrain has promised an interesting schedule.

Hopper, who was on the goal line, failed when the ball hit the goal post and bounded back.

Henderson was the only successful goal kicker for both teams. The half ended without further scoring.

The first quarter period the ball moved from end to end, with only two touchdowns scored, both by the Blue Devils.

Navy's right halfback, H. Walker, left end, and F. Mahan continued their fine work. Navy's fullback, R. S. H. Smith, put on a fine individual performance, and his efforts were instrumental in the victory. The Blue Devils were outscored 14-13.

The second period saw the game more even, with both teams playing equally well. The Blue Devils scored a touchdown in the second half, but the Navy sailors failed to capitalize on this advantage.

In the third period, the ball moved from end to end, with both teams playing equally well. The Navy sailors scored a touchdown, but the Blue Devils failed to score.

The fourth period saw the game more even, with both teams playing equally well. The Navy sailors scored a touchdown, but the Blue Devils failed to score.

The final score was Navy 14-13 Blue Devils.
