Photographic School.

I disagree with you entirely in regard to the O. T. C. I fully realize that Seniors and Juniors must be held with the utmost constraint. One must uphold the name, yet such an attitude is not held in the present day. The O. T. C. has been thoroughly trained in camp or drill, and should join at once if time permits. The sooner they are in uniform the better. Every American citizen is bound by law to serve in the army. Whether we like it or not, we are all bound to obey the will of the people. Communication.

The O. T. C. is a necessity. What is the point of any college where the college has no influence on the college? If people are not interested in the college, they are not interested in the institution. Why should we have students who are not interested in the college? The college should have students who are interested in the college.

Seniors.

In order to determine the future of the college, the seniors must be considered. The seniors are the backbone of the college. They are the ones who will carry on the traditions of the college. They are the ones who will shape the future of the college. The seniors must be considered in all decisions that are made for the college.

The college must be realistic in its expectations. The college must be able to adapt to the changing times. The college must be able to change its programs and its priorities to meet the needs of the students.

COL. KELLY VISITS CAMPUS.

War Department Offers Additional Courses in R. O. T. C.

Col. William Kelly, of the Adjutant General’s Department, former Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University, visited the campus yesterday. He spent a short time in conference with Major Griffith regarding the R. O. T. C. situation at the University.

The war department has declared its willingness to establish other units in Pennsylvania if there is a demand for them. Signal Corps, Field and Coast Artillery and Engineering units, with all equipment and instructions furnished by the government, are open for the formation of such units. Those who are interested in any of these units may have their names on file at the Military Training office. This is not binding in any way, but merely an expression of interest.
