Wrestling Managerial Candidates Still Needed

In answer to the first call for candidates for the offices of wrestling manager, only two men reported. They are O. H. Anshutz, '19, and P. Green, '21. As yet no candidate has been appointed for the office of assistant manager, but a decision will soon be made on the appointment of one of them. A record-breaking turnout of squad members has reported, and more men are still needed.

At the request of the members of the Sophomore Class, a committee has been appointed to begin the"activities," as a means of reviving the interest of the Sophomore Class. It will be obtained the fight will take place next week. Details for this fight will be announced by the Sophomore Class.

As another class has elected its personnel officers, the fight will be all fenced under temporary leaders. The effects of the fight is in the interest of both classes, especially of the Sophomore Class, to become-acquainted more with the Freshman Class. The Sophomore Class has decided that this meet will be of importance to both classes, since they are the two classes expected in the future year. Every record of the Sophomore Class to have a place in the program will be granted, and the Class of 1921 will be able to look forward to an\n

LIVELY PROGRAM FOR SMOKER

Pennsylvania engineers and Heelers Join in Society.

By setting the earliest possible start for this annual Social, the Heelers have insured the attendance of the large majority of the engineers. With the increasing spirit of the university, backed by the report of the Inter-fraternity Council on the need for more gay and social affairs, the Engineer Society was bound to respond to this challenge.

Undergraduates Will Be Feted at Mask and Wig Club Dinner.

Plans are completed for the initial Mask and Wig show of the year which is to be held in the dormitory club rooms of the organization to-night. Indications point toward a complete success of the affair. All undergraduates interested in trying for parts or as audience should be among those who are interested in the club from the point of view of an outsider, invited to attend. The smoker is intended not as a tryout for candidates, but as an initial "get-together," to begin the social season. The room will be decorated with posters of the former show pictures, shows of the famous pen, cigarettes, and chocolates, all record receipts for the different displays. In this way, and many of the graduate members of the club will attend the event.

YARNLEAGUE PROGRAM ARRANGED

Voting Affair to Be Presided Over by S. R. Harrell.

Final arrangements for the Psalm University, on Friday, have been completed by the committee in charge. Dr. H. W. Smith, Vice-Principal of the university, Rev. John R. Hart, Jr., Marvin Wilson and J. Mackenzie, temporary Freeman president, will address the university.

The choice of subjects for this meeting will be provided by the Jazz Band, Orchestra and a general song fest by Lagrange of the Glen Club, while Varsity cheerleaders will be on hand to teach the new men the university chorus. S. R. Harrell, president of the senior class, will preside over the luncheon.

The menu will include all the items on the Luncheon Committee who are selling tickets to repeat to him in the Houston Club at 1 o'clock to-day.

A representative of President in expected at the get-together, and those who have not yet set apart time for tickets are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity before it is too late.

STATE SEASON TICKETS.

Although the attendance at Saturday night's game was not bad for the first contest of the season, the season ticket sale has not yet reached its proper height.

One of the facts that the men who are playing this season are the same ones who won the intercollegiate championship last year, Pennsylvania shown to be the best team.

The game will last far into the evening, proving that they will have all the power and ability that made them champions.

The Freeman team also exhibited great fighting in the arena, playing well for their contracted success.

Three facts alone should lead even the most pessimistic student to buy the coming season ticket.

A PLEA FOR CHAPEL.

Editors of The Pennsylvanian.

This is a College. It is the university. It is the university of us, in our own way may bring and lend their own emotions, their own action. It is well worth our time to take a few minutes now and then to ask ourselves what the university means to us, to help establish our connection with things of mind and soul—to help us to find true words, and to use them in true equilibrium.

Chapel has not been made compulsory. It is a matter of "whence set fatness"—and of University spirit.

The William Penn Bank, 1320 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., would be pleased to have you submit your subscription blanks report to the university office at once.

A COMPLETE PREVIEW OF THE ORGANIZATION'S актуальн.

The organization that has been altogether devoted to the task of helping us to have a complete success of the affair. All undergraduates interested in applying for parts or as audience should be among those who are interested in the club from the point of view of an outsider, invited to attend. The smoker is intended not as a tryout for candidates, but as an initial "get-together," to begin the social season. SQUAD OF 180 CANDIDATES
PRACTICES ON MACHINES

E. E. Little, '19, Varsity Stroke, Returns—Change Practice Schedule to Avoid Class Conflicts.

More candidates for crew continued to sign up yesterday afternoon, bringing the total number of men reporting to date over the one hundred mark, and it is expected that it will still be possible to give ample attention to any additional men coming in to try out for the sport. Because of difficulties arising out of the conflicts on classes, Coach Wright definitely decided yesterday that he will not attempt to row any crews hereafter until 2:45 and possibly 4 P.M., and the time of practice will be extended until 7 o'clock, in order to accommodate all of the men. Varsity crews of twelve men each have been temporarily arranged, all men who do not report promptly at the time scheduled will lose their positions or those crews. Manager Harrington asks that he be advised immediately whenever it is not possible for a man to be on hand.

Prospects for this year's Varsity crew were considerably brightened yesterday with the return of Elmer E. Little, '19, varsity stroke, and first man on the Varsity boat of the following year. He enlisted in the Aircraft Production more than a year ago, and was stationed at Detroit, Mich. Little was also received from Carl Thomas, '20, last year's stroke and captain of this year's Varsity crew, that he will back in the University some time next week.

CALL TRACK MEN TO-MORROW.

Davis and Hampton Added to List of Returning Runners.

Track candidates will be called out to-morrow, and a large number of men for path athletics are expected to report. Coach Robertson has decided to divide the 1916 season into an indoor and track, which will probably be completed into the afternoon of the indoor.

To the already large number of track stars who have returned to the University, the news of Hampton and Davis being added. Their return adds much strength to the Pennsylvania aggregation of runners, and brightens the chances for a victory by the national indoor championship. Davis has just returned from France, where he was stationed with an artillery unit. Hampton, although he was never in the Intercollegiates, has scored for the 'Varsity in indoor dual meets, and is expected to be a leading man for the indoor nationals, and it is expected that they will help considerably in running up the Red and Blue score.
