PREPARING FOR NOVICE MEET.

Mortimers Reports for Practice—Ch. 12 Organizes Team.

With less than two weeks more to practice for the novice wrestling meet, candidates for the team are working hard to make the side stronger for the tryout. The members of the upper classes are making a big effort to attract new candidates to the university team which will determine the lineup of the team. Men interested in trying out for the novice meet must sign up at the wrestling-room between 3 and 5 o'clock any day this week. Men who have not turned out for wrestling to date may sign up now as candidates and take part in the trial meet.

M. R. McClenan Favors Athletics.

In reply to a statement made by J. H. B. Schrader, president of the Intercollegiate athletic association, indicating that intercollegiate athletics are "unhealthy," Dean McClenan expressed his opinion as favoring them. President Schrader also stated that intercollegiate activities interfered with undergraduate studies. Disputes between these views also. Dean McClenan said that intercollegiate sports could be carried on successfully in conjunction with intra-mural sports.

NOTICES

J. W. S.—Religious services will be conducted Sunday at 460, in Huntington Hall Chapel.

Campus Reconstruction.

Within a short time the actual de-mobilization of the A. E. F. will be complete. Since the events leading up to the successful conclusion of the war occurred, authorization for this action has been eagerly awaited by the students and faculties, many of whom were perhaps dissatisfied with conditions in the organization. A marked change will immediately become noticeable when the discharges are granted. There is no doubt that a number of the men will sever their connection with the University at this time. Many have mastered certain sciences while many others will remain to pursue their courses.

Upon these latter men the duty will resolve itself of carrying out the program which will be arranged. By the beginning of the year, Pennsylvania will again be on a peace-time basis. Already more committees have formed and planned schedules of courses to be offered in January. Endeavors will be made to resume all former University activities and to revive the old customs, which have been proved to be the most potent means of uniting the student body. Every undergraduate will be asked to cooperate in reviving the true Pennsylvania spirit, which, we regret, was greatly lacking during the military regime. The University must yet be the University of all students. It is every student's duty to work for the satisfaction of himself and every student should be proud to help in this task.

PUTTING YOUR MIND ON IT.

Those who have made their way in the world (and this does not mean merely the success that rests on money but on ability and character) are those men who have said "This is one thing I do" and have acted in conformity with that policy fairly. They have not allowed themselves to be diverted and a diversity of occupation to diffuse and dilute energy. They have specified; they have concretized. They have acquired the faculty of putting their minds so completely on the task that they are oblivious of distracting impressions and extraneous importunities. They do not fly off to a trystant from their work for a short recess or a long vacation when a warm breath of spring steals from the woodland. They do not yield to that vagrant expectancy which is the blood—though it would be much more pleasing to the imagination.

Putting one's mind on a matter is more than giving one's hand to it, more than using the energies. The laborer is not worthy of a better hire who does not bring a thinking brain to his task. The old, out-yoming saying that there is plenty of room at the top is not true. The men on down there at the bottom are content to an anesthetic and philistine along in the subordinate, donkey-sentiments of the unlimited downward.

Those who mount the ladder from the lower rungs are those who keep their minds upon them or use one another to help them through. Those who can analyze their intellectual powers; those who do not spend so long a time adjusting their thinking cups that the occasion has whisked past while they still debated coherently.

The prices after the dust and heat of battle rise to go, which they bring to their work, a radioactive intelligence, an alert perception guided by no selfish object, impaired by no delusions beforehand.

They shut the problem; they shut out the trivial turnout in order to consider and solve it. They are soldiers in uniform to shellback. In the midst of uproar they can deliberate calmly to a sure conclusion. Impulsive brilliancy may be a little scornful of their endeavors and their showiness, but when they have done their duty there is nothing to reprove. There is no lost motion to make up. That is because the essence of war was to create by its momentary and not a dormant mind.—Public Ledger.

STUDENTS ATTEND "LA TOSCA".

Scotti, Murch and Crimi Thrill Large Audience with Their Performances in Opera.

Many University students, taking advantage of the unusual opportunity of hearing grand opera at reduced rates, were in the audience at the performance of Puccini's "La Tosca" by the Metropolitan Opera Company last night. Belden has a more satisfying performance of Sardou's great tragedy been heard in this city. A fashionable and enthusiastic audience seemed to enjoy the singers to their very best efforts.

Annette de Grigny, as Turia, carried off the premier honors of the evening. A more pleasing combination than the employment of her superb voice, along with the most finished acting, would be hard to imagine. Claudia Muriel, in the title role, while Giulia Crimi made his debut in Philadelphia in the part of "Micca," were in high favor, and the rapturous applause indicated that the audience had been favorably impressed. Monarchic condescension and gale-dowering were to the clappers.

Murolo gave an excellent interpretation of a rather difficult role, and richly deserved the sustained applause she won for her singing in the second act. Another high spot in the evening's entertainment was Cavalli's aria toward the end of the opera, just before his death. It was given by a tenor, who has been with the Chicago Opera Company for several years, seems sure to match bis his excellent record with the Metropolitan forces. The chorus had little to do, but acquired itself well in the scene where it was in celebration of the debut of Napoleon. The audience was a model of appreciation of the spirit of such a collaboration, with so many students as the happy returns of our victorious troops from France.

HOWARD BERRY TO PLAY ON FRANKLIN FIELD SATURDAY

Camp Hancock-League Island Game
Will in All Probability Replace Army-Navy Contest.

Gridiron men from Camp Hancock will meet the League Island eleven Saturday on Franklin Field. Lieutenant J. Howard Berry, the former "Star" in the ranks, is expected to star in the contest. He will be opposed by such players as Yeabsley, Caron and Sillner, of the League Island eleven.

The game is expected to be one of the most interesting contests of the season, as neither Hancock or the Navy eleven have lost a single game. Samuel J. Dallas, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, under whose management the game is to be staged, is endeavoring to make the game the official Army-Navy game of the year, and is trying to have as many military and naval celebrities in attendance as possible.

The League Island eleven is backed by a series of five consecutive victories, the last being over the Charles-town Navy Yard team last Saturday, with a score of 27 to 7. Yeabsley, the former "Star" in the ranks, is the mainspring of the League Island team, and has developed his running power with perfection. Caron, the former Swarthmore star, and Sillner are also big features in the line-up, having distinguished themselves in last Saturday's game on Franklin Field.

Saturday's game will be Berry's first appearance on Franklin Field in a football game since he kicked a difficult field goal against Cornell in the Thanksgiving Day game of a year ago.

Companies 3 and 5 Play To-day.
Company 3 football team will play Company 3 team today at 2:15, on Franklin Field. The latter aggregation has won all five games it has played to date, and as Captain Hell's Company 3 team also has a good record, an interesting contest is assured. It is probable that both companies will be marched to Franklin Field, in formation, to root for their respective teams.

Articles Found in Gym.
Numerous articles belonging to students have been found recently in the gymnasium building, and may be claimed at Mr. Coleman's office. Among the articles found yesterday were a typewriter card belonging to R. S. Rosewater, a notebook containing the name of R. B. Bingham, and a notebook.

Major Maris Returns.
Arthur M. Maris, as an alumnus of the University, has recently returned from France, having been promoted in the rank of major. He was commissioned a captain in the Coast Artillery at Port-Royal, Virginia, in November of last year. From there he was detailed during the next month. Major Maris expects to return to France only on military duties.

Senior Lecturer Lecture.
"What America Means to Me" is the subject of the lecture to be delivered tonight by Arthur F. Evans, in Association Hall, 510 Germania avenue. The lecture is to be conducted by the University Extension Society, and is open to all students.

Soccer Practice Resumed.
Soccer practice was held as usual yesterday afternoon on Franklin Field. The team went through a short work out following Saturday's game with Detroit. Practice is held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:30, on Franklin Field, and all candidates for the team are to report on three days.

Cleveland Eleven Disbanded.
On account of the disbursing of the Cleveland Naval Reserve team, it will be impossible for them to stage a return game with the Pitts or Miami. The disbursing was the result of a governor's order, requiring eight of the men to Palm Beach, and the remaining three to other stations.

Sophomore Elections Soon.
Election of officers for the Sopho-me men will take place next Monday and Tuesday. The election will be held on Franklin Field, and all candidates for the team are to be present at the meeting, as a large turnout is essential for a successful election.

COMMUNITY DANCES NEXT TERM
Faculty Tea Club Planning to Con"tinue Saturday Night Affairs.

At the weekly meeting of the Faculty Tea Club, yesterday, a plan was brought forward provisided for the continuation of the Saturday evening Dances. December 14 will witness the last of these affairs, and will be given by the Delta Delta Delta Sorority. It was proposed that these dances be continued after the opening of the new term, with slightly different arrangements.

A new series of dances is being or-tained, in which each student who participates will be charged a small subscribing fee. This will entitle him to the privilege of attending all the affairs. Refreshments will be served at each gathering, and the subscription money will be used to defray curtent expenses. Membership will be limited to the student body, but friends or relatives may also attend.

Bureau for Returned Students.

Because of the uncertainty about the morning or whether various students in service have returned to the University, a bureau has been created by the Christian Association to answer such questions for those who might be interested. All students who have returned are requested to cooperate in the bureau by informing them of the fact as soon as possible.

Captain Moody to Leave.

Captain Moody, of the Coast Artillery, has been ordered to report to Fortress Monroe. While here Captain Moody will give a dance on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, in his clubroom. This dance is the last of a series which will be given by the Zelo Fraternity, and is to be characterized by several surprise features. A fire escape or-chestr will furnish the music. Because of the inability of the S. A. T. C. and U. S. N. V. men to leave their quarters on Friday night, that regular weekly meeting will not be held.
