CORNELL FIVE

MEETS VARSITY
TEAM TO-NIGHT

 Victory in Crucial Contest Will Secure League Lead for Red and Blue Players.

BOTH QUINTETS EXPERIENCED. Victory Caper Men to Play William, Davis, and Landells for Red and Blue Players.

Again a team whose supporters believe it will enjoy a successful trip among the Eastern colleges, the Varsity of the Red & Blue Faculty will be one of the most keenly contested of the season. Penn, Harvard, and Yale, in the best possible condition and having no untimely interrupted series of victories, will be the opposition.

Present plans call for Cornell to play Yale to-night, but if the Red and Blue win, the team will set sail for the West following Saturday.

Cornell's Substitute Five. - Among the substitutes, who are the five men who have had good prospects of reaching at least second and third place in the league. If the Varsity wins, it will be one of the most keenly contested of the season. The Ithacans have consistently been a strong team, and Kendall, who returned from the West two years ago, when Ortner ranked as captain of the Freshmen, was playing together with the Freshmen in the West two years ago. The replacement of these two men has given Pennsylvania a lead of two teams over any other college in the league. The Varsity will, it is hoped, endeavor to give a good account of itself in the Intercollegiate.

On Wednesday next the Intercollegiate tennis tournament will be opened. The Cornell tennis team is to play Yale, and it is expected that a good game will be played.

The Red and Blue relay team will meet the Yale and Penn teams on Saturday afternoon. The track will be taken to the best advantage, and the Cornell team will make a decided effort to win.

ALL VARSITY OARSemen TRANSFERRED TO RIVER Entire Squad Will Have Workouts on Schuyler-Johnston Eights for Freshman Manager.

All the Red and Blue oarsmen who have not been transferred to the river will be taken to the boat house at 11 a.m. to-day for their first real taste of outdoor crew work. The initial arrangement of the oars on the Schuyler bond will be made to-day, and the formal beginning of the Red and Blue crew's 1913 rowing season, which already promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the spirit of the Schuyler team.

The Red and Blue relay team will meet the Yale and Penn teams on Saturday afternoon. The track will be taken to the best advantage, and the Cornell team will make a decided effort to win.

RED AND BLUE RELAY TEAM MEETS SYRACUSE-TO-NIGHT
 Staging the first meet of the season. The Red and Blue relay team will meet the Syracuse and Penn State teams on Saturday afternoon. The race will be run over the same course as last year, and will be on the same line as last year's. The track will be taken to the best advantage, and the Cornell team will make a decided effort to win.

Big Alumni Reunion.
Yesterday was observed as "Alumni University Day." Graduates from all parts of the country returned to the campus for the week-end celebration and discussed with the University officials the educational problems which combat them in the coming school session. President Smith presided at a meeting in Houston Hall for this purpose. The keynote of his speech was "Education for Leadership."
"In this education after war—the reconstruction period," he said, "the purpose must be to educate for leadership. Ten years from now the country will want men to lead the universities for leaders.
"We must give more and more liberal studies in connection with the technical course. We must have leaders, not merely men who can get into the laboratory and perform the work of an analyst. The time may come when the degree of the College will be required for graduation from any other department of the University."
Dr. McClellan, chairman of the University Council on Athletics, also addressed the graduates. He took up the question of intercollegiate versus intramural sports, and declared it favorable of the former.
"The matter in college circles over the matter of continuing intercollegite sports," the Dean said, "is due, I think, to the evils of professionalism and commercialism, which have crept into the management and competition of the sports. I question whether there is greater absence of those evils that there is at Pennsylvania, and we have declined unequivocally in favor of continuing intercollegiate athletics.
"It will be our purpose hereafter to get as large a part of the student body as possible into athletic work. We aim to supply the necessary equipment as fast as possible, and to give athletics a place in the curriculum on an equal basis with that of the studies." Other speakers were Dr. Arthur C. Hawley, who explained the plans for University expansion, and W. Rex Crawford, '19 C, who presented the students' side of the questions. At the close of the meeting there was a general discussion by the alumni of all the points taken up Tonight at 7 o'clock the annual alumni dinner will be held at the Adelphia Hotel. The principal speech will be by Governor Sproul, Educational-Colonel George R. de Schwandt, and Simon D. Foss, U. S. Congressman from Ohio, and former Pennsylvania Statefield, and Alumni President.
Colonel Edward Martin, 'S T. M., '90 M., will preside.
No Faculty Lecture To-day.
Due to the many activities of "University Day," there will be no faculty lecture today. The lectures will be reopened next week, when Dean Mc-Clellan will speak on "The Microncope."

CHASES MEN BEGIN MATCHES FOR INDIVIDUAL TITLE

An elimination tournament, which will decide the individual Intercollegi-tial chess championship, will start to-tday at 9:30, in Houston Hall. The census of contestants will not be known until the event actually opens, but it is certain that college which have been invited to participate are represented, probably fifty men will take part. Loss of two games will disqualify any competitor, and each team must report on time or he will not be allowed to play. Professor Ollott has been asked to referee and to keep the scores of the tournament. The winner of the meet will be awarded a gold medal, given by Dr. Rice, of the Rice Chess Club of New York.

Pennsylvania will be well represented in the tourney, since twenty-six men have been competing in the colleges and have shown much interest in the sport this season. For several weeks the members of the Chess Club have been preparing for the event, and look forward to suc-sess today.

DANCING CHORUS PROMISING.

Mr. Morgan Pioneered with Showing of Men at Second Rehearsal.

Holding the second of the tryouts for the Max and Wig dancing chorus, the three candidates who had been retained for competition were re-vieved last night by Charles Morgan, coach of the club. The men were divided into groups of eight, and led through some new steps by the coach and some members of last year's first chorus. Charles Gipps, author of the lyrics, supplied the music, new and then introduced some familiar Max and Wig songs.

"The material for this year's chorus is very good," remarked Mr. Morgan of the tryouts.

Mr. Gipps has written some original material recently, one of which was sung by the candidates after the rehearsal, and proved to be popular.
The next rehearsal will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30. The names of those who are to report at this time will be published in Monday's Pennsylvania.

DISCUSS LIBERAL STUDIES.

Prominent Speakers Take Up Post War Educational Policies.

As the third of a series of programs on subjects of current interest, the Philadelphia Society for the Promotion of Liberal Studies presented in Houston Hall last night a "Symposium on Educational Reconstruction."

Among the speakers were Dr. F. B.
Bennett, of the Philadelphia Public Schools, who spoke on "Principles and Policies: National, State and Municipal:" Dean William McClellan, of the Wharton School, who chose as his topic "The New Humanities," and "resident Joseph Swain, of Swarthmore College, who took up the question of Teachers' Training and Education."

The next meeting of the society is scheduled for March 22, when the anual luncheon division and all-day program will be held in Houston Hall.

Colonel Prager to Speak.

Dr. C. A. Tindley, "the Henry Ward Beecher of the Negro Race," will be the principal speaker at the service in memory of the late Reverend A. T.
McGhie, of the Philadelphia Church of the Nazarene, on March 25. The service will be held in Houston Hall.

All University students are invited to attend.
