FILE COLLEGE PAPERS FOR USE OF STUDENTS

Pennsylvania Enlarging with Publications of Other Institutions.

WIDE FIELD IS REPRESENTED.

Twenty-six college and preparatory school papers, representing institutions as far West as Kansas and Wisconsin, are now being received by The Pennsylvania. In addition to these, three periodicals will be placed on file in the editorial offices, The Mill Woodland student, where students interested may look them over at any time. The fact is constantly being brought to view. It is hoped to have it as complete as possible by the end of the year.

Dundie campus of practically all the larger Eastern colleges and universities, as well as from Western and Southern institutions.

It is as follows: Colaba Spectacle, Yale Daily News; Harvard Crimson, The Princetonian, Columbia Daily Spectator, Chicago Daily Sun, The Michigan Daily, The Daily Kansas, The Daily Pennsylvanian, University of the Pacific's Daily Sun, The Illinois Daily, Miami University's Daily, Wisconsin State University's Daily, the McNeill Daily, from McNeill University, and several papers which are published weekly on other campuses are also received. The Williams Record and the Pennsylvania are regularly received, while the Dartmouth and the Virginia from Toronto University are received irregularly.

Eight weekly publications are already in our files.

STAGE TRIANGULAR MEET IN NEW YORK.

"That a triangular meet between Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and Penn State will be announced tomorrow by the track men, it is reported, at the Columbia's field, in New York, on March 14th. The starting point is the result of a suggestion made by Professor Black, who will replace the usual dual meet with Dartmouth, at headquarters.

Several papers have been invited to make it a second meet, but as yet the time has not been determined. Dartmouth and Pennsylvania have the strongest teams in the East and will provide a successful meet for=

PENNSYLVANIAN FOR HEELERS.

Any person interested in foot races and running should make a point to see the popular "Pennsylvania for Wilson's Hurl" and "Wilson's Hurl in Action," which are planned for the Pennsylvania Athletic Association's meet held on the campus some time next month, as the contest will be held in the spirit of the club.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION TO CONDUCT PENNSYLVANIA'S REPLACED FOR NUMBERS.

In order to sanction the work of the Tennis Association, an extensive number of matches have been announced in recent weeks, and the spirit of the University, soon to be held in the east, will be greatly encouraged. It is expected that the tennis season will be opened on the courts this week, and the financial assistance from the Athletic Association is, it is well known, of great importance to the success of the season.

ENJOYING THE ORCHESTRA.
One persuasion that is rarely, if ever, brought against American university life is the accusation that they are academic. Certainly it cannot be said publically as the University professors who never lecture solely for the sake of talking. In after years "I have been a student." Such courses as are on our curricula which aim to make us learn, but not vice, the students effectively occupied by studying.

The "Concert" music played by the Philadelphia Orchestra is too frequently passed up by University men on just this ground. The fact that they have to sit in the open here shows the value of the music as something not essential in their scheme of things. As a matter of fact, there is only one number on the program which can be considered as a concert which musicians would speak of as classic music, and it is safe to predict that that number, Mendelssohn's "Concerto No. 4" will be the most forcibly applauded of all.

We have the wrong idea about it if we think these concerts are in any degree removed from our proper scheme of things. If we go down to Western Hall with solemn face and our hoes stretching heavenward, we will again pronounce this idea a wrong one. But if we leave such notions to that manifest rise of indolent mortals known as aesthetes, and attend the concerts regularly, we will find that we enjoy them and may want to take a walk on a Sunday afternoon, we will enjoy it. The trouble is not with the music but with the student audience.

The difficulty lies in this idea that we can't be expert listeners (we aren't going to listen at all). Such a view is false. If we will just forget our vanity for the space of one concert, we will lose the vanity and find the pleasure of "classical" music.

MAKING THE MINORS MAJORS.
Indubitably, there is a time when each and every student at Penn will take part in some sport or another. An execution in the sporting world is going on all around us. Not a man here but can do something admirably.

The most recent policy outlined by such misters is to select the minor sports ship and make them majors, and in no time at all we have in front of us a football, baseball, tennis, and intercollegial and interdepartmental games of all sorts will soon be upon us.

It is up to the students themselves to make this movement or to be back the minority who favor the immediate development of the University's base of sports, but, speaking generally, the students effectually maduras at the Trustees.

URGE USE OF MUSEUM FIELD.

Appearing in the last issue of the Pennsylvania Gazette is an article which tells of the need of utilizing Museum Field for a recreation spot for students. It shows how this field could be put into excellent condition in a very short time and used for all athletic baseball, football, soccer, tennis and other fields. It also advances the rearrangement of rows so that all students wishing to participate in athletics could be assured of a definite bear on their schedules.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN
FINAL TRYOUTS FOR DEBATERS.

To determine the Varsity forensics representatives for this week, the Phi Gamma debate will be held tomorrow night in the rooms of the Phi Gamma Literary Society, fourth floor, College Hall. This year's Varsity question, government control of the railroads, will also be the subject of tonight's debate.

Eight men are taking part in this debate, four on the negative and four on the affirmative side. Of these men, three will be chosen for each side to represent the University in the Triangular debate, and the remaining two will act as alternates.

Coda Plan Social Function.

Arrangements for "Pep-Nite," the annual coda social function, are now being made by the Women's Undergraduate Committee. The affair will probably be held in the Engineering Building on Tuesday evening, March 11. The dance was originally set for five days earlier, but it was found advisable to change this, due to the Chemistry concert, which will be given that night.

Robbery in Fraternity House.

Last Saturday morning a robbery occurred at the Delta Phi Epsilon house. A well-dressed man was admitted to the company of a messenger boy, and after he had left it was discovered that several watches had been stolen. The police are now working on the case.

Special Meeting of Phi Psi.

Phi Psi will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 11:30, in the society's rooms in College Hall. Elections of the committee who tried out last week will be held at that time, and final plans laid for the dance on Friday.

Priestly Society Active.

On Friday evening of this week a smoker is to be held by the Priestly Chemical Society in the Priestly Laboratory Building. This is to be the initial meeting of the year, and Prof. Herbert R. Harrod, of the Tower Scientific School, will deliver an address on the subject of "A Few of the Properties and Uses of War Gases." Professor Harrod served as a captain in the Chemical Warfare Service, and while in France was a member of the Inter-Allied Chemical Conference.

Continue Discussion Groups.

Discussions groups will meet as usual this week in the various fraternity houses, dormitories and Christian Association rooms in Houston Hall. What Are the Tests of Good Citizenship in a Democracy," will be the subject of this week's discussion.

Meeting of Northeast Club.

All graduates of the Northeast High School are urged to attend a meeting of the Northeast Club to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. All members are urged to attend, as several important matters will be brought up for discussion.

Subscription to THE PENNSYLVANIAN $1.00 for the rest of the year. Mailed FREE to any place outside of Philadelphia.
