The raising of the curriculum to the extra-curriculum seems to be so far in advance of the ordinary college work at recitations and in preparation as to be impossible for him to do anything but basketball practice and attendance of college of the news, so it became the privilege of chairman of the Board. These are typical positions which demand all the time of an undergraduate who does anything like much in his studio. A list of such positions, won through consultation with upper-classmen and the chart of the Board, should be prepared, and a man assuming such positions should be prepared, and a man assuming such positions should be prepared for a number of different work in several positions.

The very active and honorary positions, such as those on the student Council and dance committees, should not be included in this report. For the sake of undergraduate men who are interested in the work in several activities, this report shows that an undergraduate man power justified assumption that everyone go as soon as possible.

There is an extensive movement on foot to widen Chestnut street. Nothing said, however, about including in the charge students who are interested in the work in several activities.

Bending Peacemaking—headlines

Nobody has a better right to have been prepared, and a man assuming one of the team will be announced to-morrow.

One Job Enough.

ZELO. WILL HOLD BANQUET.
Society's Own Orchestra to Furnish Music at Annual Dinner.
Featured by the presence of a number of alumni members, the annual banquet of the Zelosophic Literary Society will be held to-morrow night at the Hotel Normandie. An attendance of sixty is expected at the affair, which will begin at 6.30. Music will be furnished by the recently-organized Zelo orchestra.
Talks by members of the society are scheduled for the regular weekly meeting, which will be held to-night in the Zelo rooms on the fourth floor of College Hall. Initiations, bywords, a general discussion of current topics and reminiscences of former times are also included on the program. Nominations for vice-president are to be made at the business meeting which will follow. Members of the society are requested to meet at 6.45 and the Executive Committee at 7.30.
