A WAY TO REMEDY THE EVIL.

The following editorial from the 'Citicuge Maroon' will be a valuable piece of advice to the 'window' man who finds little time to get to the college activities and who envies the men who seem to be "doing more" for undergraduate matters.

In due acknowledgment to these men who get into everything, let it be said that if a few "critiquers" would offer their services, the "witty monopolizers" would willingly divide.

The College Grabber.

Theodore Roosevelt once said "the only man who never makes a mistake is the man who never does anything." In the college world this means that the man who enters all his efforts in the actual scholastic duties is most likely to be held the college activities and who envies the men who seem to be "doing more" for undergraduate matters.

In due acknowledgment to these men who get into everything, let it be said that if a few "critiquers" would offer their services, the "witty monopolizers" would willingly divide.

For men of mettle and stamina—for young men with the college spirit—for young men who play hard and fair in a scrimmage, who are virile in the gym., and game in the class room—who win like gentlemen and lose like true sportsmen.

Sportive, but not sporty; jaunty, but not rakish—free, easy, chunky. Art, grace, balance, comfort, distinctiveness.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE OFFERED IN OCTOBER

Appointments Which Were Diagonally Dying Over War Conditions Will Be Resumed.

Rhodes scholarships for Oxford University, which were postponed owing to war conditions, will be offered again next October. It is expected that by that time the enrollment of the university will be so far advanced that previous candidates who have been in the military service will have another opportunity to enter the college.

The accumulation of postponed scholarships and the release of Oxford scholarships will enable the university to make a limited number of American students during a form, even in a view of the fact that there is a corresponding accumulation of applications from students who would naturally have come in to residence during the last four years. In order to meet the difficulties, it is proposed to hold in October of this year only the 1918 and 1919 postponed appointments. The appointments which were offered for the year 1918 will be expected to come in residence in January, 1919, while those for the year 1919 will enter in October, 1919. In the same way, the competitions for 1920 and 1921 will be held in October, 1919, and October, 1920, the former coming into residence, so far as possible, in January, 1921, the latter in October, 1921. After 1919 the elections will resume their normal course.

During the years 1917 and 1918, the ex-Secretary of the Trust, Dr. G. B. Perkins, C. M. G., visited the United States and the Provinces of Canada and made an exhaustive study, in consultation with the university and college authorities, of the operation in those countries of the system pursued in the selection of appointees since the foundation of the trust. As a result of this investigation, certain changes in the methods of selection have been under consideration.

Among the changes which have been de dated that candidates in the United States, who are otherwise eligible, shall no longer be required to pass a qualifying examination, but shall be selected, with due reference to the suggestion of the Master, on the basis of their university or college standing subject to any further test, which the Committee of Selection may, in their discretion, impose.

The things that ABERTHAW builds are not put up for play. Factories, storehouses, power plants, shipyards—each piece of this Company's work constitutes a producing element in the wealth of the Nation.

Each must be designed to fulfill a need completely foreseen. Each must be constructed so ably, so honestly, so economically that, when the finished plant begins to operate, its output will be burdened with no unnecessary costs due to the builder's mistakes.

Meeting these requirements is serious business for serious men; men who are trained to their task, who value reputation above immediate profit, and among whom honesty is not merely a company policy but a personal code. The growth of ABERTHAW during a remarkable quarter century is due to the steadfast effort of such men. Today the Company is always glad to make place in its expanding organization for others of similar promise.
